Boethius in the Middle Ages Maarten J. F. M. Hoenen, Lodi W. Nauta, 1997 The German philosophical culture of the Middle Ages is inextricably linked to the thought of Albert the Great This volume brings together 14 papers which deal with Albert's influence from the points of view of mysticism philosophy and the history of universities The Translation of Religious Texts in the Middle Ages Domenico Pezzini, 2008 The transition from Latin to vernacular languages in the late Middle Ages and the dramatic rise of a new readership produced a huge bulk of translations particularly of religious literature in its various genres The solutions are so multifarious that they defy any attempt to outline general theories This is particularly visible when the same text is translated or rewritten at different times and in different languages or genres Through a minute analysis of texts this book aims at highlighting lexical syntactic and stylistic choices dictated not only by the source but also by new readers and patrons or by new destinations of the works Established categories such as literalness and fidelity are thus questioned and integrated with these other factors which while being more external do nonetheless impinge on the very idea of translation and consequently on its assessment Far from being a mere transfer from one language to another a medieval translation verges on a form of creative writing and as such its study becomes a fascinating investigation into the very process of textual production Rhetoric in the Twenty-First Century Nicholas J. Crowe, David A. Frank, 2016-04-26 This book arises from a symposium held in Oxford to consider the most fruitful trajectories of rhetoric in the 21st century The gathering comprised an international delegation of leading scholars convened to assess from an array of perspectives the various possible futures of the ancient discipline of rhetoric as it responds vitally to the evolving contexts of the new millennium This collection commemorates that event by extending its scrutiny into a number of specific fields of inquiry It includes a foreword by Prof James J Murphy an introductory article by the editors and six further articles commissioned from among the participants The introduction provides a detailed account of the symposium and foregrounds the delegates' articles with a summary of their arguments and consequent relevance to the overarching theme Each contribution is a freshly minted and original piece of scholarship true to the generative and interactive spirit of the enterprise and speaking pertinently to the field of international rhetoric studies at the present time Rhetoric in the Twenty-First Century addresses a spectrum of concerns Scholars and students of rhetoric and language use will naturally find much of interest here and the inclusive ambit of the work will also appeal to students of ethics religion comparative literature intercultural studies and the growing field of communication studies A Companion to Boethius in the Middle Ages Noel Harold Kaylor, Philip Edward Phillips, 2012-05-03 The articles in this volume focus upon Boethius's extant works his De arithmetica and a fragmentary De musica his translations and commentaries on logic his five theological texts and of course his Consolation of Philosophy They examine the effects that Boethian thought has exercised upon the learning of later generations of scholars Law and Language in the Middle Ages , 2018-07-10 Law and Language in the Middle Ages investigates the encounter between law and legal practice from the linguistic perspective The essays explore how legal language expresses and advances power relations along with the ways in which the language of law legitimates power The wide geographical and chronological scope showcases how power legitimacy and language interact moving the discussion beyond traditional issues of identity or the formation of nation states and their institutions What emerges are different strategies reflective of the diverse and pluralistic political legal and cultural worlds of the Middle Ages Contributors are Michael H Gelting Dirk Heirbaut Carole Hough Anette Kremer Ada Maria Kuskowski Anders Leegaard Knudsen Andr Marques Matthew McHaffie Bruce O'Brien Paul Russell Werner Schfke and Vincenz Schwab
