Profile Method For Classifying And Evaluating Manuscript Evidence:

The Profile Method for the Classification and Evaluation of Manuscript Evidence, as Applied to the Continuous Greek Text of the Gospel of Luke Frederik Wisse, 1982 The great number of New Testament manuscripts makes the task of citing evidence in text critical studies appear to be overwhelming Since it is not practical to cite all of the manuscript evidence scholars have attempted to find representative texts Long ago they noted that many of the manuscripts were related i e certain groups of manuscripts share certain combinations of variants probably because members of the groups are descendants of the same manuscripts The profile method is Professor Frederik Wisse s attempt to establish an accurate and rapid procedure for the classification of the manuscript evidence on any ancient text with large manuscript attestation and to present an adequate basis for the selection of balanced representatives of the whole tradition The Text Of The Apostolos In Epiphanius Of Salamis Carroll D. Osburn, 2004 As part of the Society of Biblical Literature s The New Testament in the Greek Fathers series this book examines the textual affinities of Epiphanius of Salamis in Acts the Catholic Epistles and the Pauline Epistles Devising careful criteria for selecting quotations and following established criteria for analyzing patristic data Osburn reverses the commonly accepted notion that Epiphanius systematically reflects an early form of the Byzantine text While his text of the Catholic Epistles was likely Byzantine in character the Greek text of Acts and the Pauline Epistles used by Epiphanius was common in the Eastern Mediterranean during the fourth century C E and is similar to the Later Egyptian text form found in Codex Alexandrinus and Codex Ephraemi rescriptus In addition to enriching our understanding of Epiphanius this volume broadens our knowledge of the New Testament text in the fourth century Paperback edition is available from the Society of Biblical Literature www.sbl-site.org The Text of the Gospels in Clement of Alexandria Carl P. Cosaert, 2008 Studies in the Textual Criticism of the New Testament Bart D. Ehrman, 2006-05-01 For the first time in one volume this book presents contributions to the textual criticism of the New Testament made over the past twenty years by Bart Ehrman one of the premier textual scholars in North America The collection includes fifteen previously published articles and six lectures delivered at Duke University and Yale University on a range of topics of central importance to the field Following a general essay that gives an introduction to the field for beginners are several essays dealing with text critical method especially pertaining to the classification of the Greek manuscript witnesses There then follow two articles on the history of the text several articles on important specific textual problems and three articles on the importance and use of patristic evidence for establishing the text and writing the history of its transmission The volume concludes with six lectures designed to show the importance not only of reconstructing an allegedly original text but also of recognizing how that text was changed by scribes of the early Christian centuries This book will be of vital interest to any scholar or advanced student of the New Testament and early Christianity It will make an ideal companion volume for Bart Ehrman s ground breaking study The Orthodox Corruption of Scripture The Effects of Early Christological Controversies on

Studies in Stemmatology II Pieter Th. van Reenen,A. A. den Hollander,Margot van Mulken,2004 Stemmatology is the discipline that attempts to reconstruct the transmission of a text on the basis of relations between the various surviving manuscripts The object of this volume is the evaluation of the most recent methods and techniques in the field of stemmatology as well as the development of new ones The book is largely interdisciplinary in character it contains contributions from scholars from classical historical biblical medieval and modern language studies as well as from mathematical and computer scientists and biologists The contributions in the book have been divided into two sections The first section deals with various stemmatological methods and techniques The second section focuses more specifically on the various problems concerning textual variation An earlier volume on Studies in Stemmatology was published in 1996 and opened the most actual state of the art in stemmatology to a broad audience That first volume was very well received by stemmatologists and also gave an impulse to new research as several articles in the current volume clearly illustrate Both volumes are of interest to scholars in historical linguistics literary studies Bible studies classical studies medieval studies and history The Encyclopedia of New Testament Textual Criticism Robert B. comprehensive study of the Markan conclusion to utilise the full potential of the digital revolution in manuscript research This work explores how scribes addressed the Gospel s ending through centuries forging vital new textual traditions With new manuscript evidence this book reveals how manuscript marginalia paratextual notes and catena commentaries challenge conventional models and even modern categories like endings Unpublished data from ancient manuscripts in a spectrum of languages unlocks fresh perspectives on early Christian thought By merging groundbreaking research with a multidisciplinary approach this work enriches New Testament Textual Criticism biblical studies and patristics Between Constantinople and Rome Kathleen Maxwell, 2016-12-05 This is a study of the artistic and political context that led to the production of a truly exceptional Byzantine illustrated manuscript Paris Biblioth que Nationale de France codex grec 54 is one of the most ambitious and complex manuscripts produced during the Byzantine era This thirteenth century Greek and Latin Gospel book features full page evangelist portraits an extensive narrative cycle and unique polychromatic texts However it has never been the subject of a comprehensive study and the circumstances of its commission are unknown In this book Kathleen Maxwell addresses the following questions what circumstances led to the creation of Paris 54 Who commissioned it and for what purpose How was a deluxe manuscript such as this produced Why was it left unfinished How does it relate to other Byzantine illustrated Gospel books Paris 54 s innovations are a testament to the extraordinary circumstances of its commission Maxwell s multi disciplinary approach includes codicological and paleographical evidence together with New Testament textual criticism artistic and historical analysis She concludes that Paris 54 was never intended to copy any other manuscript Rather it was designed to eclipse its contemporaries and to physically embody a new relationship between Constantinople and the Latin West as envisioned by its patron Analysis of Paris 54 s texts and miniature cycle indicates that it was created at the behest of a Byzantine emperor as a gift to a pope in conjunction with imperial efforts to unify the Latin and Orthodox churches As such Paris 54 is a unique witness to early Palaeologan attempts to achieve church union with Rome Scribal Habits and Theological Influences in the Apocalypse Juan Hernández, 2006 Originally presented as the author s thesis Ph D Emory University 2006 The Textual Tradition of the Gospels Amy S. Anderson, 2019-11-26 This investigation of the 10th century minuscule Codex 1582 in the Gospel of Matthew includes a description of the physical document and an extensive evaluation of the text it contains The manuscript was copied by the monk Ephraim who is known to scholars in various fields The high quality of his work and of the documents which were available to him demonstrate that he carefully reproduced an exemplar which witnessed to an ancient and valuable text The text and marginal variants of Codex 1582 are shown to be related though not identical to the text of Matthew used by Origen raising the possibility of a Caesarean archetype A full collation of Codex 1582 to Codex 1 demonstrates that 1582 should be the leading member as well as the basis for the age and readings of Family 1 in Matthew Test collations of twelve other supposed family members lead to a re evaluation of the interrelationships of the documents and an expanded stemma of the family The Bible in Ethiopia Curt Niccum, 2014-05-28 The Ethiopic version provides a window into the state of the Greek Bible as it circulated in East Africa at the end of the fourth century. It is therefore an extremely important witness to the Bible's early transmission history yet its testimony has typically been ignored or misunderstood by text critics. This study examines the history of the book of Acts in Ethiopia and reconstructs its earliest attainable text which then is assessed using the latest text critical methods. It therefore provides a solid base for interpreting the data of this key witness and lays the groundwork for future text critical work in Ethiopic and other early versions.

Intersection Daniel B. Wallace, Denis L. Salgado, 2025-10-07 Discover up to date findings and debates in the field of New Testament textual criticism from the Center for the Study of New Testament Manuscripts. Intersection explores ways in which New Testament textual criticism interacts with other disciplines such as paleography, exegesis, manuscript studies and early Christianity, all of which informs our understanding of the New Testament transmission in its broad context. It provides cutting edge scholarship in textual criticism, a field that is rapidly evolving with the use of digital data analysis. Comprised of stimulating papers presented at the Text and Manuscript Conference hosted by the Center for the Study of New Testament Manuscripts, Intersection brings together multiple disciplines to further our understanding of the transmission and use of the New Testament text reflected in the manuscript tradition. These excellent essays cover a wide range of topics related to New Testament text and manuscripts. In just a single volume, readers learn about the following: the text of the New Testament in the writings of the apostolic and church fathers; textual interplay among manuscripts; scribal practices and contexts; codicological aspects of specific New Testament documents revealed by advanced technology; and even how post-Reformation preachers wrestled with textual variants in their sermons. Written by established scholars and up and coming specialists, this volume represents an opportunity to hear the fresh voices emerging in fields related to New Testament text and manuscript studies.

An Introduction to New Testament Textual Criticism Léon Vaganay, Christian-Bernard Amphoux, 1991-11-14 This book comprises a general survey of the study of New Testament manuscripts and outlines for students of the New Testament the basic tools and skills involved in studying those manuscripts. The present edition is a thoroughly revised and updated version of Léon Vaganay's Initiation à la critique du Nouveau Testament published in 1933, and each section of that original work has been brought up to date in light of the latest research in the field. In its aim to provide a solid foundation to study of New Testament textual criticism, this comprehensive survey will be of great value to those who are looking for basic information about the subject while the documentary information it contains about the extant manuscripts and its original theoretical sections will ensure that the book has much of value to offer the more advanced student of the New Testament.

Studies on the Text of the New Testament and Early Christianity Daniel Gurtner, Juan Hernández, Jr., Paul Foster, 2015-09-29 The collection of essays focuses on the twin areas of research undertaken by Prof. Michael W. Holmes. These are the sub-disciplines of textual criticism and the study of the Apostolic Fathers. The first part of the volume on textual criticism focuses on issues of method the praxis of editing and collating texts and discussions pertaining to individual variants The second part of the volume assembles essays on the Apostolic Fathers There is a particular focus on the person and writings of Polycarp since this is the area of research where Prof Holmes has worked most intensively

Dating Acts in its Jewish and Greco-Roman Contexts Karl Leslie Armstrong, 2021-01-14 There has been consistent apathy in recent years with regard to the long standing debate surrounding the date of Acts While the so called majority of scholars over the past century have been lulled into thinking that Acts was written between 70 and 90 CE the vast majority of recent scholarship is unanimously adamant that this middle range date is a convenient political compromise Karl Armstrong argues that a large part of the problem relates to a remarkable neglect of historical textual and source critical matters Compounding the problem further are the methodological flaws among the approaches to the middle and late date of Acts Armstrong thus demonstrates that a historiographical approach to the debate offers a strong framework for evaluating primary and secondary sources relating to the book of Acts By using a historiographical approach along with the support of modern principles of textual criticism and linguistics the historical context of Acts is determined to be concurrent with a date of 62-63 CE
