Rewriting Chinese Style And Innovation In Twentieth Century Chinese Prose:

Rewriting Chinese Edward Gunn, 1991-07-01 Everyone who has studied the upheavals of modern China knows that one of them has taken place in Chinese writing Anyone who has read Chinese texts has also eventually pondered the possible significance of this upheaval for understanding the text and vice versa By analyzing formal features and speculating about their relevance to the construction of a modern Chinese culture this book intends to show why the Chinese have come to write the way they do in this century Drawing on linguistic and rhetorical descriptions of language in writing as features of style the author reviews the innovations that have been introduced into modern Chinese prose from both Chinese and foreign sources The social history of these features the attempts by various writers to assert cultural political and aesthetic principles through them and the resulting tensions and conventions that arise all form the critical framework for a study of Chinese prose literature and its most innovative authors in this century The study is introduced and informed throughout by a succinct review of scholarly research from a wide range of disciplines relevant to the question of style as an object of study in contemporary criticism The book begins its approach to style with an Introduction that draws on Gestalt theory information theory and linguistics to develop a nuanced concept of what style is one that gives adequate weight to the complex interplay of psychological formal and historical features at work Two chapters then examine various aspects of convention necessarily a historical phenomenon The fourth chapter by contrast discusses the aesthetic prescriptions by which modern Chinese writers sought consciously to introduce innovation and points out the limitations of a prescriptive approach The final two chapters study the strategies of specific writers Almost half the book is an Appendix that consists of a rich catalog of rhetorical and stylistic examples drawn from a wide range of twentieth century Chinese literary writing These hundreds of examples identified by the nomenclature of grammar rhetoric and sentence cohesion constitute a veritable handbook of modern Chinese prose The book also contains a Glossary of terms drawn from rhetoric and linguistics

Twentieth-century Chinese Translation Theory Tak-hung Leo Chan, 2004-01-01 Past attempts at writing a history of Chinese translation theory have been bedeviled by a chronological approach which often forces the writer to provide no more than a list of important theories and theorists over the centuries Or they have stretched out to almost every aspect related to translation in China so that the historical political backdrop that had an influence on translation theorizing turns out to be more important than the theories themselves In the present book the author hopes to devote exclusive attention to the ideas themselves The approach adopted centers around eight key issues that engaged the attention of theorists through the course of the twentieth century in the hope that a historical account will be presented that is not time bound On the basis of 38 articles translated into English by teachers and scholars of translation the author has written four essays discussing the Chinese characteristics of this body of theory Separately they focus on the impressionistic the modern the postcolonial and the poststructuralist approaches deployed by leading Chinese theorists from 1901 to 1998 It is hoped that publication of this book will make possible cross cultural dialogue with translation academics in the West although the general reader will find much firsthand information on Chinese thinking about translation

Chinese Rhetoric and Writing Andy Kirkpatrick, Zhichang Xu, 2012-03-07 Andy Kirkpatrick and Zhichang Xu offer a response to the argument that Chinese students academic writing in English is influenced by culturally nuanced rhetorical baggage that is uniquely Chinese and hard to eradicate Noting that this argument draws from an essentially monolingual and Anglo centric view of writing they point out that the rapid growth in the use of English worldwide calls for a radical reassessment of what English is in today s world The result is a book that provides teachers of writing and in particular those involved in the teaching of English academic writing to Chinese students an introduction to key stages in the development of Chinese rhetoric a wide ranging field with a history of several thousand years Understanding this important rhetorical tradition provides a strong foundation for assessing and responding to the writing of this growing group of students Cosmopolitan Publics Shuang

Shen,2009-04-08 Early twentieth century China paired the local community to the world a place and time when English dominated urban centered higher and secondary education and Chinese edited English language magazines surfaced as a new form of translingual practice Cosmopolitan Publics focuses on China s cosmopolitans Western educated intellectuals who returned to Shanghai in the late 1920s to publish in English and who ultimately became both cultural translators and citizens of the wider world Shuang Shen highlights their work in publications such as The China Critic and T ien Hsia providing readers with a broader understanding of the role and function of cultural mixing translation and multilingualism in China s cultural modernity Decades later as nationalist biases and political restrictions emerged within China the influence of the cosmopolitans was neglected and the significance of cosmopolitan practice was underplayed Shen s encompassing study revisits and presents the experience of Chinese modernity as far more heterogeneous emergent and transnational than it has been characterized until now Language Diversity in the Sinophone World Henning Klöter,Mårten Söderblom

Saarela,2020-10-06 Language Diversity in the Sinophone World offers interdisciplinary insights into social cultural and linguistic aspects of multilingualism in the Sinophone world highlighting language diversity and opening up the burgeoning field of Sinophone studies to new perspectives from sociolinguistics The book begins by charting historical trajectories in Sinophone multilingualism beginning with late imperial China through to the emergence of English in the mid 19th century The volume uses this foundation as a jumping off point from which to provide an in depth comparison of modern language planning and policies throughout the Sinophone world with the final section examining multilingual practices not readily captured by planning frameworks and the ideologies identities repertoires and competences intertwined within these different multilingual configurations Taken together the collection makes a unique sociolinguistic focused intervention into emerging research in Sinophone studies and will be of interest to students and scholars within the discipline The Chinese

May Fourth Generation and the Irish Literary Revival: Writers and Fighters Simone O'Malley-Sutton,2023-10-06 This book examines how the early twentieth century Irish Renaissance Irish Literary Revival inspired the Chinese Renaissance the May Fourth generation of writers to make agentic choices and translingual exchanges It sheds a new light on May Fourth and on the Irish Renaissance by establishing that the Irish Literary Revival 1900 1922 provided an alternative decolonizing model of resistance for the Chinese Renaissance to that provided by the western imperial center The book also argues that Chinese May Fourth intellectuals translated Irish Revivalist plays by W B Yeats Lady Gregory Se n O Casey and Synge and that Chinese peasants performed these plays throughout China during the 1920s and 1930s as a form of anti imperial resistance

Yet this literary exchange was not simply going one way since Yeats Lady Gregory Synge and O Casey were also influenced by Chinese developments in literature and politics Therefore this was a reciprocal encounter based on the circulation of Anti colonial ideals and mutual transformation
