Servants Of Globalization Women Migration And Domestic Work:

Servants of Globalization Rhacel Parreñas, 2015-08-26 Servants of Globalization offers a groundbreaking study of migrant Filipino domestic workers who leave their own families behind to do the caretaking work of the global economy. Since its initial publication the book has informed countless students and scholars and set the research agenda on labor migration and transnational families. With this second edition Rhacel Salazar Parreñas returns to Rome and Los Angeles to consider how the migrant communities have changed. Children have now joined their parents. Male domestic workers are present in significantly greater numbers. And perhaps most troubling the population has aged, presenting new challenges for the increasingly elderly domestic workers. New chapters discuss these three increasingly important constituencies. The entire book has been revised and updated and a new introduction offers a global comparative overview of the citizenship status of migrant domestic workers. Servants of Globalization remains the defining work on the international division of reproductive labor.

Servants of Globalization Rhacel Salazar Parreñas, 2001 A poignant often troubling study of Filipina domestic workers who leave their own families behind to do the mothering and caretaking work of the global economy in countries throughout the world.

Critical Globalization Studies Richard P. Appelbaum, William I. Robinson, 2005 First Published in 2005 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis, an informal company.

Reseña de "Servants of Globalization. Women, Migration and Domestic Work" de Rhacel Salazar Parreñas Claudia Rocío Rivera Kisines, 2003

The Force of Domesticity Rhacel Salazar Parreñas, 2008-08-10 The Force of Domesticity offers fresh perspectives on the complex linkages of gender and globalization that connect the world today. Through a multi-site analysis of Filipino women, Parreñas shows how domesticity, remittances, and NGO and state imposed notions of morality conspire to create new structures of inequalities and opportunities for transnational migrant women. Pierrette Hondagneu Sotelo, author of Domestica, taking as her subjects migrant Filipina domestic workers in Rome and Los Angeles, transnational migrant families in the Philippines, and Filipina migrant entertainers in Tokyo, Parreñas documents the social, cultural, and political pressures that maintain women's domesticity in migration, as well as the ways migrant women and their children negotiate these adversities. Parreñas examines the underlying constructions of gender in neoliberal state regimes, export-oriented economies such as that of the Philippines, protective migration laws, and the actions and decisions of migrant Filipino women in maintaining families and communities, raising questions about gender relations, the status of women in globalization, and the meanings of greater consumptive power that migration garners for women. The Force of Domesticity starkly illustrates how the operation of globalization enforces notions of women's domesticity and creates contradictory messages about women's place in society, simultaneously pushing women inside and outside the home.

Migration, Domestic Work and Affect Encarnación Gutiérrez-Rodríguez, 2010-12-22 Drawing upon several years of research in Germany, the UK, Spain, and Austria, and over 100 interviews with Peruvian, Ecuadorian, and Chilean women working as domestic and care workers, this book examines hitherto unexplored areas of the interpersonal relationships between domestic and care workers and their employers Domestic Workers of the World Unite! Jennifer N. From Crisis to Catastrophe Mignon Duffy, Amy Armenia, Kim Price-Glynn, 2023-05-12 The COVID pandemic has shaken the material and social foundations of the world more than any event in recent history and has highlighted and exacerbated a longstanding crisis of care While these challenges may be freshly visible to the public they are not new Over the last three decades a growing body of care scholarship has documented the inadequacy of the social organization of care around the world and the effect of the devaluation of care on workers families and communities In this volume a diverse group of care scholars bring their expertise to bear on this recent crisis In doing so they consider the ways in which the existing social organization of care in different countries around the globe amplified or mitigated the impact of COVID They also explore the global pandemic s impact on the conditions of care and its role in exacerbating deeply rooted gender race migration disability and other forms of inequality

Home economics Sacha Hepburn, 2022-08-16 Domestic service has long been one of the largest forms of urban employment across southern Africa Home economics provides the first comprehensive history of this essential sector in the decades following independence and the end of apartheid Focusing on Lusaka and drawing wider comparisons the book traces how Black workers and employers adapted existing models of domestic service as part of broader responses to changing gendered employment patterns economic decline and endemic poverty It reveals how kin based domestic service gradually displaced wage labour and how women and girl workers came to dominate kin based and waged domestic service with profound consequences for labour regulation and worker organising Theoretically innovative and empirically rich the book provides essential insights into debates about gender work and urban economies that are critical to understanding southern Africa's post colonial and post apartheid history

Women's Labor in the Global Economy Sharon Harley, 2007-06-05 Globalization is not a new phenomenon women throughout the world have been dealing with the circumstances and consequences of an international economy long before the advent of the transnational corporate conglomerate However in a mercenary example of the tried cliché the more things change the more they stay the same women particularly those of color continue to be relegated to the lowest rung of the occupational ladder where their indispensable contributions to global market capitalism are downplayed or invalidated completely through the perpetuation of stereotypes and the denial of access to better job opportunities and resources How women of color around the world adapt and challenge the economic political and social effects of globalization is the subject of this broad minded and incisive anthology From Mexico Jamaica Ghana Zimbabwe and Sri Lanka to immigrant and non immigrant communities in the United States the women documented in these essays are agricultural and factory workers artists and entrepreneurs mothers and activists Their stories bear stark witness to how globalization continues to develop new sites and forms of exploitation while its apparent victims continue to be women men and children of color

Knowledge, Power, and Migration Yasmeen Abu-Laban, Mireille Paquet, Ethel Tungohan, 2025-06-17 As the field of migration studies has grown the asymmetrical relationship between researchers in the Global North and in the South has produced a body of work that centres the concerns of the former Those from the Global North and wealthier countries continue to produce the greater portion of this research while research from Global South scholars with lived experiences as migrants is received as anecdotal or too niche to have universal application Knowledge Power and Migration assembles researchers from across the divide to question the ways in which research practices can change the conversation on immigration It encourages a necessary curiosity about how scholarship in the field can shape global social and epistemic justice Migration is a constant in human history but the sharp decline in permanent resettlement options increasingly selective criteria and violent enforcement measures of the twenty first century constitute a crisis of immigration policy Only by redressing the inequalities it shares with global governance structures can the discipline confront this historic challenge Research on immigration can occasion reflections and practices that challenge epistemic injustices Knowledge Power and Migration contributes to this ongoing project while offering insights on the practical organization of new forms of dialogue on migration in a largely unequal world

Everyday Women's and Gender Studies Ann Braithwaite, Catherine Orr, 2016-08-11 Everyday Women's and Gender Studies is a text reader that offers instructors a new way to approach an introductory course on women's and gender studies This book highlights major concepts that organize the diverse work in this field Knowledges Identities Equalities Bodies Places and Representations Its focus on the everyday speaks to the importance this book places on students understanding the taken for granted circumstances of their daily lives Precisely because it is not the same for everyone the everyday becomes the ideal location for cultivating students intellectual capacities as well as their political investigations and interventions In addition to exploring each concept in detail each chapter includes up to five short recently published readings that illuminate an aspect of that concept Everyday Women s and Gender Studies explores the idea that People are different and the world isn t fair and engages students in the inevitably complicated follow up question Now that we know how shall we live Migrants Who

Care Fumilayo Showers,2023-09-15 As the U S population ages and as health care needs become more complex demand for paid care workers in home and institutional settings has increased This book draws attention to the reserve of immigrant labor that is called on to meet this need Migrants Who Care tells the little known story of a group of English speaking West African immigrants who have become central to the U S health and long term care systems With high human capital and middle class pre migration backgrounds these immigrants hailing from countries as diverse as Cameroon Sierra Leone Ghana Nigeria and Liberia encounter blocked opportunities in the U S labor market They then work in the United States as home health aides certified nursing assistants qualified disability support professionals and licensed practical and registered nurses This book reveals the global political social and economic factors that have facilitated the entry of West African women and men into the health care labor force home and institutional care for older adults and individuals with physical and intellectual disabilities and skilled nursing It highlights these immigrants role as labor brokers who tap into their local ethnic and immigrant communities to channel co ethnics to meet this labor demand It illustrates how West African care workers understand their work across various occupational settings and segments in the health care industry This book reveals the transformative processes migrants undergo as they become produced repackaged and deployed as health care workers after migration Ultimately this book tells the very real and human story of an immigrant group surmounting tremendous obstacles to carve out a labor market niche in health care providing some of the most essential and intimate aspects of care labor to the most vulnerable members of society
