Transfigurations Asbjørn Grønstad, 2008 In many senses viewers have cut their teeth on the violence in American cinema from Anthony Perkins slashing Janet Leigh in the most infamous of shower scenes to the 1970s masterpieces of Martin Scorsese Sam Peckinpah and Francis Ford Coppola to our present day undertakings in imagining global annihilations through terrorism war and alien grudges Transfigurations brings our cultural obsession with film violence into a renewed dialogue with contemporary theory Grønstad argues that the use of violence in Hollywood films should be understood semiotically rather than viewed realistically Transfigurations thus alters both our methodology of reading violence in films and the meanings we assign to them depicting violence not as a self contained incident but as a convoluted network of our own cultural ideologies and beliefs

A Literary Semiotics Approach to the Semantic Universe of George Orwell's Nineteen Eighty-Four Murat Kalelioğlu, 2019-01-03. Semiotics can be considered as a well-organized signification journey taken among the pages of the work of art. It requires background knowledge related to the field and its analysis tools, as well as careful reading practices in the text to reach the projected destination after stopping over in certain stations. These stations represent meaning intersections where the meaningful formations are articulated to contribute to the generation of the semantic universe of the text. The presentation of such a fictional universe can be complicated because of the nature of the literary work and the language used. With regards to Orwell's Nineteen Eighty-Four, what makes its fiction precious is the masterful acts of the author in both paradigmatic and syntagmatic dimensions. This book conducts a semiotic analysis in order to unfold the enigmatic semantic organization of Orwell's Nineteen Eighty-Four narrative by penetrating the formative structures at various meaning levels of the text.

Multimodal Film Analysis John Bateman, Karl-Heinrich Schmidt, 2013-06-17. This book presents a new basis for the empirical analysis of film. Starting from an established body of work in film theory, the authors show how a close incorporation of the current state of the art in multimodal theory, including accounts of the syntagmatic and paradigmatic axes of organisation, discourse semantics, and advanced layout structure, builds a methodology by which concrete details of film sequences drive mechanisms for constructing filmic discourse structures. The book introduces the necessary background, the open questions raised, and the method by which analysis can proceed step by step. Extensive examples are given from a broad range of films. With this new analytic tool set, the reader will approach the study of film organisation with new levels of detail and probe more deeply into the fundamental question of the discipline: just how is it that films reliably communicate meaning?

Theorizing Adaptation Kamilla Elliott, 2020 From film and television theory to intertextuality poststructuralism to queer theory postcolonialism to meme theory a host of contemporary theories in the humanities have engaged with adaptation studies Yet theorizing adaptation has been deemed problematic in the humanities theoretical and disciplinary wars have been charged with political incorrectness by both conservative and radical scholars and declared outdated and painfully behind the times compared to other disciplines And even separate from these problems of theorization is adaptation's subject matter with many film adaptations of literature widely and simply declared bad In this thorough and groundbreaking study author Kamilla Elliott works to detail and redress the problem of theorizing adaptation She offers the first cross disciplinary history of theorizing adaptation in the humanities extending back in time to the sixteenth century revealing that before the late eighteenth century adaptation was valued and even celebrated for its contributions to cultural progress before its eventual and ongoing marginalization Elliott also presents a discussion of humanities theorization as a process arguing the need to rethink how theorization functions within humanities disciplines and configure a new relationship between theorization and adaptation and then examines how rhetoric may work to repair this difficult relationship Ultimately Theorizing Adaptation seeks to find shared ground upon which adaptation scholars can dialogue and debate productively across disciplinary cultural and theoretical borders without requiring theoretical assent or uniformity
