Carving out a niche within Journalistic Translation Studies, the book introduces and expands on Critical Journalistic Translation Studies (CJTS). The authors critically evaluate the state of the art while advocating for humanising research by focusing on the experiences of both translators and readers. Using the Chinese journalistic translation landscape as a case study, the book investigates the socio-political and socio-cognitive dimensions of journalistic translation. Through applications of sociological, cognitive, and critical discourse approaches, it sheds light on the working conditions of news translators, their cognitive and emotional experiences, the influence of power and ideology on the translation process, the effects of ideological manipulation on translated news texts, and the subsequent impact of such news on audience perceptions and emotions. By opening fresh methodological pathways, not only does this book illuminate the Chinese journalistic translation landscape but it also opens new avenues in CJTS. This book is an indispensable resource for academics, postgraduate students, and researchers in Translation Studies, Media Studies, and Journalism Studies, offering a transformative focus on humanising CJTS.

Eastern Luminaries Disclosed to Western Eyes Raja Lahiani, 2008 This book studies and evaluates the different translations of the Muallaqat seven canonical pre-Islamic odes from Arabic into English and French. First, it introduces the Muallaqat and the chief controversies related to their study in both Eastern and Western scholarship. It then presents the translators of the Muallaqat and their translations and closes with two typologies of the translations and translators presented. A number of criteria for the evaluation of translations of poetry are developed. The book provides a comparative study of the English and French translations of the Muallaqat with a focus on a number of communicative priorities in the source text based on stylistic devices that require a sound awareness of the culture of pre-Islamic Arabia, the main setting of the Muallaqat. The author assesses the reliability of the criteria of evaluation and the translatability of the Muallaqat as a text that is remote from its translators in time, in place, and with respect to literary tradition. Applying Luhmann to
