Jirat-Wasiuty?ski, Anne Elizabeth Dymond, Vojt?ch Jirat-Wasiuty?ski, 2007-01-01 The Mediterranean is an invented cultural space on the frontier between North and South West and East Modern Art and the Idea of the Mediterranean examines the representation of this region in the visual arts since the late eighteenth century placing the idea of the Mediterranean a cultural construct rather than a physical reality at the centre of our understanding of modern visual culture This collection of essays features an international group of scholars who examine competing visions of the Mediterranean in terms of modernity and cultural identity questioning and illuminating both European and non European representations An introductory essay frames the analysis in terms of a new spatial paradigm of the Mediterranean as a geographic historical and cultural region that emerged in the late eighteenth century as France and Britain colonized the surrounding territories Essays are grouped around three vital themes visualization of the space of the new Mediterranean varied uses of the classical paradigm and issues of identity and resistance in an age of modernity and colonialism Drawing on recent geographical historical cultural and anthropological studies contributors address the visual representation of identity in both the European and the Oriental the colonial and post colonial Mediterranean St Andrews The Postcard Collection Helen Cook, 2016-04-15 Beautiful postcards capturing old St Andrews in all its glory Art and Modern Copyright Elena Cooper, 2018-08-16 The first in depth study of the history of copyright protecting the visual arts uncovering long forgotten narratives of copyright history and reflecting on how those sharpen the critical lens through which we view copyright today It will appeal to copyright lawyers scholars and policy makers as well as to art historians and curators A History of Modern Tourism Eric Zuelow, 2015-10-26 Tourism is one of the largest industries in the world yet leisure travel is more than just economically important It plays a vital role in defining who we are by helping to place us in space and time In so doing it has aesthetic medical political cultural and social implications However it hasn t always been so Tourism as we know it is a surprisingly modern thing both a product of modernity and a force helping to shape it A History of Modern Tourism is the first book to track the origins and evolution of this pursuit from earliest times to the present From a new understanding of aesthetics to scientific change from the invention of steam power to the creation of aircraft from an elite form of education to family car trips to see national shrines this book offers a sweeping and engaging overview of a fascinating story not yet widely known Postcard America Jeffrey L. Meikle, 2016-01-20 This illustrated history of the colorized linen postcards of the 1930s and 40s is an incredible tour A veritable treasure trove of American culture Crave Online From the Great Depression through the early postwar years any postcard sent in America was more than likely a linen card Colorized in vivid often exaggerated hues and printed on card stock embossed with a linen like texture linen postcards celebrated the American scene with views of majestic landscapes modern cityscapes roadside attractions and other notable features These colorful images portrayed the United States as shimmering with promise quite unlike the black and white worlds of documentary photography or Life magazine Linen postcards were enormously popular with close to a billion printed and sold Postcard

America offers the first comprehensive study of these cards and their cultural significance. Drawing on the production files of Curt Teich Co. of Chicago, the originator of linen postcards, Jeffrey L. Meikle reveals how photographic views were transformed into colorized postcard images, often by means of manipulation, adding and deleting details or collaging bits and pieces from several photos. He presents two extensive portfolios of postcards: landscapes and cityscapes that comprise a representative iconography of linen postcard views. For each image, Meikle explains the postcard's subject, describes aspects of its production, and places it in social and cultural contexts. In the concluding chapter, he shifts from historical interpretation to a contemporary viewpoint, considering nostalgia as a motive for collectors and others who are fascinated today by these striking images.
