Hill,2017-12-20 Although centrally focused on varieties of friendship and love in Troilus and Criseyde the discussion in Chaucer's Neoplatonism includes the dream visions as well as aspects of The

Canterbury Tales It lays out Chaucer's Boethian inspired cognitive approach drawn mainly from Book V of the Consolatio to whatever subject he treats Far from courting skepticism Chaucer gathers many variants of such matters as love friendship and community within a meditative mode that assess better and worse instances He does so to illuminate a fuller sense of the forms that respectively underlie particular manifestations of love joy friendship or community That process is both cognitive and aesthetic in that beauty and truth appear more fully as one assess both better and worse instances of an idea or of an experience Chapters on the dream visions establish Chaucer's reasonable belief in the truth value of fictions however grounded on exaggerated and mixed tidings of truth and falsehood Chapters on Troilus and Criseyde examine relationships between the main characters given the place of noble friendship within an initially promising but then tragic love story The drama of those relationships become Chaucer's major claim to fame before the tales of Canterbury where for meditative purposes he gathers various gestures toward community among the dramatically interacting pilgrims while also exploring the dynamics of reconciliation Pilgrim's tale ,1823 Len Jenkin's Theatre Robert J. Andreach,2011 Early in his career Len Jenkin identified two qualities that theatre should have wonder and heart Imagination creates wonder by transforming nature to suggest more than nature Love engages the heart on the quest to experience the wonder for though Jenkin is an experimental playwright his plays are not abstruse symbols They are tales that take salesmen and actresses historical figures and fictional characters through a Stein landscape and a Kafka story pop culture and recreated scenes from the Bible and The Canterbury Tales The Aeneid and Headlong Hall to an amusement park ride and a penal colony a flophouse and a garden Bodacious verbal and visual images build in power until they soar as pilgrims tell tales to pass the night while waiting to
