Machines For Feeling:

Machines Abraham P. DeLeon, 2015-01-01 This book is about machines those that have been actualized fantastical imaginal machines to those deployed as metaphorical devices to describe complex social processes Machines argues that they transcend time and space to emerge through a variety of spaces and places times and histories and representations They are such an integral fabric of daily reality that their disappearance would have immediate and dire consequences for the survival of humanity They are part and parcel to our contemporary social order From labor to social theory art or consciousness literature or television to the asylums of the 19th century machines are a central figure an outgrowth of affective desire that seeks to transcend organic limitations of bodies that whither age and die Machines takes the reader on an intellectual artistic and theoretical journey weaving an interdisciplinary tale of their emergence across social cultural and artistic boundaries With the deep engagement of various texts Machines offers the reader moments of escape alternative ways to envision technology for a future yet to materialize Machines rejects the notion that technological innovations are indeed neutral propelling us to think differently about those things created under specific economic or historical paradigms Rethinking machines provides a rupture to our current technocratic impetus shining a critical light on possible alternatives to our current reality Let us sit back and take a journey through Machines holding mechanical parts as guides to possible alternative futures

Humans, Animals, Machines Glen A. Mazis, 2008-09-04 In the twenty first century the boundaries between both humans and machines and humans and animals are hotly contested and debated In Humans Animals Machines Glen A Mazis examines the increasingly blurring boundaries among the three and argues that despite their violating collisions there are ways for the three realms to work together for mutual thriving Examining Merleau Ponty Heidegger and Haraway artificial intelligence that includes MIT Embodied AI newer holistic brain research animal studies the attachment theory of psychologist Daniel Siegel literary examples aesthetic theory technology research contemporary theology physics poetry machine art Taoism and firsthand accounts of cyborg experience the book reconsiders and dares to propose a new type of ethics and ecospirituality that would do justice to the overlapping relationships among humans animals and machines

The Feelings of AI Carl Whittaker, 2025-09-11 Machines that recognize imitate and perhaps even influence emotions what sounds like science fiction has long been part of our everyday lives Voice assistants respond to frustration care robots offer comfort and social media deliberately amplify our outrage But what does it mean when technology touches on the most sensitive areas of human existence This book introduces readers to the fascinating and unsettling world of artificial emotions It explains the psychological and neurobiological foundations of feelings shows how AI analyzes them today using language facial expressions and sensors and describes how machines convincingly simulate empathy In doing so it becomes clear that users often find it difficult to distinguish between genuine compassion and perfect simulation The focus is not only on opportunities for example in medicine care education and art but also on the dangers emotional surveillance in the workplace

Machine Minds Joachim Ferdinand, 2025-01-24 Introduction In the dawn of the 21st century humanity stands at the precipice of a revolutionary transformation The rapid advancement of artificial intelligence machine learning and cognitive computing has given rise to a new era of intelligent machines capable of learning adapting and interacting with their environment in ways that were previously thought to be the exclusive domain of human beings As we hurtle towards a future where machines are increasingly integrated into every aspect of our lives we are forced to confront fundamental questions about the nature of intelligence consciousness and what it means to be human In Machine Minds Redefining Intelligence in a Post Human World we embark on a journey to explore the frontiers of artificial intelligence and its far reaching implications for our understanding of intelligence cognition and the human experience Through a multidisciplinary lens drawing on insights from computer science neuroscience philosophy and sociology this book delves into the complex and evolving relationships between humans and machines and challenges readers to rethink their assumptions about the boundaries between human and artificial intelligence As we navigate this uncharted territory we will encounter a multitude of perspectives from the theoretical foundations of machine learning and cognitive architectures to the practical applications of AI in fields such as healthcare education and transportation We will also grapple with the ethical social and existential implications of creating machines that are increasingly intelligent autonomous and interconnected and consider the potential consequences of a world where human and machine intelligence coexist collaborate and sometimes conflict Ultimately Machine Minds invites readers to join a critical conversation about the future of intelligence and to participate in shaping a world where human and artificial intelligence converge to create new possibilities challenges and opportunities for growth innovation and transformation

Use of Services for Family Planning and Infertility, United States, 1982 Gerry E. Hendershot, Marjorie C. Horn, William D. Mosher, 1988 The 1982 statistics on the use of family planning and infertility services presented in this report are preliminary results from Cycle III of the National Survey of Family Growth NSFG conducted by the National Center for Health Statistics Data were collected through personal interviews with a multistage area probability sample of 7969 women aged 15 44 A detailed series of questions was asked to obtain relatively complete estimates of the extent and type of family planning services received Statistics on family planning services are limited to women who were able to conceive 3 years before the interview date Overall 79% of currently married nonsterile women reported using some type of family planning service during the previous 3 years There were no statistically significant differences between white 79% black 75% or Hispanic 77% wives or between the 2 income groups The 1982 survey questions were more comprehensive than those of earlier cycles of the survey The annual rate of visits for family planning services in 1982 was 1077 visits 1000 women Teenagers had the highest annual visit rate 1581 1000 of any age group for all sources of family planning services combined Visit rates declined sharply with age from 1447 at ages 15 24 to 479 at ages 35 44 Similar declines with age also were found in the visit rates for white and black women separately Nevertheless the annual visit rate for black women 1334 1000 was significantly higher than that for white women 1033 The highest overall visit rate was for black women 15 19 years of age 1867 1000 Nearly 2 3 of all family planning visits were to private medical sources Teenagers of all races had higher family planning service visit rates to clinics than to private medical sources as did black women age 15 24 White women age 20 and older had higher visit rates to private medical services than to clinics Never married women had higher visit rates to clinics than currently or formerly married women Data were also collected in 1982 on use of medical services for infertility by women who had difficulty in conceiving or carrying a pregnancy to term About 1 million ever married women had 1 or more infertility visits in the 12 months before the interview During the 3 years before interview about 1 9 million women had infertility visits For all ever married women as well as for white and black women separately infertility services were more likely to be secured from private medical sources than from clinics The survey design reliability of the estimates and the terms used are explained in the technical notes
