Rhetoric And Human Understanding:

Rhetoric and Human Consciousness Craig R. Smith, 2017-04-12 For two decades students and instructors have relied on award winning author Craig Smith's detailed description and analysis of rhetorical theories and the historical contexts for major thinkers who advanced them. He employs key themes from important philosophical schools in this well researched chronicle of rhetoric and human consciousness. One is that rhetoric is a response to uncertainty. The modern philosophers like the naturalists of ancient Greece and the Scholastics who preceded them tried to end uncertainty by combining the discoveries of science and psychology with rationalism. Their aim was progress and a consensus among experts as to what truth is. However where modernism proved ineffective rhetoric was revived to fill the breach. Another significant theme is that different conceptions of human consciousness lead to different theories of rhetoric and for every major school of thought another school of thought forms in reaction. Classic and contemporary examples demonstrate the usefulness of rhetorical theory especially its ability to inform and guide. By providing probes for rhetorical criticism discussions also demonstrate that rhetorical criticism illustrates, verifies and refines rhetorical theory. Thus the synergistic relationship between theory and criticism in rhetoric is no different than in other arts. Theory informs practice analysis of successful practice refines theory. Smith's absorbing study has been expanded to include thorough treatments of rhetoric in the Romantic Era, feminist and queer theory and historical context for the creation of rhetorical theory and its use in public address.

Rhetoric and Human Understanding Ann Gill, 1994 This book introduces basic concepts of human signification, explains both primal and contemporary rhetoric, experience, offers challenges to common sense understandings.

Rhetoric and Human Consciousness Craig R. Smith, 2012-12-04 The latest edition of Rhetoric and Human Consciousness remains a well researched, accessible examination of rhetorical theory in Western civilization. Smith's coverage of the major figures who advanced rhetoric is strengthened by his keen analysis of developments in rhetorical theory that resulted from its interaction with other disciplines and the cultures surrounding it. The dialectic between rhetoric and other disciplines, notably philosophy and psychology, illuminate evolving definitions of rhetoric from myth and display to persuasion and symbolic inducement. Well chosen, engaging examples demonstrate how rhetoric can find truths particularly at times when science and reason fail to solve important human crises. Paramount to this well wrought survey is Smith's ability to show that rhetorical criticism illustrates, verifies and refines rhetorical theory. Thus the synergistic relationship between theory and criticism in rhetoric is no different than in other arts. Chief among the Fourth Edition's enhancements are expanded discussions of the historical context for the creation of rhetorical theory and its use in public address, additional coverage of Isocrates, Cicero, Machiavelli, Kenneth Burke and Michel Foucault, new material on the rhetoric of civil religion, ideological criticism, constitutive discourse and feminist rhetorical theory and many fresh examples. Each chapter ends with questions that sharpen readers' retention of concepts and the ability to apply those to everyday life.
