Separated Souls A Novel:

Separated Soul Shaene Ragan, 2016-10-06 When Feline the High Sorcerer tries to locate the spirit of his sister sorceress Porpoise he is shocked to discover that her soul has been split in two Half of her lives as an undead dark witch on the northern moors while the other is a sorceress who rises and sets with the light of Phoebe Artemis To unite the two halves of his old friend Feline must himself take on two identities and carefully weave a web of influence First he becomes a cunning cat and charms his way into the dark witch's trust He also becomes a sorcery tutor claiming to be of the vanished Elf Nation to whisper in the ear of the Moon's foster child Just as he begins to think his plan will succeed his task becomes more difficult when the two sides of Porpoise take opposite positions on the lives of the Romanized Celts and the Saxons after the Romans abandon the area With both the soul of his friend and the lives of countless mortals in the mix he must tread carefully to avoid a catastrophe To make matters worse an extraterrestrial parapsychologist begins to stalk him from the astral plane making him realize that his actions may have consequences far beyond their little island Separated Soul is grand in scale and rich in unique characters Drawing from pre Celtic mythology and history it ties the mundane and fantastical together into a complex and compelling narrative of operatic proportions themes Gandhi Kathryn Tidrick,2013-07-02 Throughout his long and turbulent career as a political leader first in South Africa and then in India Gandhi sought to fulfil his religious aspirations through politics and to reconcile politics with personal religious conviction But Gandhi's religion was wildly divergent from anything to have taken root in his native India Foremost among his private tenets was the belief that he was a world saviour long prophesied and potentially divine Penetrating and provocative Kathryn Tidrick's book draws on neglected material to explore the paradoxes within Gandhi's life and personality She reveals a man whose spiritual ideas originated not in India but in the drawing rooms of late Victorian England and which included some very eccentric and damaging notions about sex The resulting portrait is complex convincing and to anyone interested in the legacy of colonialism more enlightening than any previously published The Gandhi revealed here is not the secular saint of popular renown but a difficult and self-obsessed man driven by a messianic sense of personal destiny

The Soul Tells a Story Vinita Hampton Wright, 2005-03-30 Vinita Hampton Wright leads you through the process and practice of integrating the worlds of Christian spirituality and creativity The Collected Novels of José Saramago José Saramago, 2010-11-29 This essential anthology presents thirteen acclaimed works by the Nobel Prize winning author of Blindness with an introduction by Ursula Le Guin This collection available exclusively in e book form brings together twelve novels and one novella of the great Portuguese writer José Saramago From Saramago's early work like the enchanting Baltasar Blimunda and the controversial Gospel According to Jesus Christ through his masterpiece Blindness and its sequel Seeing to his later fables of politics chance history and love like All the Names and Death with Interruptions this volume showcases the range and depth of Saramago's career his inimitable narrative voice and his vast reserves of invention humor and understanding Editing the Soul Everett Hamner, 2017-09-28 Personal genome testing gene editing for life threatening diseases synthetic life once the stuff of science fiction twentieth and twenty first century advancements blur the lines between scientific narrative and scientific fact This examination of bioengineering in popular and literary culture shows that the influence of science on science fiction is more reciprocal than we might expect Looking closely at the work of Margaret Atwood Richard Powers and other authors as well as at film comics and serial television such as Orphan Black Everett Hamner shows how the genome age is transforming both the most commercial and the most sophisticated stories we tell about the core of human personhood As sublime technologies garner public awareness beyond the genre fiction shelves they inspire new literary categories like slipstream and shape new definitions of the human the animal the natural and the artificial In turn what we learn of bioengineering via popular and literary culture prepares the way for its official adoption or restriction and for additional representations By imagining the connections between emergent gene testing and editing capacities and long standing conversations about freedom and determinism these stories help build a cultural zeitgeist with a sharper more balanced vision of predisposed agency A compelling exploration of the interrelationships among science popular culture and self Editing the Soul sheds vital light on what the genome age means to us and what's to come

Biblical Women in Contemporary Novels in English Ingrid Bertrand, 2020-02-10 How are well known female characters from the Bible represented in late 20th century novels In Biblical Women in Contemporary Novels in English Ingrid Bertrand presents a detailed analysis of biblical rewritings by Roberts Atwood Tennant Diamant and Diski focusing on six different women Eve Noah's wife Sarah Bilhah Dinah and Mary Magdalene She shows how these heroines give themselves a voice that rests not only on words but also on silences Exploring the many forms that silence can take she presents an innovative typology that sheds new light on this profoundly meaningful phenomenon The Gospel According to Science Fiction

Gabriel McKee, 2007-01-01 Explores the theological nature of science fiction drawing on examples from television literature and films to explain how science fiction can help people understand not only who they are but who they will become

Haruki Murakami and the Search for Self-Therapy Jonathan Dil, 2022-02-24 Haruki Murakami a global literary phenomenon has said that he started writing fiction as a means of self therapy What he has not discussed as much is what he needed self therapy for This book argues that by understanding more about why Murakami writes and by linking this with the question of how he writes readers can better understand what he writes Murakami s fiction in other words can be read as a search for self therapy In five chapters which explore Murakami s fourteen novels to date this book argues that there are four prominent therapeutic threads woven through Murakami s fiction that can be traced back to his personal traumas most notably Murakami s falling out with his late father and the death of a former girlfriend and which have also transcended them in significant ways as they have been transformed into literary fiction The first thread looks at the way melancholia must be worked through for mourning to occur and healing to happen the second thread looks at how symbolic acts of sacrifice can help to heal intergenerational trauma the third thread looks at the way people with avoidant attachment styles can begin to open themselves up to love again the fourth thread looks at how individuation can manifest as a response to nihilism Meticulously researched and written with sensitivity the result is a sophisticated exploration of Murakami s published novels as an evolving therapeutic project that will be of great value to all scholars of Japanese literature and culture

Bulwer's Novels Edward Bulwer Lytton Baron Lytton,1892 The Literary Digest International Book Review Clifford Smyth,1924 The Judgment of Love James M Matarazzo,2018-10-19 This book seeks to explore the concept of divine judgment in Christian eschatology It contends that this judgment is salvific rather than destructive This notion can be described aphoristically as iudicandus est salvandus to be judged is to be saved The provocation to Christian eschatology is that human beings are not saved from judgment but are saved within it The exploration begins defining the context and moves into a review of the symbols and problems of judgment through a reappraisal of De novissimis concerning the last things the last section found in traditional works of Christian dogmatics This is followed by a critical engagement with the soteriological optimism posited by four twentieth and twenty first century theologians Sergei Bulgakov Hans Urs von Balthasar J A T Robinson and Marilyn McCord Adams The event of the judgment is then defined as the event of absolute recognition that it is within the eschatic recognition of God the self and the other that transformation and glorification of human persons occur in a way that avoids a dual outcome of salvation and damnation The book concludes by proposing that we may approach divine judgment with faith hope and love not only for ourselves but for the human race as a whole
