Revue Dhistoire Moderne Et Contemp Volume 21:

One Hundred Years of Socialism Donald Sassoon, 2010-07-30 On 14 July 1889 the centenary of the French Revolution socialist parties from all corners of Europe met in Paris On the same day in the same city the Exposition Universelle was launched to mark the achievements of capitalist production The two events symbolized the beginning of the epic struggle between socialism and capitalism in Europe In this comprehensive study of a century of socialism the author traces the fortunes of the political parties of the Left in Western Europe From the rise of the Bolsheviks to the fall of the Berlin wall from the Second International through two world wars to the Cold War and the birth of the welfare state from the working class militancy and student uprisings of the 1960s through the revival of feminism and the arrival of green politics to the reluctant embrace of market economics en route to the millennium Donald Sassoon charts the course of socialism across 14 countries He shows that throughout their history the fortunes of socialism and capitalism have been inextricably linked They have grown up side by side each one challenging and seeking to destroy yet nourishing and shaping the other The Historiography of Contemporary Science and Technology Thomas Söderquist, 2013-01-11 More than ninety percent of all scientific history has been made during the last half century So far however only a fraction of historical scholarship has dealt with this period Merely a decade ago most scientific historians considered recent science the scientific culture created lived and remembered by contemporary scientists an area of study best left to the historical actors themselves Revue d'histoire moderne et contemporaine ,1910 The End of the French Intellectual Shlomo Sand, 2018-04-10 Internationally acclaimed Israeli historian Shlomo Sand made his mark with books such as The Invention of the Jewish People and The Invention of the Land of Israel Returning here to an early fascination he turns his attention to the figure of the French intellectual From his student years in Paris Sand has repeatedly come up against the great French thinkers He has an intimate knowledge of the Parisian intellectual world and its little secrets on which he draws to overturn certain myths attaching to the figure of the intellectual that France prides itself on having invented Mixing reminiscence and analysis he revisits a history that from the Dreyfus Affair through to Charlie Hebdo seems to him that of a long decline As a long time admirer of Zola Sartre and Camus Sand is staggered to see what the French intellectual has become today in such characters as Michel Houellebecq Eric Zemmour and Alain Finkielkraut In a work that gives no quarter and focuses particularly on the Judeophobia and Islamophobia of the elites he casts on the French intellectual scene a gaze that is both disabused and mordant The French Wars of Religion, 1562-1629 Mack P. Holt, 1995-10-19 A new look at the French wars of religion designed for undergraduate students and general readers Napoleon Geoffrey Ellis, 2014-06-06 This invaluable account provides an excellent introduction to the nature and mechanics of Napoleon's power and how he used it It explores Napoleon's rise to fame as a soldier of the French Revolution and his aims and achievements as first consul and emperor during the years 1799-1815 Bulletin of Bibliography and Dramatic Index ,1923 Learning on the Shop Floor Bert De

Munck, Steven L. Kaplan, Hugo Soly, 2007-12-01 Apprenticeship or vocational training is a subject of lively debate Economic historians tend to see apprenticeship as a purely economic phenomenon as an incomplete contract in need of legal and institutional enforcement mechanisms The contributors to this volume have adopted a broader perspective They regard learning on the shop floor as a complex social and cultural process to be situated in an ever changing historical context The results are surprising The authors convincingly show that research on apprenticeship and learning on the shop floor is intimately associated with migration patterns family economy and household strategies gender perspectives urban identities and general educational and pedagogical contexts IBSS: Political Science: 2004 Vol.52 The British Library of Political and Economic Science, 2004-12 First published in 1952 the International Bibliography of the Social Sciences anthropology economics political science and sociology is well established as a major bibliographic reference for students researchers and librarians in the social sciences worldwide Key features Authority Rigorous standards are applied to make the IBSS the most authoritative selective bibliography ever produced Articles and books are selected on merit by some of the world's most expert librarians and academics Breadth Today the IBSS covers over 2000 journals more than any other comparable resource The latest monograph publications are also included International Coverage The IBSS reviews scholarship published in over thirty languages including publications from Eastern Europe and the developing world User friendly organization all non English titles are word sections Extensive author subject and place name indexes are provided in both English and French

Jewish Workers and the Labour Movement Karin Hofmeester, 2017-05-15 During the late nineteenth century many Jewish workers and intellectuals considered their integration into the general labour movement as a good way to counter the double disadvantage they suffered in society as Jews and workers Whilst in Amsterdam this process encountered few obstacles it was more problematical in London and Paris Through a detailed examination of the collaborative efforts of Jewish labour in these three cities Jewish Workers and the Labour Movement reveals the multi layered and unique position of Jewish workers in the labour market It shows how various factors such as economic change political upheaval state intervention and anti-Semitism all affected the pace of integration and draws conclusions that highlight the similarities as well as the differences between the efforts of Jewish workers to improve their lot in France Britain and Holland
