A Bibliography of Robertson Davies Carl Spadoni, Judith Skelton Grant, 2014-08-01 Robertson Davies 1913

1995 one of Canada's most distinguished authors of the twentieth century was known for his work as a novelist playwright critic journalist and professor This descriptive bibliography is dedicated to his writing career covering all publications from his first venture into print at the age of nine to works published posthumously to 2011 Entries include each of Davies signed publications and those pseudonymous or anonymous writings he acknowledged having written Included are his plays novels journalism academic writing translations interviews speeches lectures unsigned articles and editorials films audio recordings and multimedia editions Also listed is a generous sampling of unsigned articles and editorials Using Davies archives and the archives of other authors organizations and publishers Carl Spadoni and Judith Skelton Grant present A Bibliography of Robertson Davies to serve the research demands of Canadian literature and book history scholars Let's talk politics Hilde Van Belle, Kris Rutten, Paul Gillaerts, Dorien Van De Mierop, Baldwin Van Gorp, 2014-04-15 In this volume on political argumentation the study of argument takes place within a rhetorical framework As such it is a contribution to the study of argumentation in context with an explicit rhetorical approach Rather than focusing on the poor quality of political participation and political understanding by citizens this volume explores how the study of rhetoric both as an academic discipline and as a political practice stands in a unique position to critically engage with a contextualized understanding of politics and civic engagement Many contributions in this volume confront classical rhetorical concepts and theories with current political developments such as globalization and multiculturalism and the emergence of new democracies Others focus explicitly on deliberative rhetoric in the political realm or undertake a critical analysis of political texts and public events in order to explore what this can imply for the development of a critical citizenship Rhetoric, Ethic, and Moral

Future Directions in Applied Linguistics Christina

Gitsaki, 2011-12-08 The field of applied linguistics covers a diverse range of research and practice and has developed somewhat differently in various parts of the world due to variations in local socio cultural conditions needs and issues

However this local diversity does not reflect a field that is incoherent but rather one which has a broad shared international agenda which is invigorated by the diversity brought to the field by local perspectives The papers in this volume represent some of the major global directions that research in applied linguistics is taking and shed light on how language is used to affect practice The aim of this volume is to explore some of the key methods and issues which are guiding applied linguistics into the future through an examination of these issues in local contexts thereby providing a basis for understanding the global directions the field is taking These directions follow two historically defined paths those related to educational studies and language teaching and those related to social issues involving language In the volume half the papers focus on the former examining issues of language teaching language teacher education and second language acquisition while the other half examine social issues related to language use bilingualism and multilingualism and language policy and planning The collection of papers presented in this book illustrates how these traditional themes are influenced by the rising forces of globalisation and the use of technology thus exemplifying both the new and old ways in which the study of language is realised

In Defense of Informal Logic D.S. Levi, 2013-03-09 My impulse when I decided to collect into a single volume the essays on topics in logical theory and related subjects that I have written in the last fifteen years was to borrow from the title of a work by Sextus Empiricus and call my collection Against the Logicians Although the essays address a variety of problems that interest me the thread that runs through them is a scepticism about how logicians see things So the title appealed to me However I had second thoughts and chose instead a title of one of my own essays In Defense of Informal Logic which emphasizes my support for other approaches Although my criticisms of logical theory are designed to cut deeply I do not want to be unresponsive to the needs that it is supposed to satisfy However my position that we have adequate resources for critically analyzing a particular argument and do not need a theory of argumentation will not completely satisfy those who think that there is a need for it So I want them to know that I am taking their concerns seriously Subject
