through Cinema Eric A. Goldman, 2013-04-01 A superb thought provoking analysis tracing the metamorphosis of the image of the Jew as portrayed through 80 years of American cinema Library Journal Like the haggadah the traditional story of the Israelites exodus from Egypt read at the Passover seder cinema offers a valuable text from which to gain an understanding of the social political and cultural realities of Jews in America In an industry strongly influenced by Jewish filmmakers the complex evolving nature of the American Jewish condition has had considerable impact on American cinema and in particular on how Jews are reflected on the screen This groundbreaking study analyzes select mainstream films from the beginning of the sound era to today to provide an understanding of the American Jewish experience over the last century from the time when Hollywood s movie moguls most of whom were Jewish shied away from asserting a Jewish image on the screen to a period when Jewish moviemakers became more comfortable with the concept of a Jewish hero and with an overpowered yet heroic Israel and the way that the Holocaust assumed center stage as the single event with the greatest effect on American Jewish identity Recently as American Jewish screenwriters directors and producers have become increasingly comfortable with their heritage we are seeing an unprecedented number of movies that spotlight Jewish protagonists experiences and challenges This is a wonderful book for any lover of American films Hadassah Magazine The war that won't die David Archibald, 2021-06-15 The war that won t die charts the changing nature of cinematic depictions of the Spanish Civil War In 1936 a significant number of artists filmmakers and writers from George Orwell and Pablo Picasso to Joris Ivens and Joan Mir rallied to support the country s democratically elected Republican government The arts have played an important role in shaping popular understandings of the Spanish Civil War and this book examines the specific role cinema has played in this process The book s focus is on fictional feature films produced within Spain and beyond its borders between the 1940s and the early years of the twenty first century including Hollywood blockbusters East European films the work of the avant garde in Paris and films produced under Franco s censorial dictatorship The book will appeal to scholars and students of Film Media and Hispanic Studies but also to historians and indeed anyone interested in why the Spanish Civil War remains such a contested political topic Concentrationary Cinema Griselda Pollock, Max Silverman, 2012-01-01 Since its completion in 1955 Alain Resnais s Night and Fog Nuit et Brouillard has been considered one of the most important films to confront the catastrophe and atrocities of the Nazi era But was it a film about the Holocaust that failed to recognize the racist genocide Or was the film not about the Holocaust as we know it today but a political and aesthetic response to what David Rousset the French political prisoner from Buchenwald identified on his return in 1945 as the concentrationary universe which now actualized might release its totalitarian plague any time and anywhere What kind of memory does the film create to warn us of the continued presence of this concentrationary universe This international collection re examines Resnais s benchmark film in terms of both its political and historical context of representation of the camps and of other instances of the concentrationary in contemporary cinema Through a range of critical readings Concentrationary Cinema explores the cinematic aesthetics of political resistance not to the Holocaust as such but to the political novelty of absolute power represented by the concentrationary system and its assault on the human condition
