G.K. Chesterton was a journalist and prolific author of poems, novels, short stories, travel books, and social criticism. Prior to the twentieth century, Chesterton expressed sympathy for Jews and hostility towards antisemitism. He was agitated by Russian pogroms and felt sympathy for Captain Dreyfus. However, early into the twentieth century, he developed an irrational fear about the presence of Jews in Christian society. He started to argue that it was the Jews who oppressed the Russians rather than the Russians who oppressed the Jews, and he suggested that Dreyfus was not as innocent as the English newspapers claimed. His caricatures of Jews were often that of grotesque creatures masquerading as English people. His fictional and his journalistic works repeated anti-Jewish stereotypes of Jewish greed and usury, bolshevism, cowardice, disloyalty, and secrecy. This concise book, 125 pages, provides a focused yet easily accessible examination of these stereotypes and caricatures in Chesterton's discourse. It also examines Chesterton's discussion of the so-called Jewish Problem, his belief that every Jew should be made to wear distinctive clothing, the claim that Chesterton could not have been antisemitic because Israel Zangwill was his friend, and the claim that the Wiener Library defended him from the charge of antisemitism. The Hutchinson Encyclopedia of Modern Political Biography Ahmed Aghrout, 1999 Whitaker's Books in Print, 1998 The Roots of the World Duncan B. Reyburn, 2025-02-24. During his career, the metaphysically minded journalist G.K. Chesterton (1874-1936) made a number of remarkable predictions about the future, many of which have come true. He had no science of history or theory of progress, and he vehemently denied that what he was foretelling was inevitable in any way. Yet he was still able to imagine with impressive clarity so much of what has come to pass. This raises an obvious question: How was Chesterton able to be so prescient? In this book, Duncan Reyburn offers an answer by arguing that Chesterton's gift for prophecy resulted from his unique awareness of formal causation, which differs from the typical modern focus on efficient causes and effects. To understand Chesterton's attunement to the formal cause, his work is refracted through the lenses provided by four thinkers: Plato, Aristotle, Marshall McLuhan, and William Desmond. These fit together to create a philosophical/theological telescope that we can look through to better see the astonishing world in which we live, as well as perhaps some of what might happen next. The Tablet, 2000. The international Catholic weekly. G.K. Chesterton, Theologian Aidan Nichols, 2009. The brilliance of Chesterton explored and how Christians can rediscover their faith through his writings. Chesterton, one of the great converts of the twentieth century, draws us directly into an encounter with the Word of God, showing us the faith of the Church as most of us have never seen it before. Fr. Nichols has gathered the most powerful theological passages from the many works of Chesterton and included his own concise explanations of the keen and sometimes surprising ways they illuminate the most profound questions ever asked by man. The Hutchinson Encyclopedia Of Modern Political Biography Senior Lecturer in the Faculty of Humanities John Hutchinson, John Hutchinson, 1999-08-26.
