Rhetorical Affect In Early Modern Writing Renaissance Passions Reconsidered:

Rhetorical Affect in Early Modern Writing R. Cockcroft, 2002-12-10 Emotive language is now best understood by combining the analytic techniques of classical rhetoric with current linguistic practices With or without prompting the passions of Renaissance culture can stir contrary feelings in today's readers which are enlisted to validate a range of theorised responses This book will mediate between critics readers the author and the original audience using the New Rhetoric to open fresh perspectives on writers as diverse as Christopher Marlowe Lucy Hutchinson and Margaret Cavendish

Emotion and the Self in English Renaissance Literature Paul Joseph Zajac, 2022-12-22 This book offers the first full length study of early modern contentment the emotional and ethical principle that became the gold standard of English Protestant psychology and an abiding concern of English Renaissance literature Theorists and literary critics have equated contentedness with passivity stagnation and resignation However this book excavates an early modern understanding of contentment as dynamic protective and productive While this concept has roots in classical and medieval philosophy contentment became newly significant because of the English Reformation Reformers explored contentedness as a means to preserve the self and prepare the individual to endure and engage the outside world Their efforts existed alongside representations and revisions of contentment by authors including Sidney Spenser Shakespeare and Milton By examining Renaissance models of contentment this book explores alternatives to Calvinist despair resists scholarly emphasis on negative emotions and reaffirms the value of formal concerns to studies of literature religion and affect

The early modern English sonnet Laetitia Sansonetti, Rémi Vuillemin, Enrica Zanin, 2020-04-23 This volume updates current assumptions about the early modern English sonnet and its reception and inclusion in poetic collections It deals both with major Shakespeare Sidney Spenser and minor Harvey Barnes sonneteers and includes the first modern edition of a 1603 printed miscellany The Muses Garland

Their Maker's Image Mary C. Fenton, Louis Schwartz, 2011-05 Emotion in the Tudor Court Bradley J. Irish, 2018-01-15 Deploying literary analysis theories of emotion from the sciences and humanities and an archival account of Tudor history Emotion in the Tudor Court examines how literature both reflects and constructs the emotional dynamics of life in the Renaissance court In it Bradley J Irish argues that emotionality is a foundational framework through which historical subjects embody and engage their world and thus can serve as a fundamental lens of social and textual analysis Spanning the sixteenth century Emotion in the Tudor Court explores Cardinal Thomas Wolsey and Henrician satire Henry Howard Earl of Surrey and elegy Sir Philip Sidney and Elizabethan pageantry and Robert Devereux Earl of Essex and factional literature It demonstrates how the dynamics of disgust envy rejection and dread as they are understood in the modern affective sciences can be seen to guide literary production in the early modern court By combining Renaissance concepts of emotion with modern research in the social and natural sciences Emotion in the Tudor Court takes a transdisciplinary approach to yield fascinating and robust ways to illuminate both literary studies and cultural history

An

Collins and the Historical Imagination W. Scott Howard, 2016-04-15 The first edited collection of scholarly essays to focus exclusively on An Collins this volume examines the significance of an important religious and political poet from seventeenth century England The book celebrates Collins's writing within her own time and ours through a comprehensive assessment of her poetics literary religious and political contexts critical reception and scholarly tradition An Collins and the Historical Imagination engages with the complete arc of research and interpretation concerning Collins's poetry from 1653 to the present The volume defines the center and circumference of Collins scholarship for twenty first century readers The book's thematically linked chapters and appendices provide a multifaceted investigation of An Collins's writing religious and political milieu and literary legacy within her time and ours

Memories of War in Early Modern England Susan Harlan, 2016-09-23 This book examines literary depictions of the construction and destruction of the armored male body in combat in relation to early modern English understandings of the past Bringing together the fields of material culture and militarism Susan Harlan argues that the notion of spoiling or the sanctioned theft of the arms and armor of the vanquished in battle provides a way of thinking about England's relationship to its violent cultural inheritance She demonstrates how writers reconstituted the spoils of antiquity and the Middle Ages in an imagined military struggle between male bodies An analysis of scenes of arming and disarming across texts by Christopher Marlowe and William Shakespeare and tributes to Sir Philip Sidney reveals a pervasive militant nostalgia a cultural fascination with moribund models and technologies of war Readers will not only gain a better understanding of humanism but also a new way of thinking about violence and cultural production in Renaissance England

A Cultural History of the Emotions in the Baroque and Enlightenment Age, 2020-08-20 During the period of the Baroque and Enlightenment the word emotion denoting passions and feelings came into usage albeit in an irregular fashion Emotion ultimately emerged as a term in its own right and evolved in English from meaning physical agitation to describe mental feeling However the older terminology of passions and affections continued as the dominant discourse structuring thinking about feeling and its wider religious political social economic and moral imperatives The emotional cultures described in these essays enable some comparative discussion about the history of emotions and particularly the causes and consequences of emotional change in the larger cultural contexts of the Baroque and Enlightenment Emotions research has enabled a rethinking of dominant narratives of the period of histories of revolution state building the rise of the public sphere religious and scientific transformation and more As a new and dynamic field the essays here are just the beginning of a much bigger history of emotions

Shakespeare's Contagious Sympathies Eric Francis Langley, 2018 Counting the cost of compassion this study of Shakespeare's plays and poetry analyses how medical explanations of disease impact upon philosophical conceptions and literary depictions of his characters and how compassionate communication and sympathetic exchange are undermined by anxieties concerning contagion and disease

Emotions in Europe, 1517-1914 Katie Barclay, François Soyer, 2021-07-27 This volume of primary sources focuses on the history of emotions in Europe and its empires between 1602 and 1714 The study examines the subjects of the self family and community religion politics and law science and philosophy and art and culture Sources include letters diaries legal papers institutional records newspapers science and philosophical writings literature and art from a diversity of voices and perspectives Accompanied by extensive editorial commentary this collection will be of great interest to students of history and literature
