Each chapter in this book makes various references to actual arts teaching practices. Teaching and learning examples figure prominently. Concrete teaching incidents are covered throughout the book. Various actual classroom teaching situations are given. Highlighted at particular points are arts teaching practices that demonstrate how the arts drive up standards in education generally, and why teaching expertise in the arts can be seen as central to this. Teaching practices and theories in the arts overlap in applied ways. Current teaching and curriculum issues are debated. Teaching explanations expressing the actions, character, and skills of an art, the knowledge claims, the truth relationships, ideas, and conceptions in student-focused, contingent ways are discussed. Explored are learner-like student-teacher dialogues, everyday shared common experiences of art, and the reverent pleasures and insights that correspondingly relate to how things are worked, felt, and examined by students. Familiar, ordinary, cherished, touching, sensitive, and dignified comprehensions are portrayed. In capacity-strengthening ways, the book attends to the elevated, consensual, continuous, broad, united, narrow, enlarged, diverse, open, freed, lively, inventive, imaginative, deeper, and richer horizons that exemplify how the arts in education as a common good contribute to society. This text argues persuasively why we should be teaching arts.
