Screenwriting Andrew Horton, Julian Hoxter, 2014-08-23 Screenwriters often joke that no one ever paid a dollar at a movie theater to watch a screenplay Yet the screenplay is where a movie begins determining whether a production gets the green light from its financial backers and wins approval from its audience This innovative volume gives readers a comprehensive portrait of the art and business of screenwriting while showing how the role of the screenwriter has evolved over the years Reaching back to the early days of Hollywood when moonlighting novelists playwrights and journalists were first hired to write scenarios and photoplays Screenwriting illuminates the profound ways that screenwriters have contributed to the films we love This book explores the social political and economic implications of the changing craft of American screenwriting from the silent screen through the classical Hollywood years the rise of independent cinema and on to the contemporary global multi media marketplace From The Birth of a Nation 1915 Gone With the Wind 1939 and Gentleman's Agreement 1947 to Chinatown 1974 American Beauty 1999 and Lost in Translation 2003 each project began as writers with pen and ink typewriters or computers captured the hopes and dreams the nightmares and concerns of the periods in which they were writing As the contributors take us behind the silver screen to chronicle the history of screenwriting they spotlight a range of key screenplays that changed the game in Hollywood and beyond With original essays from both distinguished film scholars and accomplished screenwriters Screenwriting is sure to fascinate anyone with an interest in Hollywood from movie buffs to industry professionals

Method Acting and Its Discontents Shonni Enelow, 2015-07-09 Method Acting and Its Discontents On American Psycho Drama provides a new understanding of a crucial chapter in American theater history Enelow's consideration of the broader cultural climate of the late 1950s and early 1960s specifically the debates within psychology and psychoanalysis the period's racial and sexual politics and the rise of mass media gives us a nuanced complex picture of Lee Strasberg and the Actors Studio and contemporaneous works of drama Combining cultural analysis dramaturgical criticism and performance theory Enelow shows how Method acting's contradictions reveal powerful tensions inside mid century notions of individual and collective identity The Literariness of Media Art Claudia Benthien,Jordis Lau,Maraïke M. Marxsen,2018-09-21 The beginning of the 20th century saw literary scholars from Russia positing a new definition for the nature of literature Within the framework of Russian Formalism the term literariness was coined The driving force behind this theoretical inquiry was the desire to identify literature and art in general as a way of revitalizing human perception which had been numbed by the automatization of everyday life The transformative power of literariness is made manifest in many media artworks by renowned artists such as Chantal Akerman Mona Hatoum Gary Hill Jenny Holzer William Kentridge Nalini Malani Bruce Nauman Martha Rosler and Lawrence Weiner The authors use literariness as a tool to analyze the aesthetics of spoken or written language within experimental film video performance moving image installations and other media based art forms This volume uses as its foundation the Russian Formalist school of literary theory with the goal of extending these theories to include contemporary concepts in film and media studies such as Neoformalism intermediality remediation and postdrama

A Line of Sight Paul Arthur,2005-01-01 Arthur English and film studies Montclair State U balances close analysis of major and lesser known films with detailed examinations of their production distribution and exhibition He addresses the avant garde's cultural significance and reexamines accepted critical categories and artistic options Rather than treating American avant garde cinema A New Pot of Gold Stephen Prince,2002-03-15 Facing an economic crisis in the 1980s Hollywood moved to control the markets of videotape pay cable and pay per view This volume examines the transformation that took the industry from the production of theatrical film to media software A Cinematic Artist Kim Knowles,2009 The American artist Man Ray was one of the most influential figures of the historical avant garde contributing significantly to the development of both Dadaism and Surrealism Whilst his pioneering work in photography assured him international acclaim his activity in other areas notably film is to this day both unknown and undervalued During the 1920s Man Ray made four short experimental films and collaborated on a host of other projects with people such as Marcel Duchamp Fernand Léger Ren Clair and Hans Richter These works along with a series of cinematic essays and home movies made during the 1920s and 1930s represent the most important contribution to the development of an alternative mode of filmmaking in the early twentieth century This book explores Man Ray's cinematic interactions from the perspective of his interdisciplinary artistic sensibility creating links between film photography painting poetry music architecture dance and sculpture By exposing his preoccupation with form and his ambiguous relationship with the politics and aesthetics of the Dada and Surrealist movements the author paints an intimate and complex portrait of Man Ray the filmmaker Riddles of the Sphinx Kimberly Lamm,2025-06-12 A classic of feminist avant garde cinema Laura Mulvey and Peter Wollen's Riddles of the Sphinx 1977 follows the life of Louise Dinah Stabb a white middle class woman living in London in the 1970s as she confronts the complex politics of motherhood domestic labour and work With a kaleidoscopic array of cinematic techniques and poetic devices the film charts Louise's process as she questions her place within white patriarchal culture and finds her voice within the burgeoning Women's Liberation Movement Reading Riddles as an essay film Kimberly Lamm explores how it utilises voice sound and writing to challenge Hollywood's dominant images of women and to portray maternal care as a legitimate form of work rich in aesthetic pleasures and feminist possibilities She examines the voice of the Sphinx and connecting it to feminism's engagement with psychoanalysis argues that Mulvey and Wollen's film works through long histories of patriarchal viewing practices and creates conditions in which the full range of women's voices can be listened to heard and valued Lamm explores how Riddles the second collaboration between Mulvey and Wollen drew inspiration from Wollen's influential work on counter cinema and Mulvey's foundational writing on the male gaze Guiltless Pleasures: A David Sterritt Film Reader David Sterritt, 2005

In the Dark Room Rosanna Maule, Julie Beaulieu, 2009 This book examines Duras's contribution to contemporary cinema The dark room in the collection's title refers to one of Duras's metaphors for the writing process la chambre noire as the solitary space of literary creation the place where she struggles to project her internal shadow onto the blank page The dark room is also a metaphor for the film theater and by extension for the filmic experience Duras rejected conventional forms of cinematic address that encourage the spectator to develop a positive identification with the film's diegesis and narrative Her films create unusual rapports between image and sound diegetic and extra diegetic elements and textual and intertextual dimensions of cinematic representation In doing so they allow the film spectator to establish new connections with the screen This collection focuses on the aesthetic conceptual and political challenges involved in Duras's innovative approach to cinematic representation from an interdisciplinary perspective including film and literary theory psychoanalytic analysis music theory gender studies and post colonial criticism The book opens with a theoretical introduction to Duras's cinematic practice and its peculiar position in contemporary cinema and contemporary film theory and is divided into five parts each one devoted to a specific aspect of Duras's films the interaction between literature and cinema Part One the reconfiguration of the cinematic gaze Part Two and of the image sound relation Part Three the representation of history and memory Part Four and of cultural identity Part Five A Philosophical History of Documentary, 1960-1990 Dan Geva, 2025-08-03 A Philosophical History of Documentary 1960-1990 is the second book in a three volume set It offers a systematic hermeneutical reading of thirty definitions of Documentary from 1960 to 1990 by then a familiar already used and abused dialectical object of thought and practice The book progresses chronologically through three decades of ongoing efforts by documentarians theorists historians and philosophers to define Documentary examining the philosophical foundations ethical implications and evolving documentarological sensibilities of these definitions It also reassesses the intense ontological debates about Documentary highlighting the discourse's expanding definitional landscape Building on the first volume which examined thirty definitions from 1895 to 1959 this work weaves an intricate hermeneutical network of interconnections

among all sixty definitions It further anticipates the third volume which will analyze forty additional definitions of Documentary from 1991 to the present offering a comprehensive philosophical history of the evolution of Documentary as both concept and practice

The Modernist Screenplay Alexandra Ksenofontova, 2020-10-02 The Modernist Screenplay explores the film screenplay as a genre of modernist literature It connects the history of screenwriting for silent film to the history of literary modernism in France Germany and Russia At the same time the book considers how the screenplay responded to the modernist crisis of reason confronted mimetic representation and sought to overcome the modernist mistrust of language with the help of rhythm From the silent film projects of Bertolt Brecht to the screenwriting of Sergei Eisenstein and the poetic scripts of the surrealists The Modernist Screenplay offers a new angle on the relationship between film and literature Based on the example of modernist screenwriting the book proposes a pluralistic approach to screenplays an approach that sees film scripts both as texts embedded in film production and as literary works in their own right As a result the sheer variety of different and experimental ways to tell stories in screenplays comes to light The Modernist Screenplay explores how the earliest kind of experimental screenplays the modernist screenplays challenged normative ideas about the nature of filmmaking the nature of literary writing and the borders between the two

Alternative Scriptwriting Ken Dancyger, Jeff Rush, 2012-08-21 Alternative Scriptwriting 4E is an insightful and inspiring book on screenwriting concerned with challenging you to take creative risks with genre tone character and structure Concerned with exploring alternative approaches beyond the traditional three act structure Alternative Scriptwriting first defines conventional approach suggests alternatives then provides case studies These contemporary examples and case studies demonstrate what works what doesn't and why Because the film industry as well as the public demand greater and greater creativity one must go beyond the traditional three act restorative and predictable plot to test your limits and break new creative ground Rather than teaching writing in a tired formulaic manner this book elevates the subject and provides inspiration to reach new creative heights A Philosophy of the Screenplay Ted Nannicelli,2013

Recently scholars in a variety of disciplines including philosophy film and media studies and literary studies have become interested in the aesthetics definition and ontology of the screenplay To this end this volume addresses the fundamental philosophical questions about the nature of the screenplay What is a screenplay Is the screenplay art more specifically literature What kind of a thing is a screenplay Nannicelli argues that the screenplay is a kind of artefact as such its boundaries are determined collectively by screenwriters and its ontological nature is determined collectively by both writers and readers of screenplays Any plausible philosophical account of the screenplay must be strictly constrained by our collective creative and appreciative practices and must recognize that those practices indicate that at least some screenplays are artworks On the Camera Arts and Consecutive Matters Hollis Frampton,2015-01-30 The collected writings of artist and filmmaker Hollis Frampton including all the essays from the long unavailable Circles of Confusion along with rare additional material As Hollis Frampton's photographs and celebrated experimental films were testing the boundaries of the camera arts in the 1960s and 1970s his provocative and highly literate writings were attempting to establish an intellectually resonant form of discourse for these critically underexplored fields It was a time when artists working in diverse disciplines were beginning to pick up cameras and produce films and videotapes well before these practices were understood or embraced by institutions of contemporary art This collection of Frampton's writings presents his critical essays many written for Artforum and October along with additional material including lectures correspondence interviews and production notes and scripts It replaces and supersedes the long unavailable Circles of Confusion published in 1983 Frampton ranged widely over the visual arts in his writing and the texts in this collection display his unique approaches to photography film and video as well as the plastic and literary arts They include critically acclaimed essays on Edward Weston and Eadweard Muybridge as well as appraisals of contemporary photographers the influential essay For a Metahistory of Film along with scripts textual material and scores for his films writings on video that constitute a prehistory of the digital arts a dialogue with Carl Andre his friend and former Phillips Andover classmate from the early 1960s and two inventive almost unclassifiable pieces that are reminiscent of Borges Joyce and Beckett Off the Page Daniel Bernardi,Julian Hoxter,2017-09-12 Introduction screenwriting off the page Millennial manic crisis and change in the business of screenwriting Atop the tentpole hollywood screenwriting today Running the room screenwriting in expanded television New markets and microbudgets independent storytellers Screenwriter 2 0 the legitimization of writing for video games Conclusion scripting boundaries Papermill Joseph Antony Kalar,2006 The gritty landscape and language of the working man from a great forgotten writer
