Local Lists of Lepidoptera J. M. Chalmers-Hunt,1989      Large White Butterfly J. Feltwell,2012-12-06 The literature is still one of our biggest frustrations to day There is in one sense too much of it and in another not enough for there are insufficient and inadequate published guidelines through this jungle Last year two excellent books for students of ecological chemistry were published one in France and one in England The concordance of the references was a mere overall 3% rising to 7% in the chapters on pheromones Even in the computer age the channel remains a formidable barrier to the rapid exchange of biological information At the present time we are in urgent need of compilations similar to John Feltwell s The Large White Butterfly since the literature has become virtually unmanageable This insect is now a demonstration object in the sixth form schoolroom an experimental rabbit in the University laboratory a test animal in virus and bacterial research projects a tool for the study of flight mechanisms migration plant biochemistry hormones genetics allergies pigments mimicry etc etc John Feltwell has by this massive compilation rendered us a great service in fact he has given us a present of 4 000 hours of library time spent in 50 different libraries in seven countries In the process he has collected 8000 references to the Large White Of these 4000 have been selected and we are given a brief indication of their contents      The Entomologist's Record and Journal of Variation James William Tutt,1909      The Moths and Butterflies of Great Britain and Ireland: Micropterigidae-Heliozelidae John Heath,A. great biodiversity still to be found in England and should help to stimulate similar efforts to uncover the biodiversity and describe the natural history of ancient parkland and woodland so that conservation of these sites can be based on firm scientific data     Colour Identification Guide to Caterpillars of the British Isles.
