Latin Rhetoric and Education in the Middle Ages and Renaissance James J. Murphy, 2023-07-21. The essays in this volume deal with the history of rhetoric and education for the thousand years from the early Middle Ages to the European Renaissance. They represent the author's pioneering efforts over four decades to piece together a kind of mosaic which will provide elements necessary to construct a history of that thousand years of language activity. Some essays deal with individual writers like Giles of Rome, Peter Ramus, Gulielmus Traversanus, or Antonio Nebrija; some focus on the influence of Cicero and Quintilian and other ancient sources. The essays dealing specifically with education open up different inquiries into the ways language use was promoted and by whom. Others explore the relations between Latin rhetoric and medieval English literature, and finally several deal with the impact of printing, a subject still not completely understood.

Paul in the Greco-Roman World: A Handbook J. Paul Sampley, 2016-10-06. This landmark handbook, written by distinguished Pauline scholars and first published in 2003, remains the first and only work to offer lucid and insightful examinations of Paul and his world in such depth. Together, the two volumes that constitute the handbook in its much revised form provide a comprehensive reference resource for new testament scholars looking to understand the classical world in which Paul lived and worked. Each chapter provides an overview of a particular social convention, literary rhetorical topos, social practice, or cultural mores of the world in which Paul and his audiences were at home. In addition, the sections use carefully chosen examples to demonstrate how particular features of Greco-Roman culture shed light on Paul's letters and on his readers' possible perception of them. For the new edition, all the contributions have been fully revised to take into account the last ten years of methodological change, and the helpful chapter bibliographies are fully updated. Wholly new chapters cover such issues as Paul and Memory, Paul's Economics, honor and shame in Paul's writings, and the Greek novel.

Paul's Letters and Contemporary Greco-Roman Literature Paul Robertson, 2016-05-23. In this volume, Paul Robertson re-describes the form of the apostle Paul's letters in a manner that facilitates transparent empirical comparison with texts not typically treated by biblical scholars. Paul's letters are best described by a set of literary characteristics shared by certain Greco-Roman texts, particularly those of Epictetus and Philodemus. Paul Robertson theorizes a new taxonomy of Greco-Roman literature that groups Paul's letters together with certain Greco-Roman ethical philosophical texts written at a roughly contemporary time in the ancient Mediterranean. This particular grouping, termed a socio-literary sphere, is defined by the shared form, content, and social purpose of its constituent texts, as well as certain general similarities between their texts and authors.

Encyclopedia of Rhetoric and Composition Theresa Enos, 2013-10-08. First Published in 1996, Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informal company.

Rhetoric and Theology William M. Wright, 2009. This monograph on John 9 makes extensive use of premodern Christian exegesis as a resource for New Testament studies The study reframes the existing critique of the two level reading of John 9 as allegory in terms of premodern exegetical practices It offers a hermeneutical critique of the two level reading strategy as a kind of figural exegesis rather than historical reconstruction through an extensive comparison with Augustine's interpretation of John 9 A review of several premodern Christian readings of John 9 suggests an alternative way of understanding this account in terms of Greco Roman rhetoric John 9 resembles the rhetorical argumentation associated with chreia elaboration and the complete argument to display Jesus identity as the Light of the World This analysis illustrates the inseparability of form and content rhetoric and theology in the Fourth Gospel
