Mirror Of His Beauty:

Mirror of His Beauty Peter Schäfer, 2018-06-05 In this beautifully realized study Peter Schäfer investigates the origins of a female manifestation of God in Jewish mysticism The search itself is a fascinating exploration of the idea of a feminine divinity And Schäfer's surprising but persuasive conclusions yield deeper understanding of the complex but frequently intimate relationship between Christianity and Judaism and of the development of religious concepts more generally Toward the end of the twelfth century a small book titled the Bahir Light appeared in Provence The first document of Judaism's emerging kabbalistic movement it introduced a completely new view of God one that included a divine potency that was essentially female This female divinity was portrayed both as a mediator between Jews and God and as part of the Godhead itself Examining Judaic history from the biblical Wisdom tradition to the Middle Ages Schäfer finds some precedents for the Kabbalah's feminine divinity But he cannot account for her forceful appearance in twelfth century southern France without reference to the immediate Christian environment particularly the flourishing veneration of the Virgin Mary Indeed twelfth century Jews and Christians were simultaneously rediscovering the feminine as an aspect of the Godhead after having abandoned it in favor of either an abstract disembodied God or an exclusively male one In proposing that the medieval cult of Mary rather than eastern Gnosticism is the appropriate framework for understanding the feminine elements in Jewish mysticism Mirror of His Beauty represents a sea change in Kabbalah and Jewish Christian cultural studies It shifts our attention from the Byzantine East to the Latin Christian West And in contrast to histories that treat the development of Judaism and Christianity in isolation it leads us to a fuller understanding of Jews and Christians living in proximity aware of each other

Mirror of His Beauty Peter Schäfer, 2002 In this beautifully realized study Peter Schäfer investigates the origins of a female manifestation of God in Jewish mysticism The search itself is a fascinating exploration of the idea of a feminine divinity And Schäfer's surprising but persuasive conclusions yield deeper understanding of the complex but frequently intimate relationship between Christianity and Judaism and of the development of religious concepts more generally Toward the end of the twelfth century a small book titled the Bahir Light appeared in Provence The first document of Judaism's emerging kabbalistic movement it introduced a completely new view of God one that included a divine potency that was essentially female This female divinity was portrayed both as a mediator between Jews and God and as part of the Godhead itself Examining Judaic history from the biblical Wisdom tradition to the Middle Ages Schäfer finds some precedents for the Kabbalah's feminine divinity But he cannot account for her forceful appearance in twelfth century southern France without reference to the immediate Christian environment particularly the flourishing veneration of the Virgin Mary Indeed twelfth century Jews and Christians were simultaneously rediscovering the feminine as an aspect of the Godhead after having abandoned it in favor of either an abstract disembodied God or an exclusively male one In proposing that the medieval cult of Mary rather than eastern Gnosticism is the appropriate framework for understanding the feminine elements in Jewish mysticism Mirror of His Beauty represents a sea change in Kabbalah and Jewish Christian cultural studies It shifts our attention from the Byzantine East to the Latin Christian West And in contrast to histories that treat the development of Judaism and Christianity in isolation it leads us to a fuller understanding of Jews and Christians living in proximity aware of each other A Mahzor from Worms Katrin Kogman-Appel, a_rin _og'man-Apel,2012-04-17 The Leipzig Mahzor is one of the most lavish Hebrew illuminated manuscripts of all time A prayer book used during Jewish holidays it was produced in the Middle Ages for the Jewish community of Worms in the German Rhineland Though Worms was a vibrant center of Judaism in the eleventh and twelfth centuries and drew celebrated rabbis little is known about the city s Jews in the later Middle Ages In the pages of its famous book Katrin Kogman Appel discovers a portal into the life of this fourteenth century community Medieval mahzorim were used only for special services in the synagogue and belonged to the whole congregation so their visual imagery reflected the local cultural associations and beliefs The Leipzig Mahzor pays homage to one of Worms s most illustrious scholars Eleazar ben Judah Its imagery reveals how his Ashkenazi Pietist worldview and involvement in mysticism shaped the community s religious practice Kogman Appel draws attention to the Mahzor s innovations including its strategy for avoiding visual representation of God and its depiction of customs such as the washing of dishes before Passover something less common in other mahzorim In addition to decoding its iconography Kogman Appel approaches the manuscript as a ritual object that preserved a sense of identity and cohesion within a community facing a wide range of threats to its stability and security The Beast & His Beauty Willow Winters,2024-08-25 They don t go to the brick wall No one in the village does Ever since I was a little girl everyone has warned me not to go or even to look at it And if you happen to find yourself close to the wall run as fast and as far away as you can The magic from the beast creeps beyond the wall but not by much No one who values their life approaches the enchanted area let alone searches out the gate Everyone is sure not to provoke the enchanted area Those who do don t come back to tell their tales The magic is dark And it s all from the beast FOR THE LAST 19 YEARS OF MY LIFE I ve heard the tales and been warned to stay away The thing is though I m not a very good listener I got lost in the magic He scented me He claimed me with a bite on my neck And I ran Quickly and with a new terror racing in my heart I swore I would never return I would not trust the magic and allow it to entrance me again I would not risk being caught in the hands of the Beast again But that was months ago and I miss the magic Not only that but I dream of the beast It s not a dream I d admit to out loud but it s a dream I d like to see come true Beauty in Sufism Kazuyo Murata,2017-04-05 According to Muhammad God is beautiful and He loves beauty Yet Islam is rarely associated with beauty and today a politicized Islam dominates many perceptions This work tells a forgotten story of beauty in Islam through the writings of celebrated but little studied Sufi scholar and saint R zbih n Baql 1128 1209 R zbih n argued that the pursuit of beauty in the world and in oneself was the goal of Muslim life One should become beautiful in imitation of God and reclaim the innate human nature created in God s beautiful image R zbih n s theory of beauty is little known largely because of his convoluted style and eccentric terminology in both Persian and Arabic In this book Kazuyo Murata revives R zbih n s ideas for modern readers She provides an overview of Muslim discourse on beauty before R zbih n s time an analysis of key terms related to beauty in the Qur n ad th and in R zbih n s writings a reconstruction of R zbih n s understanding of divine cosmic and human beauty and a discussion of what he regards as the pinnacle of beauty in creation the prophets especially Adam Abraham Joseph Moses and Muhammad

And Muhammad Is His Messenger Annemarie Schimmel,2014-06-30 The important role of the Prophet Muhammad in the everyday lives of Muslims is usually overlooked by Western scholars and has consequently never been understood by the Western world Using original sources in the various Islamic languages Annemarie Schimmel explains the central place of Muhammad in Muslim life mystical thought and poetry She sees the veneration of Muhammad as having many parallels in other major religions In order to understand Muslim piety it is necessary to take into account the long history of the veneration of Muhammad Schimmel discusses aspects of his life birth marriage miracles and heavenly journey all of which became subjects for religious devotions By using poetic texts and artistic expressions and by examining daily Muslim religious practices Schimmel shows us the gentler side of Islamic religious culture providing a much needed understanding of religion as it is experienced and practiced in the Islamic world This is the first book in English to deal with all aspects of the veneration of the Prophet Muhammad It is an expanded version of Schimmel s Und Muhammad Ist Sein Prophet originally published in German in 1981

His Beauty Sofia Tate,2018-05-08 Fans of New York Times bestselling authors Samantha Young Sylvia Day and E L James won t want to miss this modern and deliciously wicked take on a classic fairy tale She never should have come here Twice a week Lily Moore comes to work for me stealing my breath with her light and beauty and sweetness She doesn t know the dangerous path she s on All she knows is that I am a reclusive artist living on a crumbling estate That I am scarred broken by life A beast Lily ignites a hunger unlike anything I ve known one that could shatter the isolated world I live in Even as I see the same longing for me in her oh so blue eyes I know she belongs to another one who does not deserve her But it s just a matter of time before the tension between us breaks For this beast will have what he desires To hell with the consequences This is my world and I will claim my beauty

Lavengro George Borrow,1903

Medusa's Mirrors Julia M. Walker,1998 The question of selfhood in Renaissance texts constitutes a scholarly and critical debate of almost unmanageable proportions The author of this work begins by questioning the strategies with which male writers depict powerful women Although Spenser s Britomart Shakespeare s Cleopatra and Milton s Eve figure selfhood very differently and to very different ends they do have two significant elements in common mirrors and transformations that diminish the power of the female self

Telling Time Lisa Frieden,2020-06-01 Telling Time is a scholarly book that explores how novelists wrote about AIDS during the first decade of the epidemic when HIV and AIDS were considered death sentences and most often associated with homosexuality and the gay community The book explores the different narrative strategies used by novelists to represent the temporality of AIDS looking at Paul Reed's Facing It, a Novel of AIDS; David Feinberg's Eighty Sixed and Spontaneous Combustion; and Paul Monette's Afterlife and Halfway Home and how a few novels did manage to resist the apocalyptic dominant rhetoric of AIDS. The book also discusses the difficulties of publishing AIDS novels by people of color and such writers as E. Lynn Harris and Steve Corbin. Telling Time includes a comprehensive annotated bibliography of all American AIDS novels published from 1982-1992 as a reference guide for further reading.

Letters Nursi, 2008-11-01 Written by a celebrated Islamic scholar to his students in Turkey after his political exile in 1925, these letters follow the long established traditions of correspondence between spiritual masters and their students in remote lands. Both expressions of friendship and long distance tutorials on points of scholarly debate, most of the letters are answers to questions about theology and hold forth on such matters as the nature of hell, the suffering of innocents, the miracles of Prophet Muhammad, and the divine purpose of the universe.

The Ocean of the Soul Ritter, 2021-12-28 The Ocean of the Soul is one of the great works of the German Orientalist Hellmut Ritter (1892-1971). It presents a comprehensive analysis of the writings of the mystical Persian poet Farid al-Din A'r who is thought to have died at an advanced age in April 1221 when the Mongols destroyed his home city of Nishapur in the north east of Iran. The book, which resulted from decades of investigation of literary and historical sources, was first published in 1955 and has since remained unsurpassed, not only as the definitive study of A'r's world of ideas but as an indispensable guide to understanding pre-modern Islamic literature in general. Quoting at length from A'r and other Islamic sources, Ritter sketches an extraordinarily vivid portrait of the Islamic attitude toward life, characteristic developments in pious and ascetic circles, and in conclusion, various dominant mystical currents of thought and feeling. Special attention is given to a wide range of views on love, love in all its manifestations including homosexuality, and the commonplace self-adoration of good-looking youths. Ritter's approach is throughout based on precise philological interpretation of primary sources, several of which he has himself made available in critical editions.

The Words Said Nursi, 2005 The Words forms the first part of the Risale-i Nur collection, an approximately 6,000-page Qur'anic commentary. In this commentary, Bediüzzaman Said Nursi's main concern is how to save and strengthen one's religious belief when confronted with the current prevalent materialist philosophy. It does not explain when or why a verse was revealed but rather the truth that it represents. Subjects discussed are God, resurrection, prophethood, destiny, ego worship, and how the truth of these matters is revealed through nature. The author also analyzes naturalist and materialist philosophy as well as scientific theories and findings and refutes them based on evidence that is clearly apparent in nature itself.

Letters, 1928-1932 Said Nursi, 1994

Queer Beauty Whitney Davis, 2010-08-26 The pioneering work of Johann Winckelmann (1717-1768) identified a homoerotic appreciation of male beauty in classical Greek sculpture, a fascination that had endured in Western art since the Greeks. Yet after Winckelmann, the value even the possibility of art's queer beauty was often denied. Several theorists, notably the philosopher Immanuel Kant, broke sexual attraction and aesthetic appreciation into separate or dueling domains. In turn, sexual desire and aesthetic pleasure had to be profoundly rethought by later writers Whitney Davis follows how such innovative thinkers as John Addington Symonds Michel Foucault and Richard Wollheim rejoined these two domains reclaiming earlier insights about the mutual implication of sexuality and aesthetics Addressing texts by Arthur Schopenhauer Charles Darwin Oscar Wilde Vernon Lee and Sigmund Freud among many others Davis criticizes modern approaches such as Kantian idealism Darwinism psychoanalysis and analytic aesthetics for either reducing aesthetics to a question of sexuality or for removing sexuality from the aesthetic field altogether Despite these schematic reductions sexuality always returns to aesthetics and aesthetic considerations always recur in sexuality Davis particularly emphasizes the way in which philosophies of art since the late eighteenth century have responded to nonstandard sexuality especially homoeroticism and how theories of nonstandard sexuality have drawn on aesthetics in significant ways Many imaginative and penetrating critics have wrestled productively though often inconclusively and against themselves with the aesthetic making of sexual life and new forms of art made from reconstituted sexualities Through a critique that confronts history philosophy science psychology and dominant theories of art and sexuality Davis challenges privileged types of sexual and aesthetic creation imagined in modern culture and assumed today

Poetics of the Iconotext Liliane Louvel, 2011 Poetics of the Iconotext makes available for the first time in English the theories of the respected French text image specialist Professor Liliane Louvel A consolidation of the most significant theoretical materials of Louvel's two acclaimed books L'Œil du Texte Texte et image dans la littérature anglophone and Texte Image Images à lire textes à voir this newly conceived work introduces English readers to the most current thinking in French text image theory and visual studies Focusing on the full spectrum of text image relations from medieval illuminated manuscripts to digital books Louvel begins by introducing key terms and situating her work in the context of significant debates in text image studies Part II introduces Louvel's typology of pictorial saturation through which she establishes a continuum along which to measure the effect of the most figurative to the most literal images upon writerly and readerly textual spaces Part III adopts a phenomenological approach towards the reading viewing experience as expressed in conceptual categories that include the trace focal range synesthesia and rhythm and speed The result is a provocative interplay of the categorical and the subjective that invites readers to think at once more precisely and more inventively about texts images and the intersections between the two Provided by publisher

Liberated Traditionalism Ronald B. Allen, Beverly Allen, 2009-07-01 In the struggle between the sexes Ronald and Beverly Allen are peacemakers With feminists they feel fully the past and present pain the yearning for new freedom and fulfillment But they also trust the Bible the source for all that is oldest and best in male female traditions To open your mind to what really matters in the women's movement the Allens take you everywhere to the incomparable events in Eden and to Paul's perplexing directives in the New Testament to Betty Friedan in the sixties and a different Betty Friedan in the eighties to Sarah and Steinem to Deborah and deBeauvoir to Proverbs 31 and Archie Bunker The result is a call to balance to help you rise from the ruts of injustice and insensitivity and yet stay in the safe confines of God's design The Hidden and the Manifest Hart, David Bentley, 2017 Rowan Williams says that David Bentley Hart can always be relied on to offer a perspective on the Christian faith that is both profound and unexpected The Hidden and the Manifest a new collection of this brilliant scholar's work contains twenty essays by Hart on theology and metaphysics Spanning Hart's career both topically and over time these essays cover such subjects as the Orthodox understanding of Eucharistic sacrifice the metaphysics of Paradise Lost Christianity modernity and freedom death final judgment and the meaning of life and many more Dorian Gray Oscar Wilde, 1909 Complete Works Oscar Wilde, 1909
