Red Lodge and the Mythic West Bonnie Christensen, 2002 Tracing the story of Red Lodge from the 1880s to the present, Christensen tells how a mining town managed to endure the vagaries of the West's unpredictable extractive industries economy. She connects Red Lodge to a myriad of larger events and historical forces to show how national and regional influences have contributed to the development of local identities, exploring how and why westerners first rejected and then embraced western images and how ethnicity, wilderness, and historic preservation became part of the identity that defined one town.

The Logic of Time Johan van Benthem, 2012-12-06 That philosophical themes could be studied in an exact manner by logical means was a delightful discovery to make. Until then the only outlet for a philosophical interest known to me was the production of poetry or essays. These means of expression remain inconclusive, however, with a tendency towards profuseness. The logical discipline provides so much intellectual backbone without excluding the literary modes. A master's thesis by Erik Krabbe introduced me to the subject of tense logic. The doctoral dissertation of Paul Needham awakened me as so many others from my dogmatic slumbers concerning the latter's monopoly on the logical study of Time. Finally a set of lecture notes by Frank Veltman showed me how classical model theory is just as relevant to that study as more exotic intensional techniques. Of the authors whose work inspired me most I would mention Arthur Prior for his irresistible blend of logic and philosophy, Krister Segerberg for his technical opening up of a systematic theory, and Hans

Kamp for his mastery of all these things at once Many colleagues have made helpful comments on the two previous versions of this text I would like to thank especially my students Ed Brinksma Jan van Eyck and Wilfried Meyer Viol for their logical and cultural criticism The drawings were contributed by the versatile Bauke Mulder Finally Professor H intikka s kind appreciation provided the stimulus to write this book Outline of General Psychology Robert Harvey Gault, Delton Thomas Howard, 1925 Onward , 1897 Nature Sir Norman Lockyer, 1870
