Richard Crashaw An Annotated Bibliography Of Criticism 1632 198:

The Oxford Handbook of Early Modern English Literature and Religion Andrew Hiscock, Helen Wilcox, 2017-06-22
This pioneering Handbook offers a comprehensive consideration of the dynamic relationship between English literature and religion in the early modern period. The sixteenth and seventeenth centuries were the most turbulent times in the history of the British church and perhaps as a result produced some of the greatest devotional poetry, sermons, polemics, and epics of literature in English. The early modern interaction of rhetoric and faith is addressed in thirty-nine chapters of original research divided into five sections. The first analyses the changes within the church from the Reformation to the establishment of the Church of England, the phenomenon of puritanism, and the rise of non-conformity. The second section discusses ten genres in which faith was explored, including poetry, prophecy, drama, sermons, satire, and autobiographical writings. The middle section focuses on selected individual authors, among them Thomas More, Christopher Marlowe, John Donne, Lucy Hutchinson, and John Milton. Since authors never write in isolation, the fourth section examines a range of communities in which writers interpreted their faith: lay and religious households, sectarian groups including the Quakers, clusters of religious exiles, Jewish and Islamic communities, and those who settled in the new world. Finally, the fifth section considers some key topics and debates in early modern religious literature, ranging from ideas of authority and the relationship of body and soul to death, judgment, and eternity. The Handbook is framed by a succinct introduction, a chronology of religious and literary landmarks, a guide for new researchers in this field, and a full bibliography of primary and secondary texts relating to early modern English literature and religion.

Richard Crashaw John Richard Roberts, 1985. Roberts provides a fully annotated, comprehensive, enumerative bibliography of the criticism on Richard Crashaw that contains, in addition to editions of his poetry, all books, parts of books, length studies, monographs, and critical biographical and bibliographical essays on the poet.

English Renaissance Rhetoric and Poetics Heinrich F. Plett, 2023-08-14. This volume is the first comprehensive reference work on English Renaissance rhetoric and poetics. It is arranged in four sections: A bibliographies, B primary sources, C secondary sources, D indices. Section B lists more than 500 books on rhetoric and poetics published in the British Isles and abroad between 1479 and 1660. Detailed information is provided on each of them: transcription of the title page of the editio princeps, call number of the library copy consulted, further historical and modern editions, together with the relevant secondary literature. Section C covers the whole range of applied rhetoric and poetics, totalling some 2,000 titles between 1900 and 1994. It deals systematically with such topics as: General Studies, Rhetorical Genres and Rhetoric, Poetics, and Individual Authors. An introductory essay outlines the principles of the bibliography.

John Donne John Richard Roberts, 2004. Included here are nearly 1,600 entries of descriptive annotations, wherein Roberts quotes extensively from each item in order to convey a sense of its approach and the level of its critical sophistication and complexity. Entries are organized chronologically and within each year alphabetically by author.
