Professional Development Of School Administrators Preservice Induction And Inservice Applications:

The Professional Development of School Administrators John C. Daresh, Marsha A. Playko, 1992      Educational Leadership Carolyn S. Carr, Connie L. Fulmer, 2004-07-29 The twelfth annual yearbook of the National Council of Professors of Educational Administration represents the latest work and research of NCPEA members who include both professors and practitioners of educational leadership This collection of essays represents the current thinking in educational administration and principal preparation and is an excellent resource for leadership preparation programs      The Challenges for New Principals in the 21st Century Bruce G. Barnett, Autumn K. Tooms, Alan R. Shoho, 2010-09-01 This book series International Research on School Leadership focuses on how present day issues affect the theory and practice of school leadership For this inaugural book we focused on the challenges facing new principals and headteachers Because the professional lives of school leaders have increasingly impinged on their personal well being and resources have continued to shrink it is important to understand how new principals or headteachers share and divide their energy ideas and time within the school day It is also important to discover ways to provide professional development and support for new principals and headteachers as they strive to lead their schools in the 21st century For these reasons this book is dedicated to exploring the rarely examined experiences of those who enter the role as new principals or headteachers By giving voice to new principals and headteachers we are able to determine what aspects of leadership preparation ring true and what aspects prove to be of little or no utility Unlike leadership texts that have focused on conceptual considerations and personal narratives from the field this book focuses on a collection of empirical efforts centered on the challenges and issues that new principals and headteachers experience during their initial and crucial years of induction We solicited and accepted manuscripts that explore the multi faceted dimensions of being a new principal or headteacher in the 21st century Our goal was to create an edited book that examines the commonalities and differences that new principals and headteachers experience from an international perspective This edited book is comprised of six chapters each of which contributes a unique perspective on the responsibilities that new principals and headteachers are experiencing at the dawn of the 21st century      From Policy to Practice Karen L. Sanzo, 2014-08-01 The School Leadership Program SLP is a federal grant sponsored by the United States Department of Education A hallmark of the grant is the connectivity between various agencies to provide quality leadership preparation and development programs for aspiring and current school leaders These collaborative efforts involve community and educational stakeholders including districts universities city agencies not for profit entities foundations private academic organizations and others involved in the development of school leaders Since its inception in 2002 over one hundred grants have been funded This edited book s purpose is to share innovative research based practices from the federally funded grants that are sustainable after the life of the grant and are able to be used throughout the field for preparing and developing aspiring and current school leaders This book features the work of current and past grantees around their innovative practices and lessons learned about school leadership preparation and development especially around the issue of sustainability of these practices upon completion of the grant SLP Grantees share practical usable lessons learned from their experiences with the grants based on their research project data and practical experience     An

Analysis of the Aspiring Principal Preparation Programs Provided by Florida School Districts Deborah E.

Lawrence,2010-03 The purpose of the study was to identify the basis of the aspiring principal preparation program APPP components Florida school districts provide to their aspiring principals and their relationship if any to the state and ISLLC Standards A total of 50 school districts in Florida participated in this study The research was guided by the following questions To what extent do the Florida school districts provide a formal APPP to their current assistant principals b Upon what are the formal APPPs for current assistant principals based the Florida Principal Competencies FPCs the Interstate School Leaders Licensure Consortium ISLLC Standards or another source c To what extent do the school district APPPs in the 67 Florida districts have component requirements that include professional development mentoring and a performance based experience and d Are there differences among the APPP components provided by Florida school districts of various sizes The findings of the study were found through an examination of quantitative and qualitative data that were collected from the Florida Aspiring Principal Program Assessment FLAPPA survey and the school districts APPP brochures located on their websites This study supported the following conclusions a 75% of the school districts in Florida do provide an APPP for their aspiring principals b the FPCs and the ISLLC Standards are a part of the bases of the components found in APPPs provided by Florida school districts c Florida school districts do provide APPPs that include components of a mentor principal a performance based experience and professional development d very large sized school districts with a population over 100 thousand students contained the largest percentage of standards based components in the APPP small sized school districts with a population of under 7 thousand students contained the least percentage of standards based components in the APPP e school districts in Florida recognized the need to modify and were in the process of modifying their APPPs according to the new Florida leadership standards especially the component of technology and f a lack of funding time and assessment were identified as APPP weaknesses and components in need of improvement Recommendations of this study included a further research on Florida school districts redesign of their APPP components to identify whether or not the components are based upon the new Florida Leadership Standards especially technology and the ISLLC educational standards and b further research on Florida school districts providing a mentor principal and support team professional development and a performance based experience to their current assistant principals who participate in an APPP thus ensuring best practices in the APPP and improving the quality of their future principals     Learner-Centered Leadership Arnold B.

Danzig,Kathryn M. Borman,Bruce A. Jones,William F. Wright,2017-09-25 Many new approaches to school improvement are being proposed in the current climate of assessment and school accountability This book explores one of these approaches a new model of leadership training known as Learner Centered Leadership LCL It is built around the fundamental idea that learning and learning communities are natural processes that when properly harnessed can lead to the highest levels of professional engagement and problem solving Key features of this exciting new approach to school leadership include the following Broad based and Generative The book s narratives vividly illustrate the extraordinary ability of LCL to generate new approaches to leadership development For example encouraging and assisting school leaders to reflect on their own leadership attributes relative to the implementation of the school mission to ensure high teacher efficacy and student learning In this respect the volume contributes significantly to the field of school leadership and professional development by extending above and beyond a narrow focus on instructional leadership Practice Oriented By creating communities that encourage conversation and analysis the new data driven models of school improvement are more likely to be successfully implemented Without analytical discourse the process of interpreting school data and transforming it into practice would be largely lost Conceptually Appropriate The realization that everyone within a school students teachers administrators belongs to the same learning community minimizes status differences and encourages teamwork The LCL administrator is much less likely to be authoritarian and power oriented and much more likely to be transformative and student outcome focused This book is appropriate for master s level courses and certification seminars and for inservice workshops dealing with school leadership

Leadership Lloyd E. Mc Cleary, Gary M. Crow, L. Joseph Matthews, 2013-12-17 With case studies on such topics as implementing a technology program and modifying a schedule this book shows why principals must play a leadership role

Jsl Vol 2-N4 JOURNAL OF SCHOOL LEADERSHIP, 1992-07-01 The Journal of School Leadership is broadening the conversation about schools and leadership and is currently accepting manuscripts We welcome manuscripts based on cutting edge research from a wide variety of theoretical perspectives and methodological orientations The editorial team is particularly interested in working with international authors authors from traditionally marginalized populations and in work that is relevant to practitioners around the world Growing numbers of educators and professors look to the six bimonthly issues to deal with problems directly related to contemporary school leadership practice teach courses on school leadership and policy use as a quality reference in writing articles about school leadership and improvement

International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Administration Kenneth A. Leithwood, Judith Chapman, P. Corson, P. Hallinger, Ann Hart, 2012-12-06 EDITORS This introduction to the International Handbook of Educational Leadership and Administration describes some of the motivation for developing the book and several assumptions on which is based much of the work represented in its 31 chapters A synopsis of the contents of those chapters is also provided

SOME KEY ASSUMPTIONS It is sometimes suggested that the search for an adequate understanding of leadership is doomed to fail After all there is little evidence of agreement about the concept in spite of prodigious efforts dating back hundreds if not thousands of years Such a view is captured for example in Bennis observation that Of all the hazy and confounding areas in social psychology leadership theory undoubtedly contends for top nomination Probably more has been written and less is known about leadership than any other topic in the behavioural sciences 1959 page 259 We do not find this state of affairs discouraging nor entirely accurate and of course it did not prevent Bennis from proceeding either One reason for our desire to continue in the face of such discouraging words is that a great deal of leadership research aspires to develop a general theory a theory which applies to all or most domains of organized human activity This aspiration inevitably produces decontextualized and therefore abstract categories of practice Howard Gardner's 1995 depiction of leadership as story telling is a case in point

Federal Register, 2000-04

Climbing the Himalayas of School Leadership Carol A. Mullen, 2004-05-03 Here Carol Mullen uncovers vital information about the needs of the nation's schools that can be reflected in program content and policy reform She contends that in today's education climate there exists an urgent call for university faculty to take responsibility for reforming university preparation programs Otherwise the least effective of these programs could be eliminated as has already occurred in North Carolina This book should help principal preparation programs that are behind the times to move forward Such programs can thus be expected to be aligned not only with the expectations of universities policymaking bodies and the public but also with school districts and practicing school leaders
