Court of Claims, 1966 The Illustrated Letters of Richard Doyle to His Father, 1842-1843 Richard Doyle, 2016-01-04 Before he joined the staff of Punch and designed its iconic front cover illustrator Richard Dicky Doyle was a young man whose father political caricaturist John Doyle charged him with sending a weekly letter even though they lived under the same roof This volume collects the fifty three illustrated missives in their entirety for the first time and provides an uncommon peek into the intimate but expansive observations of a precocious social commentator and artist In a series of vivid manuscript canvases Doyle observes Victorian customs and society He visits operas plays and parades He watches the queen visiting the House of Commons and witnesses the state funeral of the Duke of Sussex He is caught up in the Chartist riots of August 1842 and is robbed during one of the melees And he provides countless illustrations of ordinary people strolling in the streets and swarming the parks and picture galleries of the metropolis The sketches offer a fresh perspective on major social and cultural events of London during the early 1840s by a keen observer not yet twenty years old Doyle s epistles anticipate the modern comic strip and the graphic novel especially in their experimentation with sequential narrative and their ingenious use of space The letters are accompanied by a full biographical and critical introduction with new material about Doyle s life
