

The cover of the Macmillan Illustrated World Atlas features a dynamic, artistic representation of Earth. The left side shows a swirling, blue and white vortex, possibly representing a hurricane or a view of the atmosphere from space. The right side shows a dark, stylized map of the world's continents with a grid of latitude and longitude lines. The background is a deep black space filled with numerous small, distant stars. The title 'WORLD ATLAS' is prominently displayed in the center in a large, white, serif font. Above it, the words 'the Macmillan illustrated' are written in a smaller, white, sans-serif font. At the bottom, the subtitle 'A comprehensive portrait of planet Earth' is written in a white, sans-serif font.
