Richard Misrach The Sky:

The Sky Book Richard Misrach, Rebecca Solnit, 2000 Richard Misrach has redefined contemporary landscape photography with his images of the splendor and destruction of the American West Each of his cantos considers another chapter in the epic story of humankind and the land Far from the edenic pristine landscapes of early practitioners such as Carleton Watkins Eadweard Muybridge and Ansel Adams Misrach's compelling and often troubling images of the American West pose important questions about human impact on the natural world Beneath the remarkable beauty of Misrach's color photographs are scenes of floods fires nuclear testing grounds dead animals and the debris of society The photographs in The Sky Book comprise Richard Misrach's most recent most ambitious series which transposes his narrative from the land to the sky The images mediate between document and abstraction reality and metaphor Drawing on photography's documentary tradition Misrach contextualizes each photograph with respect to time and place rooting the celestial realm firmly in the earthly and political one In this way his images are reminiscent of the efforts of nineteenth century expeditionary photographers to record the natural resources of the frontier At the same time Misrach's sky pictures are a quiet meditation and a study of ephemerality light and color They evoke a legacy of abstraction in art and photography that includes Alfred Stieglitz's Equivalents and Mark Rothko's color field paintings Storming the Gates of Paradise Rebecca Solnit, 2007-06-18

This anthology of Solnit's essential essays from the past ten years takes the reader from the Pyrenees to the U S Mexican border from open sky to the deepest mines and offers a panoramic world view enriched by the author's characteristically provocative inspiring and hopeful observations The Ongoing Moment Geoff Dyer, 2009-11-11 Great photographs change the way we see the world The Ongoing Moment changes the way we look at both Focusing on the ways in which canonical figures like Alfred Stieglitz Paul Strand Walker Evans Andr Kert sz Edward Weston Dorothea Lange Diane Arbus and William Eggleston have photographed the same things barber shops benches hands roads signs award winning writer Geoff Dyer seeks to identify their signature styles In doing so he constructs a narrative in which these photographers many of whom never met constantly encounter one another The result is a kaleidoscopic work of extraordinary originality and insight
