Revue Dhistoire Moderne Et Contemp Volume 22:

Revue d'histoire moderne et contemporaine, 1902 Eurafrica Peo Hansen, Stefan Jonsson, 2014-10-23 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com In order to think theoretically about our global age it is important to understand how the global has been conceived historically Eurafrica was an intellectual endeavor and political project that from the 1920s saw Europe's future survival its continued role in history as completely bound up with Europe's successful merger with Africa In its time the concept of Eurafrica was tremendously influential in the process of European integration Today the project is largely forgotten yet the idea continues to influence EU policy towards its African partner The book will recover a critical conception of the nexus between Europe and Africa a relationship of significance across the humanities and social sciences In assessing this historical concept the authors shed light on the process of European integration African decolonization and the current conflictual relationship between Europe and Africa France in the Era of Fascism Brian Jenkins, 2007-04-01 France's response to the rise of European fascism during the 1930s and subsequently to the Nazi occupation 1940-44 has been a difficult subject for the nation's historians The consensus amongst leading French authorities on the period has been the claim that France was largely immune to fascism in the 1930s and that the Vichy regime was an aberration produced by defeat and occupation Over the last 30 years this position has gradually been undermined mainly through the work of foreign scholars but it nonetheless remains intact This volume brings together for the first time the leading critics of the standard French interpretation who have used these essays to refine and update their positions or to move the debate onto new terrain

Liquid Empire Corey Ross, 2024-07-09 A bold new account of European imperialism told through the history of water In the nineteenth and twentieth centuries a handful of powerful European states controlled more than a third of the land surface of the planet These sprawling empires encompassed not only rainforests deserts and savannahs but also some of the world's most magnificent rivers lakes marshes and seas Liquid Empire tells the story of how the waters of the colonial world shaped the history of imperialism and how this imperial past still haunts us today Spanning the major European empires of the period Corey Ross describes how new ideas technologies and institutions transformed human engagements with water and how the natural world was reshaped in the process Water was a realm of imperial power whose control and distribution were closely bound up with colonial hierarchies and inequalities but this vital natural resource could never be fully tamed Ross vividly portrays the efforts of officials engineers fisherfolk and farmers to exploit water and highlights its crucial role in the making and unmaking of the colonial order Revealing how the legacies of empire have persisted long after colonialism ebbed away Liquid Empire provides needed historical perspective on the crises engulfing the world's waters particularly in the Global South where billions of people are faced with mounting water shortages rising flood risks and the relentless depletion of sea life Sea of Troubles Ian Rutledge, 2023-10-17 In the mid eighteenth century most of the Mediterranean coastline and its hinterlands were controlled by the Ottoman Empire a vast Islamic power regarded by Christian Europe with awe and fear By the end of the First World War however this great civilisation had been completely subjugated and its territories occupied by European powers Sea of Troubles is the definitive account of the European conquest of the Levant and North Africa over three centuries Ian Rutledge reveals the intense imperial rivalry between six European powers Britain France Italy Spain Austria Hungary and Russia who all jostled for control of the trade lands and wealth of the Islamic Mediterranean The competition between these states made their conquest a far more difficult and extended task than they encountered elsewhere in the world Yet as new contenders entered the contest and as rivalries intensified in the early twentieth century events would spiral out of control as the continent headed towards the First World War Nouvelle

Persson, 2023-07-31 This interdisciplinary collection of essays brings together scholars in the fields of art history theatre visual culture and literature to explore intersections between the European avant-garde c. 1880-1945 and themes of health and hygiene such as illness contagion cleanliness and contamination Examining the artistic oeuvres of some of the canonical names of modern art including Edgar Degas Edvard Munch Pablo Picasso George Orwell Marcel Duchamp and Antonin Artaud this book investigates instances where the heightened political social and cultural currencies embedded within issues of hygiene and contagion have been mobilised and subversively exploited to fuel the critical strategy at play This edited volume promotes an interdisciplinary and socio-historically contextualised understanding of the criticality of the avant-garde gesture and cultivates scholarship that moves beyond the limits of traditional academic subjects to produce innovative and thought-provoking connections and interrelations across various fields The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history literature theatre cultural studies modern history medical humanities and visual culture Histories of Surveillance from Antiquity to the Digital Era Andreas Marklund, Laura Skouvig, 2021-07-27 Deploying empirical studies spanning from early Imperial China to the present day 17 scholars from across the globe explore the history of surveillance with special attention to the mechanisms of power that impel the concept of surveillance in society By delving into a broad range of historical periods and contexts the book sheds new light on surveillance as a societal phenomenon offering 10 in depth applied analyses that revolve around two main questions Who are the central actors in the history of surveillance What kinds of phenomena have been deemed eligible for surveillance for example information flows political movements border crossing trade interacting with foreign states workplace relations gender relations and sexuality French XX Bibliography William J. Thompson, 2006-09 Provides a listing available of books articles and book reviews concerned with French literature since 1885 This work is a reference source in the study of modern French literature and culture The bibliography is divided into three major divisions general studies author subjects arranged alphabetically and cinema Merovingian Mortuary Archaeology and the Making of the Early Middle Ages Bonnie Effros, 2003-03-03 Clothing jewelry animal remains ceramics coins and weaponry are among the artifacts that have been discovered in graves in Gaul dating from the fifth to eighth century Those who have unearthed them from the middle ages to the present have speculated widely on their meaning This authoritative book makes a major contribution to the study of death and burial in late antique and early medieval society with its long overdue systematic discussion of this mortuary evidence Tracing the history of Merovingian archaeology within its cultural and intellectual context for the first time Effros exposes biases and prejudices that have colored previous interpretations of these burial sites and assesses what contemporary archaeology can tell us about the Frankish kingdoms Working at the intersection of history and archaeology and drawing from anthropology and art history Effros emphasizes in particular the effects of historical events and intellectual movements on French and German antiquarian and archaeological studies of these grave goods Her discussion traces the evolution of concepts of nationhood race and culture and shows how these concepts helped shape an understanding of the past Effros then turns to contemporary multidisciplinary methodologies and finds that we are still limited by the types of information that can be readily gleaned from physical and written sources of Merovingian graves For example since material evidence found in the graves of elite families and particularly elite men is more plentiful and noteworthy mortuary goods do not speak as directly to the conditions in which women and the poor lived The clarity and sophistication with which Effros discusses the methods and results of European archaeology is a compelling demonstration of the impact of nationalist ideologies on a single discipline and of the struggle toward the more pluralistic vision that has developed in the post war years
