The Constructed Other: Japanese Architecture in the Western Mind Kevin Nute, 2021-09-30 The Constructed Other argues that the assumed otherness of Japanese architecture has made it both a testbed for Western architectural theories and a source of inspiration for Western designers The book traces three recurring themes in Western accounts of Japanese architecture from the reopening of Japan in the mid nineteenth century to the present day a wish to see Western architectural theories reflected in Japanese buildings efforts to integrate elements of Japanese architecture into Western buildings and a desire to connect contemporary Japanese architecture with Japanese tradition It is suggested that together these narratives have had the effect of creating what amounts to a mythical version of Japanese architecture often at odds with historical fact but which has exercised a powerful influence on the development of building design internationally Dwell, 2007-10 At Dwell we're staging a minor revolution We think that it's possible to live in a house or apartment by a bold modern architect to own furniture and products that are exceptionally well designed and still be a regular human being We think that good design is an integral part of real life And that real life has been conspicuous by its absence in most design and architecture magazines Seven Days in Cape Town Sean Fraser, 2006 The main body of this book is divided into seven day tours in and around Cape Town Following this are six itineraries the West Coast and Namaqualand Southern Cape Coast Stellenbosch Paarl and Franschhoek and the Garden Route A directory listing covers shopping nightlife cuisine events and more Scientific American Building Monthly, 1894

Social Housing in the Middle East Kivanç Kiliç, Mohammad Gharipour, 2019-03-01 Essays on architecture in Kuwait Iran Israel and other nations in the region and how it can and must address the needs of local residents As oil rich countries in the Middle East are increasingly associated with soaring skyscrapers and modern architecture attention is being diverted away from the pervasive struggles of social housing in those same urban settings Social Housing in the Middle East traces the history of social housing both gleaming postmodern projects and bare bones urban housing structures in an effort to provide a wider understanding of marginalized spaces and their impact on identities communities and class While architects may have envisioned utopian or futuristic experiments these buildings were often constructed with the knowledge and skill sets of local workers and the housing was in turn adapted to suit the modern needs of residents This tension between local needs and national aspirations are linked to issues of global importance including security migration and refugee resettlement The essays collected here consider how culture faith and politics influenced the solutions offered by social housing they provide an insightful look at how social housing has evolved since the nineteenth century and how it will need to adapt to suit the twenty first Essential reading for architectural and social historians planners and policy makers CAA Reviews Spatial Revolution Christina E. Comstock,2012-08-09 This fascinating book presents a series of 44 designs for vacation homes of varying styles and sizes created over a century ago by a select group of New York and New Jersey architects Many of them are two story and most were intended to be built on low to medium budgets All of them reflect the ideals of comfort and charm and state of the art technology of the Victorian period The original publishers compiled a splendid variety of designs presented them as seaside and country houses and included designs for a Victorian club house pavilion school house and a small seaside chapel A total of 200 illustrations including perspective views front and side elevations and first and second story floor plans depict these appealing designs Occasionally the architects have specified construction materials and finishing details such as paint color and trim and in all cases they have included the overall anticipated costs which range from about 500 to about 9 000 The Victorians of course loved architectural embellishments of every kind and it is no small part of the charm of this book to study the profusion of gables porches portholes dormers porticoes chimneys pinnacles and more lavished on even the most modest designs Above all the houses and cottages appear to be both comfortable and reassuring appealing reminders of a gracious age long gone Those studying and working in the fields of architecture history and sociology will find in this wonderful book exuberant examples of a rich and charming architectural style Those who wish to join the growing number of home builders and restorers re creating Victorian homes will find inspiration in each of these thoughtful designs
