Profiting From Fineart Collecting:

Profiting from Fine-Art Collecting Prince Lawrence O. Anifalaje,2003-11-01      Fine Art Collecting Gideon Fairchild,AI,2025-02-21 Fine Art Collecting offers a comprehensive guide to navigating the art world uniquely blending artistic appreciation with financial strategies It addresses the dual nature of fine art as both a cultural artifact and a tangible asset providing readers with the tools to build a collection that s personally rewarding and financially sound The book highlights the importance of understanding art market mechanisms such as auctions and galleries while also demystifying valuation techniques and portfolio diversification A key insight is that successful art collecting requires a synergy between artistic knowledge and financial acumen The book progresses systematically beginning with fundamental art concepts and market dynamics It then delves into the financial aspects of art investment covering valuation risk management and tax implications Finally it provides practical strategies for building a collection based on specific investment goals Readers will learn how to identify undervalued assets develop relationships with art professionals and navigate legal and ethical considerations It emphasizes the necessity of due diligence and informed decision making in the often speculative art market

The Governance of Not-for-Profit Organizations Edward L. Glaeser,2007-11-01 Not for profit organizations play a critical role in the American economy In health care education culture and religion we trust not for profit firms to serve the interests of their donors customers employees and society at large We know that such firms don t try to maximize profits but what do they maximize This book attempts to answer that question assembling leading experts on the economics of the not for profit sector to examine the problems of the health care industry art museums universities and even the medieval church Contributors look at a number of different aspects of not for profit operations from the problems of fundraising endowments and governance to specific issues like hospital advertising The picture that emerges is complex and surprising In some cases not for profit firms appear to work extremely well competition for workers customers and donors leads not for profit organizations to function as efficiently as any for profit firm In other contexts large endowments and weak governance allow elite workers to maximize their own interests rather than those of their donors customers or society at large Taken together these papers greatly advance our knowledge of the dynamics and operations of not for profit organizations revealing the under explored systems of pressures and challenges that shape their governance      202 Things You Can Make and Sell

The Art Collector Alfred Trumble, 1889 Law, Ethics, and the Visual Arts John Henry Merryman, 1987 Collecting as Modernist Practice Jeremy Braddock, 2012-02-15 Winner of the Modernist Studies Association Book Prize of the Modernist Studies Association In this highly original study Jeremy Braddock focuses on collective forms of modernist expression the art collection the anthology and the archive and their importance in the development of institutional and artistic culture in the United States Using extensive archival research Braddock s study synthetically examines the overlooked practices of major American art collectors and literary editors Albert Barnes Alain Locke Duncan Phillips Alfred Kreymborg Amy Lowell Ezra Pound Katherine Dreier and Carl Van Vechten He reveals the way collections were devised as both models for modernism s future institutionalization and culturally productive objects and aesthetic forms in themselves Rather than anchoring his study in the familiar figures of the individual poet artist and work Braddock gives us an entirely new account of how modernism was made one centered on the figure of the collector and the practice of collecting Collecting as Modernist Practice demonstrates that modernism s cultural identity was secured not so much through the selection of a canon of significant works as by the development of new practices that shaped the social meaning of art Braddock has us revisit the contested terrain of modernist culture prior to the dominance of institutions such as the Museum of Modern Art and the university curriculum so that we might consider modernisms that could have been Offering the most systematic review to date of the Barnes Foundation an intellectual genealogy and analysis of The New Negro anthology and studies of a wide range of hitherto ignored anthologies and archives Braddock convincingly shows how artistic and literary collections helped define the modernist movement in the United States

The Politics of Spatial Transgressions in the Arts Gregory Blair, Noa Bronstein, 2020-12-05 This book is an anthology of the varied strategies of spatial transgressions and how they have been implemented through the arts as a means to resist rejuvenate reclaim critique or cohabitate The book is divided into two sections Displacements and Disruptions The first section discusses the ramifications of the spatial displacements of bodies organizations groups of people and ethnicities and explores how artists theorists and arts organizations have an attentive history of revealing and reacting to the displacement of peoples and how their presence or absence radically reconfigures the value identity and uses of place In the second section each author considers how aesthetic strategies have been utilized to disrupt expected spatial experiences and logic. Many of these strategies form radical alternative methodologies that include transgressions, geographies of resistance and psychogeographies. These spatial performances of disruption set into motion a critical exchange between the subject space and materiality in which ideology and experience are both produced, spatialized and deconstructed, destabilized.

Art Collecting and Gifts to Museums Paul van der Grijp, 2024-12-06. Art Collecting and Gifts to Museums questions why private collectors donate their collection or parts of it to museums and examines what the implications of this gifting process might be. Presenting case studies from Europe, North America, East Asia and the South Pacific, this book is concerned with both elite and popular collections and examines the act of donating art from the collector's point of view. Demonstrating that art museums depend on donations from private collectors, Paul van der Grijp emphasizes that it is crucial to understand the psychological, sociological, economic and educational motivations for gifting works of art to institutions. Taken together, the chapters argue that collectors donate to museums because the latter represent an imagined community to whom those collectors would like to bestow a sacred gift. Private collectors are, Van der Grijp maintains, motivated to ensure the immortality of their collections and ultimately to preserve some memory of their own lives in the process. Art Collecting and Gifts to Museums will be of interest to researchers and students engaged in the study of museums, culture, art, anthropology, history and sociology.
