printmaking dance performance theatre textiles readymades photomontage and cinema As the book's authors reveal Dada not only anticipates Surrealism but also foreshadows an extraordinary array of more recent tendencies including action painting conceptual art outsider art performance art environmental and land art In its privileging of chance and automatism its rejection of formal artistic institutions its subversive exploitation of mass media and its constant self reconstitution and self redefinition Dada deserves to be seen as a cultural phenomenon that is still powerfully relevant in the twenty first century

Jacket Dead History, Live Art? Jonathan P. Harris, 2007 While scholars and critics generally agree that the 1960s signaled the end of high modernism what is less clear is how to characterize contemporary art since the 1960s Acclaimed art scholar Jonathan Harris here tackles this question by assembling a rich body of essays along with an extended interview with renowned feminist art scholar Amelia Jones that tracks the movements in and issues central to contemporary art practice since this pivotal decade The contributors to Dead History Live Art argue that visual art since the 1960s can no longer claim a separate and exalted status rather it should be interpreted as an integral part of a larger culture of display consumption and power that continues to evolve within a global capitalist system Distinguished writers and artists such as Frazer Ward Anna Dezeuze Richard Layzell and Jane Chin Davidson launch a new discussion on art and mass culture in their essays with uncompromising examinations of how in the context of modern capitalism visual culture has radically redefined the relationships between the production and use of images texts and interpretive analysis Issues explored in their essays include the rise of performance art in the 1960s and 1970s the focus on diverse installation and mixed media practices during the 1980s and 1990s and in an investigation reaching into the political sphere the theater of visibility and spectacle created to support the invasion of and war in Iraq in 2003 Dead History Live Art proposes an intriguing new perspective on art history and art practice with its critical and uncompromising examination of their conventions values and institutions As such the volume reconfigures not only our understanding of contemporary art but also the entire concept of the avant garde

Re Views Ruth Charity, 2005 Re views artists and public space provides an extensive overview of projects where artists have engaged new thinking and practices for the built environment and public space Addressing the subject of public art from the artist's perspective and emphasising process as well as product Re views explores artistic practice beyond the studio addressing the importance of research time for artists the relationship between artist and audience collaboration between artists and other design professionals and the contribution artists can make to the future of our towns and cities Page 4 of cover
