Sentimental Education Of The Novel:

The Sentimental Education of the Novel Margaret Cohen, 2018-06-05 The nineteenth century French novel has long been seen as the heroic production of great men who confronted in their works the social consequences of the French Revolution And it is true that French realism especially as developed by Balzac and Stendhal was one of the most influential novelistic forms ever invented Margaret Cohen however challenges the traditional account of the genesis of realism by returning Balzac and Stendhal to the forgotten novelistic contexts of their time Reconstructing a key formative period for the novel she shows how realist codes emerged in a hostile take over of a prestigious contemporary sentimental practice of the novel which was almost completely dominated by women writers Cohen draws on impressive archival research resurrecting scores of forgotten nineteenth century novels to demonstrate that the codes most closely identified with realism were actually the invention of sentimentality a powerful aesthetic of emerging liberal democratic society although Balzac and Stendhal trivialized sentimental works by associating them with frivolous women writers and readers Attention to these gendered struggles over genre explains why women were not pioneers of realism in France during the nineteenth century a situation that contrasts with England where women writers played a formative role in inventing the modern realist novel Cohen argues that to understand how literary codes respond to material factors it is imperative to see how such factors take shape within the literary field as well as within society as a whole The book also proposes that attention to literature as a social institution will help critics resolve the current vital question of how to practice literary history in the wake of poststructuralism

Sentimental Education Gustave Flaubert, 2016-03-03 For certain men the stronger their desire the less likely they are to act With his first glimpse of Madame Arnoux Frédéric Moreau is convinced he has found his romantic destiny but when he pursues her to Paris the young student is unable to translate his passion into decisive action He also finds himself distracted by the equally romantic appeal of political action in the turbulent years leading up to the revolution of 1848 and by the attractions of three other women each of whom seeks to make him her own a haughty society lady a capricious courtesan and an artless country girl Flaubert offers a vivid and unsparing portrait of the young men of his generation struggling to salvage something of their ideals in a city where corruption consumerism and a pervasive sense of disenchantment undermine all but the most compromised erotic aesthetic and social initiatives Sentimental Education combines thoroughgoing irony with an impartial but unexpectedly intense sympathy in a novel whose realism competes with that of Balzac and whose innovations in narrative plot and perspective mark a turning point in the development of literary modernism ABOUT THE SERIES For over 100 years Oxford World's Classics has made available the widest range of literature from around the globe Each affordable volume reflects Oxford's commitment to scholarship providing the most accurate text plus a wealth of other valuable features including expert introductions by leading authorities helpful notes to clarify the text up to date bibliographies for further study and much more The Sentimental Education of the Novel Margaret Cohen, 2002 Sentimental education

Gustave Flaubert, 1904 A Sentimental Education Gustave Flaubert, 2008-04-17 Set against the backdrop of the 1848 Revolution A Sentimental Education is the story of young lawyer Frédéric Moreau's infatuation with the demurely exotic Madame Arnoux ABOUT THE SERIES For over 100 years Oxford World's Classics has made available the widest range of literature from around the globe Each affordable volume reflects Oxford's commitment to scholarship providing the most accurate text plus a wealth of other valuable features including expert introductions by leading authorities helpful notes to clarify the text up to date bibliographies for further study and much more Sentimental Education Gustave Flaubert, 2024-01-02 A fresh and vivid translation of Flaubert's influential bildungsroman Gustave Flaubert conceived Sentimental Education his final complete novel as the history of his own generation one that failed to fulfill the promise of the Revolution of 1848 Published a few months before the start of the 1870 Franco Prussian War it offers both a sweeping panorama of French society over three decades and an intimate bildungsroman of a young man from a small town who arrives in Paris when protests against the monarchy are increasing The novel's protagonist Frédéric Moreau alternates between aimlessness and ambition as he searches for a meaningful life through love affairs and republican politics Flaubert's narrative includes scenes of high drama as scattered protests across Paris swell into revolution and quiet moments of self-aware romanticism crafting a story that possesses the sweep and scope of a historical novel combined with deep emotion and scandalous intimacy Suffused with tragedy and the poignancy of lost chances and wasted lives Sentimental Education is sharpened by satirical observations of what Flaubert condemned as the Second Empire's endemic hypocrisy and willful blindness This vibrant new translation by Raymond N MacKenzie includes an extensive critical introduction and annotations to help the modern reader appreciate Flaubert's achievement Sentimental Education intertwines the personal the intimate and the subjective with the political social and cultural embedding Frédéric's story in the larger arc of what Flaubert saw as France's decline into mediocrity and imbecility in its politics and manners Sentimental Education Gustave Flaubert, 1869 Sentimental Education French L'education sentimentale 1869 is a novel by Gustave Flaubert Considered one of the most influential novels of the 19th century it was praised by contemporaries such as George Sand and Émile Zola but criticised by Henry James The story focuses on the romantic life of a young man at the time of the French Revolution of 1848 The novel describes the life of a young man Frédéric Moreau living through the revolution of 1848 and the founding of the Second French Empire and his love for an older woman based on the wife of the music publisher Maurice Schlesinger who is portrayed in the book as Jacques Arnoux Flaubert based many of the protagonist's experiences including the romantic passion on his own life He wrote of the work in 1864 I want to write the moral history of the men of my generation or more accurately the history of their feelings It's a book about love about passion but passion such as can exist nowadays that is to say inactive The novel's tone is by turns ironic and pessimistic it occasionally lampoons French society The main character Frédéric often gives himself over to romantic flights of fancy Sentimental Education Gustave Flaubert, 2004-10-26 One of the Sentimental Education William R. Paulson,1992 Although Gustave Flaubert s best known novel is Madame Bovary many critics consider his later work Sentimental Education to be his masterpiece It belongs to the type of realistic fiction that describes ordinary lives in detail a genre at which Flaubert excelled Sentimental Education paints the political and social background with such extraordinary fidelity that it is also a valuable record of the ideals and enthusiasms of a whole era Telling the story of Frederic Moreau s unrequited lifelong love for another man s wife Sentimental Education has always been considered a difficult and controversial book Its original reviewers found the novel s form unsettling and its depiction of society amoral and since then the novel has never had a lack of detractors and defenders William Paulson s original and challenging reading of Sentimental Education acknowledges the novel s difficulty and complexity but insists on its ultimate readability His interpretation emphasizes the novel's relation to its social context its function as a commentary on romanticism and individualism and the inauthenticity of both conservative and revolutionary ideology In this thorough and extended reading of Sentimental Education Paulson advances new arguments concerning the opening and closing of the novel the purpose of Frederic Moreau's inconsistency the structure of part 2 the characters of Dussardier and Senecal and the similarity of Flaubert's treatment of events in 1848 to those of de Tocqueville and Marx In addition this study provides an introduction to Flaubert's narrative technique and situates both the novel and its protagonists in the artistic production of the nineteenth century SENTIMENTAL EDUCATION GUSTAVE.
