

SOCIOLOGICAL IMAGINATION

Sociological imagination refers to a way of seeing the world which transcends the individual and takes a sociological view of the world.

DEFINITION

Mills defined the sociological imagination as the ability to "grasp history and biography and the relations between the two within society." (Mills, 1959)

EXAMPLES

1. Recognizing the connections between our personal experiences (biography) and larger socio-historic forces (history).
2. Learning to identify when certain phenomena are the result of structural forces acting upon an individual.
3. Learning to isolate and identify all the social forces acting upon an individual.

Rhetoric As Social Imagination

Glenn Deer

Rhetoric As Social Imagination:

Rhetoric as Social Imagination: explorations in Interpersonal g dillon, 1986 Rhetoric, Sophistry, Pragmatism Steven Mailloux, 1995-05-18 The anti sceptical relativism and self conscious rhetoric of the pragmatist tradition which began with the Older Sophists of Ancient Greece and developed through an American tradition including William James and John Dewey has attracted new attention in the context of late twentieth century postmodernist thought At the same time there has been a more general renewal of interest across a wide range of humanistic and social science disciplines in rhetoric itself language use writing and speaking persuasion figurative language and the effect of texts This book written by leading scholars explores the various ways in which rhetoric sophistry and pragmatism overlap in their current theoretical and political implications and demonstrates how they contribute both to a rethinking of the human sciences within the academy and to larger debates over cultural politics

Reason and Rhetoric in the Philosophy of Hobbes Quentin Skinner, 1996-02-22 An outstanding new interpretation of Hobbes one of the most difficult and challenging of political philosophers

Postmodern Canadian Fiction and the Rhetoric of Authority Glenn Deer, 1994-02-08 Deer illuminates the psychology of family relations and power struggles in Sheila Watson s The Double Hook the surrealism and spirit of sexual rebellion in Leonard Cohen s Beautiful Losers the tensions between private psychology and public politics in Dave Godfrey s The New Ancestors the implied male sympathies in the guise of a feminist persona in Robert Kroetsch s Badlands the playful yet didactic uses of history in George Bowering s Burning Water and the paradoxes of power in Margaret Atwood s dystopia The Handmaid s Tale Inspired by the philosophies of rhetoric and social discourse in the work of Kenneth Burke Roger Fowler Wayne Booth and George Dillon Deer forcefully engages the politics of postmodernism in its theoretical and literary dimensions by reading against the grain of canonizing criticism He provides a detailed discussion of the connections between postmodern literary forms and world views and focuses particularly on how novels are scripted to influence readers and what kinds of world and social views are being promoted Combining the ethical focus of Wayne Booth and Gerald Graff with elements of deconstruction Deer s specialized readings of the novels imaginatively construct the addresser addressee relations of texts and explicate narrative authority This study will be of particular interest to students of Canadian literature and literary politics as well as scholars of rhetorical theory and criticism

Rhetoric in an Antifoundational World Professor Michael F Bernard-Donals, Michael F. Bernard-Donals, Richard R. Glejzer, 1998-01-01 In this brilliant collection literary scholars philosophers and teachers inquire into the connections between antifoundational philosophy and the rhetorical tradition What happens to literary studies and theory when traditional philosophical foundations are disavowed What happens to the study of teaching and writing when antifoundationalism is accepted What strategies for human understanding are possible when the weaknesses of antifoundationalism are identified This volume offers answers in classic essays by such thinkers as Richard Rorty Terry Eagleton and Stanley Fish and in many new essays never published before The contributors to this book explore the nexus of antifoundationalism and rhetoric critique that nexus and suggest a number of pedagogical and theoretical alternatives The editors place these statements into a context that is both critical and evaluative and they provide for voices that dissent from the antifoundational perspective and that connect specific practical pedagogies to the broader philosophical statements For those with an interest in rhetoric philosophy comparative literature or the teaching of composition this book sets forth a wealth of thought provoking ideas I have nothing but praise for this work a masterful treatment of the question What positive intellectual projects are possible within a world that radically questions the existence of philosophical foundations Steven Mailloux University of California Irvine

Rhetorics, Poetics, and Cultures James A. Berlin, 2003 Rhetorics Poetics and Cultures is James Berlin's most comprehensive effort to refigure the field of English Studies Here in his last book Berlin both historically situates and recovers for today the tools and insights of rhetoric displaced and marginalized he argues by the allegedly disinterested study of aesthetic texts in the college English department Berlin sees rhetoric as offering a unique perspective on the current disciplinary crisis complementing the challenging perspectives offered by postmodern literary theory and cultural studies Taking into account the political and intellectual issues at stake and the relation of these issues to economic and social transformations Berlin argues for a pedagogy that makes the English studies classroom the center of disciplinary activities the point at which theory practice and democratic politics intersect This new educational approach organized around text interpretation and production not one or the other exclusively as before prepares students for work democratic politics and consumer culture today by providing a revised conception of both reading and writing as acts of textual interpretation it also gives students tools to critique the socially constructed politically charged reality of classroom college and culture This new edition of Rhetorics Poetics and Cultures includes JAC response essays by Linda Brodkey Patricia Harkin Susan Miller John Trimbur and Victor J Vitanza as well as an afterword by Janice M Lauer These essays situate Berlin's work in personal pedagogical and political contexts that highlight the continuing importance of his work for understanding contemporary disciplinary practice

Rhetorics and Hermeneutics James D. Hester, David Hester, 2004-01-01 This collection of essays provides original studies of various New Testament texts read through the eyes of rhetorical criticism as well as a tribute to the continuing influence of Wilhelm Wuellner and his work

Rhetoric as Social Imagination George L. Dillon, 1986 International Perspectives on Creative Writing in Second Language Education Bee Chamcharatsri, Atsushi Iida, 2022-02-10 This volume explores the instructional use of creative writing in secondary and post secondary contexts to enhance students language proficiency and expression in English as a second or foreign language ESL EFL Offering a diverse range of perspectives from scholars and practitioners involved in English language teaching ELT globally International Perspectives on Creative Writing in Second Language Education tackles foundational questions around why fiction and creative writing have been traditionally omitted from ESL and EFL curricula By drawing on empirical research and first hand experience contributors showcase a range of creative genres including autobiography scriptwriting poetry and e Portfolios and provide new insight into the benefits of second language creative writing for learners language proficiency emotional expression and identity development The volume makes a unique contribution to the field of second language writing by highlighting the breadth of second language users throughout the world and foregrounding links between identity learning and ESL EFL writing This insightful volume will be of particular interest to postgraduate students researchers and academics in the fields of ESL EFL learning composition studies and second language acquisition SLA Those with a focus on the use of creative writing in classrooms more broadly will also find the book of interest

Canadian Culinary Imaginations Shelley Boyd, Dorothy Barenscoff, 2022-03-30 In the twenty first century food is media it is not just on plates but in literature and on screens displayed in galleries studios and public places Canadian Culinary Imaginations provokes new conversations about the food related concepts memories emotions cultures practices and tastes that make Canada unique This collection brings together academics writers artists journalists and curators to discuss how food mediates our experiences of the nation and the world Together the contributors reveal that culinary imaginations reflect and produce the diverse bodies contexts places communities traditions and environments that Canadians inhabit as well as their personal and artistic sensibilities Arranged in four thematic sections Indigeneity and foodways urban suburban and rural environments cultural and national lineages and subversions of categories the essays in this collection indulge a growing appetite for conversations about creative engagements with food and the world at large As the essays and images in Canadian Culinary Imaginations demonstrate food is more than sustenance as language and as visual and material culture it holds the power to represent and remake the world in unexpected ways
