Production and Inventory Control Handbook. Prepared Under the Supervision of the Handbook Editorial Board of ... American Production and Inventory Control Society. James H. Greene ... Editor-in-chief American Production and Inventory Control Society, James Harnsberger GREENE, 1970     Production and Inventory Control Handbook James H. Greene, Editor-in-chief [With] (contributors). , 1970     Handbook of Production and Inventory Control Nyles V. Reinfeld, 1987     Distribution David F. Ross, 2012-12-06 It has been said that every generation of historians seeks to rewrite what a previous generation had established as the standard interpretations of the motives and circumstances shaping the fabric of historical events It is not that the facts of history have changed No one will dispute that the battle of Waterloo occurred on June 11 1815 or that the allied invasion of Europe began on June 6 1944 What each new age of historians are attempting to do is to reinterpret the motives of men and the force of circumstance impacting the direction of past events based on the factual social intellectual and cultural milieu of their own generation By examining the facts of history from a new perspective today's historians hope to reveal some new truth that will not only illuminate the course of history but also validate contemporary values and societal ideals Although it is true that tackling the task of developing a new text on logistics and distribution channel management focuses less on schools of philosophical and social analysis and more on the calculus of managing sales campaigns inventory replenishment and income statements the goal of the management scientist like the historian is to merge the facts and figures of the discipline with today's organizational cultural and economic realities Hopefully the result will be a new synthesis where a whole new perspective will break forth exposing new directions and opportunities     Business Information Sources Lorna M. Daniells, 1976-01-01 Annotated bibliography and guide to sources of information on business and management includes material relating to accounting taxation computers and management information systems insurance real estate business marketing personnel management labour relations etc     Total Materials Management Eugene L. Magad, 2013-03-09 Materials management has become an important activity in both manufacturing and service organizations Rapid changes in the industrial environment such as the introduction of automation and Just In Time and demands for increased productivity and quality have increased the need for all personnel to be concerned with total control of materials Clearly this trend will continue and materials management will play an increasingly vital role in organizational success especially for operations that are becoming automated Materials management will be more critical in many service organizations where the materials group has received little attention in the past. This book covers the basic materials management function and provides valuable insights into various other major functions related to it. We believe that each of these manufacturing, marketing, finance, quality assurance, and engineering is vitally involved in materials management and any coverage of the subject that excludes these functions offers too narrow a perspective. With increasing demand for materials, managers' human resource requirements will be satisfied by individuals trained within the discipline and by personnel who have worked in other fields. The dimensions of materials management have grown so rapidly that many practicing managers are not aware that they are fulfilling material management functions. It is important that all individuals have the basic knowledge required to perform their roles in these organizations.

Materials management G.K. Beckman-Love, L. Nieger, 2012-12-06 For decades the materials sector of an enterprise has been relatively unimportant compared with the production and sales side but it has gained in importance during the last 25-30 years. This is clearly indicated by the increasing attachment of this sector to the commercial side of an enterprise, the delegation of materials-oriented tasks to highly qualified people and closely correlated the integration of the materials sector with the key positions of a company's organizational hierarchy. The materials management area has become an interesting part of business life. Stimulating this development was the realization that an important part of company rationalization had been overlooked, namely provision of adequate supervision of the materials flow. This area was given particular attention firstly because the relatively high percentage of materials losses, the value of materials and cost of supervision in the total production costs offered the possibility of considerable cost reductions and liquidity improvements and secondly because effective supervision permits faster reactions to changes and reliable delivery times, essential considerations for a competitive company. An important contribution to the realization of these possibilities is found in an efficient organizational structure in combination with an integrated information system. Together they provide coordinated supervision of the various control functions associated with the materials flow and a concentration of expertise. Using the Engineering Literature
