Monte Carlo Lydia Stryk,2015-05-15 Daisy now approaching retirement has lived with her mother while working in a factory for her entire adult life Nothing seems set to change until she wins the football pools and becomes a millionaire and her world is turned upside down But with the riches and the fulfillment of a life long unspoken dream to see Monte Carlo comes a realisation about her long relationship with her mother which will change her life in far more unexpected ways MONTE CARLO turns the classic stereotype of the spinster on its head by letting her take centre stage

Racial Discourse and Cosmopolitanism in Twentieth-Century African American Writing Tania Friedel,2010-06-21 This book engages the critical mode of cosmopolitanism through racial discourse in the work of several major twentieth century African American authors such as W E B Du Bois Jean Toomer Jessie Fauset Langston Hughes and Albert Murray

Vitality Politics Stephen Knadler,2019-08-06 Vitality Politics focuses on a slow racial violence against African Americans through everyday accumulative contagious and toxic attritions on health The book engages with recent critical disability studies scholarship to recognize that debility or the targeted maiming and distressing of Black populations is a largely unacknowledged strategy of the U S liberal multicultural capitalist state This politicization of biological health serves as an instrument for insisting on a racial state of exception in which African Americans own unhealthy habits and disease susceptibility justifies their legitimate suspension from full rights to social justice economic opportunity and political freedom and equality The book brings together disability studies Black Studies and African American literary history as it highlights the urgent need and gives weight to a biopolitics of debilitation and medicalization to better understand how Black lives are made not to matter in our supposedly race neutral multicultural democracy

Maggie's Plan Rebecca Miller, 2016-05-23 She's wonderful she's just kind of destroying my life Maggie Greta Gerwig is a young single woman in Brooklyn who is determined to have a baby on her own through a surrogate However she meets John Ethan Hawke an attractive older university professor caught in an unhappy marriage and they start a relationship Maggie's rejuvenating enthusiasm lures John away from his wife the domineering Danish critical theorist Georgette Norgaard Julianne Moore The film moves forward three years and the couple have married and settled down with a daughter together Everything has gone according to Maggie's plan so why isn't she happy And what sort of meddling scheme will she concoct next Maggie's Plan based on an unpublished novel by Karen Rinaldi is both an affectionate send up of highbrow academic culture and a treatise on modern self-realization Rebecca Miller exhibits her characteristic sensitivity to female experience but with a playfulness given freer rein than ever before in her work The film was premiered at the New York Film Festival in October 2015 and received its official US premiere in May 2016

The Gambling Establishment Jim Orford, 2019-09-05 There are now signs that after decades of phenomenal growth the era of unrestrained gambling liberalisation may be coming to an end However the power of the Gambling Establishment is formidable and it will certainly fight back Drawing on research and policy examples from around the world the book provides a unified understanding of the dangerousness of modern commercialised gambling how its expansion has been deliberately or inadvertently supported and how the backlash is now occurring The term Gambling Establishment is defined to include the industry which sells gambling governments which support it and a wider network of organisations and individuals who have subscribed to the responsible gambling Establishment discourse Topics covered include the psychology of how gambling is now being advertised and promoted and the way it is designed to deceive gamblers about their chances of winning the increased exposure of young people to gambling and the alignment of gambling with sport understanding the experience of gambling addiction the various public health harms of gambling at individual family community and societal levels and how evidence has been used to resist change The book's final chapter offers the author's manifesto for policy change designed with Britain particularly in mind but likely to have relevance elsewhere With detailed examples given of the ways a number of countries are responding to these threats to their citizens' health this book will be of global interest for academics researchers policymakers and service providers in the field of gambling or other addictions specifically and public health and social policy generally The Final Flight of Maggie's Drawer Ray E.

Rereading the Harlem Renaissance Sharon L. Jones,2002-12-30 African American writers of the Harlem Renaissance generally fall into three aesthetic categories the folk which emphasizes oral traditions African American English rural settings and characters from lower socioeconomic levels the bourgeois which privileges characters from middle class backgrounds and the proletarian which favors overt critiques of oppression by contending that art should be an instrument of propaganda Depending on critical assumptions regarding what constitutes authentic African American literature some writers have been valorized others dismissed This rereading of the Harlem Renaissance gives special attention to Fauset Hurston and West Jones argues that all three aesthetics influence each of their works that they have been historically mislabeled and that they share a drive to challenge racial class and gender oppression The introduction provides a detailed historical overview of the Harlem Renaissance and the prevailing aesthetics of the period Individual chapters analyze the works of Hurston West and Fauset to demonstrate how the folk bourgeois and proletarian aesthetics figure into their writings The volume concludes by discussing the writers in relation to contemporary African American women authors
