Mad in Pursuit Robert Westerby, 1945      Mad in Pursuit Violette Leduc, Derek Coltman, 1971      Unapologetic Apologetics William A. Dembski, Jay W. Richards, 2001-01-05 Edited by William A Dembski and Jay Wesley Richards this group of former Princeton Theological Seminary students brings apologetics back into the seminary debates as they expose the influence of naturalism in theological studies plus other philosophical tenets automatically assumed in much mainline theology      The Nobel Prize Burton Feldman, 2000 Discusses the Nobel Institution in detail telling about the award and its beginnings what it means to win a Nobel Prize the fields in which it is presented who judges and how the prize is awarded and more      Stooping Towards the Absolute R B Joshi, 2018-09-10 The collection of poems aims at highlighting the cravings of the heart towards its natural abode of The Absolute All poems struggle to explain the uneasiness of the mind about the worldly matters on the eve of the seventieth year of the poet's life      American Literature in Context to 1865 Susan Castillo, 2010-12-03 American Literature in Context to 1865 discusses the issues and events that engaged American writers of the period providing original and useful readings of important literary works that demonstrate how context contributes to meaning Covers a range of genres including the myths chants and songs of indigenous cultures sermons slave narratives essays and the novels and poetry to 1865 Designed to be used alongside the major anthologies of literature from the period Equips students with the necessary historical context needed to understand the writings from this period Pedagogical features include a detailed bibliography and a transatlantic timeline with literary works and historical events      A Dictionary of Scientific Quotations Alan L. Mackay, 1991-01-01 Science affects us all in the words of Albert Einstein The whole of science is nothing more than a refinement of everyday thinking It is therefore fascinating to discover the thoughts of scientists philosophers humanists poets theologians politicians and other miscellaneous mortals on this most important of subjects A Dictionary of Scientific Quotations is a personal selection of scientific quotations by Professor Alan L Mackay that includes graffiti lines of song proverbs and poetry Whether you believe that All problems are finally scientific problems George Bernard Shaw or that Imagination is more important than knowledge Einstein it is without doubt that It is a good thing for an uneducated man to read books of quotations Churchill You will be charmed and delighted by this collection and remember Why said the Dodo the best way to explain it is to do it Alice in Wonderland Lewis Carroll      The Lawyers Reports Annotated, 1909      Encyclopedia of Science and Technology Communication Susanna Hornig Priest, 2010-07-14 The explosion of scientific information is exacerbating the information gap between richer poorer educated less educated publics The proliferation of media technology and the popularity of the Internet help some keep up with these developments but also make it more likely others fall further behind This is taking place in a globalizing economy and society that further complicates the division between information haves and have nots and compounds the challenge of communicating about emerging science and technology to increasingly diverse audiences Journalism about science and technology must fill this gap yet journalists and journalism students themselves struggle to keep abreast of contemporary scientific developments. Scientist aided by public relations and public information professionals must get their stories out not only to other scientists but also to broader public audiences. Funding agencies increasingly expect their grantees to engage in outreach and education and such activity can be seen as both a survival strategy and an ethical imperative for taxpayer supported university based research. Science communication often in new forms must expand to meet all these needs. Providing a comprehensive introduction to students professionals and scholars in this area is a unique challenge because practitioners in these fields must grasp both the principles of science and the principles of science communication while understanding the social contexts of each. For this reason science journalism and science communication are often addressed only in advanced undergraduate or graduate specialty courses rather than covered exhaustively in lower division courses. Even so those entering the field rarely will have a comprehensive background in both science and communication studies. This circumstance underscores the importance of compiling useful reference materials. The Encyclopedia of Science and Technology Communication presents resources and strategies for science communicators including theoretical material and background on recent controversies and key institutional actors and sources. Science communicators need to understand more than how to interpret scientific facts and conclusions they need to understand basic elements of the politics sociology and philosophy of science as well as relevant media and communication theory principles of risk communication new trends and how to evaluate the effectiveness of science communication programmes to mention just a few of the major challenges. This work will help to develop and enhance such understanding as it addresses these challenges and more. Topics covered include advocacy policy and research organizations environmental and health communication philosophy of science media theory and science communication informal science education science journalism as a profession risk communication theory public understanding of science pseudo science in the news special problems in reporting science and technology science communication ethics.

Synthetic Biology Lewis D. Solomon, 2017-09-08

For nearly forty years using recombinant DNA tools researchers and then businesses have genetically engineered organisms by transferring naturally occurring genes from one organism into another. Doing so modifies the genetic code of living cells imparting new traits and achieving desired results. This is done in the production of proteins pharmaceuticals and seeds. Synthetic biology argues Solomon could free scientists from the need to find natural genes to make such desired modifications. Synthetic biology permits more complex and sophisticated bioengineering than what can be achieved through previous genetic modification techniques. Drawing on non biological scientific and engineering disciplines including information technology and nanotechnology synthetic biology strives to rearrange an organism's genes on a far wider scale by rewriting its genetic code. The chemical instructions need to design assemble and operate a species. By allowing the writing of artificial genetic codes synthetic biology can transform existing industries and spawn new ones.

creating new products as well as radically reshaping existing items Arguing for self regulation by the scientific and business communities Lewis D Solomon recommends a policy framework that would guard against governmental overregulation which could create a barrier to innovation Although synthetic biotechnology holds considerable social and economic potential absent a nurturing regulatory climate it may prove difficult to translate research discoveries into commercially viable applications

The American Mercury Henry Louis Mencken,1927 The House of the Black Ring Fred Lewis Pattee,1905

Watson And DNA Viktor K. McElheny,2009-03-25 The most influential scientist of the last century James Watson has been at dead center in the creation of modern molecular biology This masterful biography brings to life the extraordinary achievements not only of Watson but also all those working on this cutting edge of scientific discovery such as Walter Gilbert Francis Crick Francois Jacob and David Baltimore From the ruthless competition in the race to identify the structure of DNA to a near mutiny in the Harvard biology department to clashes with ethicists over issues in genetics Watson has left a wake of detractors as well as fans Victor McElheny probes brilliantly behind the veil of Watson s own invented persona bringing us close to the relentless genius and scientific impresario who triggered and sustained a revolution in science

Heart Songs Adimora-Ezeigbo, Akachi,2015-03-18 Winner of the ANA Cadbury Prize 2009 Heart Songs Akachi Adimora Ezeigbo s first collection of poems reveals the hidden poetic mind of a writer who had previously worked extensively and excelled as a novelist At one level the poems read like the products of a souls just out of a certain prison They break the barriers of the unity of thought that governs the writing of a novel as Adimora Ezeigbo is at home with subjects as varies as power love culture gender philosophy and crime in this collection

Faces in the Clouds Stewart Elliott Guthrie,1995-04-06 Religion is universal human culture No phenomenon is more widely shared or more intensely studied yet there is no agreement on what religion is Now in Faces in the Clouds anthropologist Stewart Guthrie provides a provocative definition of religion in a bold and persuasive new theory Guthrie says religion can best be understood as systematic anthropomorphism that is the attribution of human characteristics to nonhuman things and events Many writers see anthropomorphism as common or even universal in religion but few think it is central To Guthrie however it is fundamental Religion he writes consists of seeing the world as humanlike As Guthrie shows people find a wide range of humanlike beings plausible Gods spirits abominable snowmen HAL the computer Chiquita Banana We find messages in random events such as earthquakes weather and traffic accidents We say a fire rages a storm wreaks vengeance and waters lie still Guthrie says that our tendency to find human characteristics in the nonhuman world stems from a deep seated perceptual strategy in the face of pervasive if mostly unconscious uncertainty about what we see we bet on the most meaningful interpretation we can If we are in the woods and see a dark shape that might be a bear or a boulder for example it is good policy to think it is a bear If we are mistaken we lose little and if we are right we gain much So Guthrie writes in scanning the world we always look for what most concerns us livings things and especially human ones Even animals watch for human attributes as when birds avoid scarecrows In short we all follow the principle better safe than sorry Marshalling a wealth of evidence from anthropology cognitive science philosophy theology advertising literature art and animal behavior Guthrie offers a fascinating array of examples to show how this perceptual strategy pervades secular life and how it characterizes religious experience Challenging the very foundations of religion Faces in the Clouds forces us to take a new look at this fundamental element of human life
