Marketing, Rhetoric and Control Christopher Miles, 2018-04-19 Marketing Rhetoric and Control investigates the tensions that surround the place of persuasion and more broadly control in marketing Persuasion has variously been seen as an embarrassment to the discipline a target for anti marketing sentiment the source of marketing's value in the modern organisation a mysterious black box inside the otherwise rational and logical endeavour of enterprise and a rather insignificant part of the marketing programme This book argues that this multifarious reputation for persuasion within marketing stems from the influence of two quite oppositional paradigms the scientific and the magico rhetorical that ebb and flow across the discourses of its discipline and practice Constructing an interface between original challenging close readings of texts from the beginnings of the Western rhetorical tradition and an examination of the ways in which marketing has set about describing itself this text argues for a Sophistic interpretation of marketing From this perspective marketing is understood as providing intermediary services to facilitate the continuing exchange of attention and regard between firm client and stakeholders It seeks to manage and direct this exchange through an appreciation of the changing rational and irrational motivations of the firm and stakeholders using these as resources for the construction of both planned and improvised persuasive interactions in agonistic or competitive environments This book is aimed primarily at researchers and academics working in the fields of marketing marketing communications and the related disciplines of marketing theory critical marketing and digital marketing It will also be of value to marketing academics in business schools including those working in the areas of media and communication studies who have an interest in commercial and corporate communication brand use of interactive media and communication theory

The Logic of Legal Argumentation Marko

Novak,2024-02-26 Multi modal argumentation with its logical emotional visceral and kisceral arguments is an important addition to logical argumentation especially when real life situations are considered It does not discard logic but adds other modes of argumentation to complement it to emphasize the realistic environments of communication In this sense the multi modal theory is important for the area of legal argumentation where even in the reasoning of judicial decisions traces of a flesh and blood personality who decided the case and wrote the reasons can be found This book presents a comprehensive analysis of this informal logic in legal argumentation and its practicality within the law It argues that by building on the dialectical and rhetorical models of legal argument the former being important for clear cases while the latter for unclear ones the multi modal theory of legal argumentation brings together logic and psychology in a holistic or integral perspective The approach is not only descriptive identifying the traces of alternate arguments in judicial decisions but is also normative presenting the criteria for evaluation that multi modal arguments need to face to attain validity in the legal context The work will be of interest to academics and researchers in the areas of Legal Theory Legal Linguistics Philosophy of Law and Communication Studies

Renewing Tradition Mark W. Hamilton,Thomas H. Olbricht,Jeffrey Peterson,2006-11-10

We offer this collection as a token of our affection and admiration of our friend and colleague James Weldon Thompson His studies of the letter to the Hebrews and of Paul in their intellectual contexts especially Middle Platonism have contributed significantly to the ongoing quest for placing the New Testament in its socio intellectual setting Although his publications in this area date back more than thirty years his best work is occurring now and we may anticipate path breaking contributions ahead His more recent work on preaching and pastoral care in Paul both situate the Apostle in his own world and just as importantly offer correctives of some contemporary ministerial practices and invitations for improvements Since 1993 Thompson has served as the editor of Restoration Quarterly a significant venue for research in biblical studies church history especially of the Stone Campbell Restoration Movement and contemporary theology His more popular works make available to a lay audience thoughtful well informed and spiritually rewarding interpretations of much of the New Testament His achievements however do not end at the printing press For more than thirty years he has taught ministers and others at the Institute for Christian Studies now Austin Graduate School of Theology and Abilene Christian University Students of the past and the present speak of him as a prepared stimulating and creative teacher unafraid of experimentation for a new generation of learners At both institutions he also served as an administrator first as President of ICS and then as Associate Dean of ACU s Graduate School of Theology His colleagues respect his ability to enlist them for work as needed and otherwise to get out of their way certainly a too rare set of skills in university administrators from the Preface
