Sense Of Siege:

The Apocalypse Explained According to the Spiritual Sense in which the Arcana There Predicted But Heretofore Concealed are Revealed Emanuel Swedenborg, 1889 Applied Systemic Studies Henry Selvaraj, Takayuki Fujimoto, 2023-03-21 This book is a collection of a wide range of research papers that combine both the humanities and sciences in applied informatics In particular it is intended for readers interested in the fields of artificial intelligence data science virtual reality and intelligent systems Technologies and findings in artificial intelligence data science virtual reality and intelligent systems are being used in all academic disciplines today This book is a compilation of specific and advanced research findings from a wide range of research fields where they are being applied today The papers included are based on those presented in August 2022 at the International Conference on Systems Engineering ICSEng Tokyo a prestigious academic conference that has been held annually since 1974 The papers have been rigorously reviewed and selected by multiple peer reviewers Security, Technology and Global Politics Mark Lacy, 2014-02-05 This book analyses some of the key problems explored in Paul Virilio's theorising on war and security Paul Virilio has developed a provocative series of writings on how modern societies have shaped the acceleration of military security technologies and how technologies of security and acceleration have transformed society economy and politics His examination of the connections between geopolitics war speed technology and control are viewed as some of the most challenging and disturbing interventions on the politics of security in the twenty first century interventions that help us understand a world that confronts problems that increasingly emerge from the desire to make life safer faster networked and more efficient Security Technology and Global Politics examines some of the key concepts and concerns in Virilio's writings on security society and technology endo colonization fear and the war on terror cities and panic cinema and war ecological security and integral accidents universities and ideas of progress Critics often point to an apocalyptic or fatalistic element to Virilio's writings on global politics but this book challenges this apocalyptic reading of Virilio's work suggesting that while he doesn't provide us with easy solutions to the problems we face the political force in Virilio's work comes from the questions he leaves us with about speed security and global politics in times of crisis terror and fear This book will be of interest to students of critical security studies political theory sociology political geography cultural studies and IR in general The Apocalypse Or Book of Revelations, Explained According to the Spiritual Sense, Wherein are Disclosed the Arcana Therein Foretold which Have Been Hitherto Hidden Emanuel Swedenborg, 1901 Rediscovering Women Writers of Wartime London Evelina Garay Collcutt, 2024-02-29 This book shows the war stricken city through the eyes of five women writers whose novels vividly portray life in the Blitz This new appraisal of their work brings to light the way in which they documented the Blitz in their fiction highlighting the social changes which were taking place especially in the lives of women and leading to a fuller understanding of those turbulent times The book re-evaluates the contribution of these writers to wartime literature showing how their long neglected novels focus on the experiences of individual women protagonists perceived in close relation to the menacing forces of war This title will interest all those seeking to gain further knowledge of 20th century women s writing wartime literature and social history as recorded in fiction

A Sensory History Manifesto Mark M. Smith,2021-05-10 A Sensory History Manifesto is a brief and timely meditation on the state of the field It invites historians who are unfamiliar with sensory history to adopt some of its insights and practices and it urges current practitioners to think in new ways about writing histories of the senses Starting from the premise that the sensorium is a historical formation Mark M Smith traces the origins of historical work on the senses long before the emergence of the field now called sensory history interrogating exploring and in some cases recovering pioneering work on the topic Smith argues that we are at an important moment in the writing of the history of the senses and he explains the potential that this field holds for the study of history generally In addition to highlighting the strengths of current work in sensory history Smith also identifies some of its shortcomings If sensory history provides historians of all persuasions times and places a useful and incisive way to write about the past it also challenges current practitioners to think more carefully about the historicity of the senses and the desirability even the urgency of engaged and sustained debate among themselves In this way A Sensory History Manifesto invites scholars to think about how their field needs to evolve if the real interpretive dividends of sensory history are to be realized Concise and convincing A Sensory History Manifesto is a must read for historians of all specializations Gadelica Association of Modern-Irish Studies,1913

Poetry and the Fate of the Senses Susan Stewart,2002-01-20 What is the role of the senses in the creation and reception of poetry How does poetry carry on the long tradition of making experience and suffering understood by others With Poetry and the Fate of the Senses Susan Stewart traces the path of the aesthetic in search of an explanation for the role of poetry in culture Herself an acclaimed poet Stewart not only brings the intelligence of a critic to the question of poetry but the insight of a practitioner as well Her new study includes close discussions of poems by Stevens Hopkins Keats Hardy Bishop and Traherne of the sense of vertigo in Baroque and Romantic works and of the rich tradition of nocturnes in visual musical and verbal art Ultimately she argues that poetry can counter the denigration of the senses in contemporary life and can expand our imagination of the range of human expression Poetry and the Fate of the Senses won the 2004 Truman Capote Award for Literary Criticism in Memory of Newton Arvin administered for the Truman Capote Estate by the University of Iowa Writers Workshop It also won the Phi Beta Kappa Society s 2002 Christian Gauss Award for Literary Criticism

A Europe of Neighbours? Andrew Queen Morton,1999 Changing Senses of Place Christopher M. Raymond,Lynne C. Manzo,Daniel R. Williams,Andrés Di Masso,Timo von Wirth,2021-08-05 Global challenges ranging from climate change and ecological regime shifts to refugee crises and post national territorial claims are rapidly moving ecosystem thresholds and altering the social fabric of societies worldwide This book addresses the vital question of how to navigate the contested forces of stability and change in a world shaped by multiple interconnected global challenges It proposes that senses of place is a vital concept for supporting individual and social processes for navigating these contested forces and encourages scholars to rethink how to theorise and conceptualise changes in senses of place in the face of global challenges It also makes the case that our concepts of sense of place need to be revisited given that our experiences of place are changing This book is essential reading for those seeking a new understanding of the multiple and shifting experiences of place
