Figure of This World Mathew Abbott, 2014-01-08 What if we've been wrong when reading Agamben Mathew Abbott argues that Agamben's thought is misunderstood when read in terms of critical theory or traditional political philosophy. Instead, he shows that it engages with political ontology, studying the political stakes of the question of being. Abbott demonstrates the crucial influence of Martin Heidegger on Agamben's work, locating it in the post-Heideggerian tradition of the critique of metaphysics. As he clarifies it, Abbott links Agamben's philosophy with Wittgenstein's picture theory and Heidegger's concept of the world picture, showing the importance of this for understanding and potentially overcoming the forms of alienation characteristic of the society of the spectacle.

The Poimandres as Myth Robert A. Segal, 2014-10-15 No detailed description available for The Poimandres as Myth.

The World's Religions Peter B. Clarke, Peter Beyer, 2009-05-07 This comprehensive volume focuses on the world's religions and the changes they have undergone as they become more global and diverse in form. It explores the religions of the world not only in the regions with which they have been historically associated but also looks at the new cultural and religious contexts in which they are developing. It considers the role of migration in the spread of religions by examining the issues raised for modern societies by the increasing interaction of different religions. The volume also addresses such central questions as the dynamics of religious innovation, which is evidenced in the rise and impact of new religious and new spirituality movements in every continent.

Holiness and Ministry Thomas B. Dozeman, 2008-07-10 The World Council of Churches has called for renewed theological reflection on the biblical roots of ordination to strengthen the vocational identity of the ordained and to provide a framework for ecumenical dialogue. This book is a response to that call. It is grounded in the assumption that the vocation of ordination requires an understanding of holiness and how it functions in human religious experience. The goal is to construct a biblical theology of ordination that is embedded in broad reflection on the nature of holiness. Dozeman's study of holiness and ministry interweaves three methodologies. The first, from the History of Religions, describes two theories of holiness in the study of religion as a dynamic force and as a ritual resource. Both play a central role in biblical literature and establish the paradigm of ordination to Word and Sacrament in Christian tradition. Second, the study of the formation of the Mosaic Office illustrates how the two views of holiness model ordination to the prophetic word and to the priestly ritual. Third, Canonical Criticism provides the lens to explore the ongoing influence of the Mosaic Office in the New Testament literature. Holiness and Ministry will assist candidates for ordination to discern their call, experience and establish professional identity within individual traditions of Christianity while also providing a resource for ecumenical dialogue on the nature and purpose of Christian ordination.

Twentieth-Century Western Philosophy of Religion 1900-2000 Eugene Thomas Long, 2012-12-06 In the fall of 1994, Hendrik Jan van Leusen, an acquisitions editor from Kluwer Academic Publishers, visited me in my home to discuss a proposal for a handbook in the philosophy of religion. He reported that he had been talking about this with philosophers of religion at several universities and that the response to the idea had been quite favorable I suggested that given the different approaches to the philosophy of religion it might be good for him to meet with philosophers representing different philosophical traditions at an upcoming meeting of the Eastern Division of the American Philosophical Association Jude Dougherty Joseph Kockelmans Robert Neville William Rowe and Merold Westphal kindly agreed to attend that meeting They made many substantial and helpful suggestions and a summary of the discussions was sent to van Leusen Some months later he wrote to inquire whether I might consider editing the series and writing the first volume which was to provide a historical map of twentieth century western philosophy of religion Although I could imagine myself editing the series I was initially reluctant to undertake the task of writing a volume that would take me across the lines of many different philosophical traditions By coincidence I had been asked some months earlier to contribute an essay on the philosophy of religion for a conference being held at the Catholic University of America on the general topic One Hundred Years of Philosophy

Karl Rahner's Writings on Literature, Music and the Visual Arts, 2021-08-26 This book is made up of a collection of texts unavailable in one volume until now including six previously untranslated essays from a major theologian of the twentieth century Rahner's numerous writings focused on the revelation of God as mystery in the world and on the human being who has an essential openness towards the transcendent His articles reveal an empathy and a depth of insight into the relationship between theology faith and the arts which are remarkable and may take the reader by surprise More recently Rahner's contribution to the growing field of theology and the arts has been recognised by leading theologians on this subject He asserts that theology must integrate the verbal and non verbal arts as they are authentic means of human self expression of religious experience and of God's self communication and therefore they are essential sources of theology Rahner argues that theology understood as a person's reflexive self expression about him or herself in the light of divine revelation cannot be regarded as complete until the arts become an intrinsic moment of theology itself
