Transatlantic Sensations John Cyril Barton,Kristin N. Huston,a Preface by David S. Reynolds,2016-02-24 Bringing together sensation writing and transatlantic studies this collection makes a convincing case for the symbiotic relationship between literary works on both sides of the Atlantic Transatlantic Sensations begins with the prehistories of the genre looking at the dialogue and debate generated by the publication of sentimental and gothic fiction by William Godwin Susanna Rowson and Charles Brockden Brown Thus establishing a context for the treatment of works by Louisa May Alcott Mary Elizabeth Braddon Dion Boucicault Wilkie Collins Charles Dickens George Lippard Charles Reade Harriet Beecher Stowe and George Thompson the volumetakes up a wide range of sensational topics including sexuality slavery criminal punishment literary piracy mesmerism and the metaphors of foreign literary invasion and diseased reading Concluding essays offer a reassessment of the realist and domestic fiction of George Eliot Charlotte Yonge and Thomas Hardy in the context of transatlantic sensationalism emphasizing the evolution of the genre throughout the century and mapping a new transatlantic lineage for this immensely popular literary form The book s final essay examines an international kidnapping case that was a journalistic sensation at the turn of the twentieth century Victorian Sensation Michael Diamond,2004 Victorian Sensation sheds light on the Victorians fascination with celebrity culture and their obsession with gruesome and explicit reportage of murders and sex scandals With a vivid cast of characters ranging from the serial poisoner William Palmer to Charles Dickens Jumbo the Elephant distinguished politicians and even the Queen herself this passionate analysis of the period reveals how

Jaguars as the Indians had still not paid for them Russell Peart flew many other aircraft in his varied career including the MiG 19 and while a test pilot at Boscombe Down trialled such designs as the Tornado GR1 But it was whilst he was seconded to the Sultan of Oman's Air Force particularly during the so called Secret War in Dhofar that he saw the most action In that theatre the author flew some 200 operational sorties 180 of which involved live fire during which he was hit many times He was also hit and wounded by a 75mm shell Russ Peart has written in detail of his exciting RAF career from flying Lightnings in the Far East to winning the top prize in the International Tactical Bombing Competition against a handpicked team of United States Air Force fighter pilots and being awarded the Sultan of Oman's Distinguished Service Medal Supplemented by a selection of previously unseen photographs this uniquely original memoir throws new light on the operational flying undertaken by some RAF pilots during the tense years of the Cold War Praise for From Lightnings to MiGs Absorbing and highly entertaining I have no hesitation in recommending From Lightnings to MiGs as an engrossing and enjoyable read for anyone with an interest in military aviation RAF Historical Society There's some pretty jaw dropping stuff in here Rowland White author of Vulcan 607

Victorian Sensations Kimberly Harrison, Richard Fantina, 2006 Wildly popular with Victorian readers sensation fiction was condemned by most critics for scandalous content and formal features that deviated from respectable Victorian realism Victorian Sensations is the first collection to examine sensation fiction as a whole showing it to push genre boundaries and resist easy classification Comprehensive in scope this collection includes twenty original essays employing various critical approaches to cover a range of topics that will interest many readers Essays are organized thematically into three sections issues of genre sensational representations of gender and sexuality and the texts complex readings of diverse social and cultural phenomena such as class race and empire The introduction reviews the critical reception of sensation fiction to situate these new essays within a larger scholarly context BOOK JACKET Catherine Crowe: Gender, Genre, and Radical Politics Ruth Heholt, 2020-06-30 This is the first full length study of the popular Victorian writer Catherine Crowe 1790-1872 Crowe is increasingly being recognised as an important and influential figure in the literary and Spiritualist circles of the nineteenth century This monograph offers a reassessment of her major works arguing that her writing is prescient Best known today for her collection of real ghost tales The Night Side of Nature or of Ghosts and Ghost Seers Crowe also wrote five popular novels as well as numerous short stories and essays Innovative and sometimes original in their use of genre her works cover the Newgate genre help to initiate detective fiction include elements of the social problem novels of the 1840s and point the way to the sensation novels of the 1860s Politically radical in many ways Crowe was vocal about women's oppression by men social inequality poverty slavery and animal rights This volume aims to restore an author who was once as famous as Dickens or Thackeray Wilson 1986 v to her proper place in the scholarly discussion of Victorian literature From Sensation to Society Natalie Schroeder, Ronald A. Schroeder, 2006 From Sensation to Society tracks the evolution of Mary Elizabeth Braddon's critique of Victorian marriage in the early phase of her long and prolific novel writing career The study begins with Braddon's two famous sensational novels Lady Audley's Secret 1862 and Aurora Floyd 1863 it ends with her first novel of society The Lady's Mile 1865 In the novels of this period Braddon proved herself to be a relentless critic of the patriarchal powers and privileges that determined the conditions of marriage for women As she depicted in the lurid excesses of sensationalism at its worst marriage for women amounted to a sentence of cruel and unjust imprisonment in a world of insanely distorted values Subsequent novels rigorously dissect the contradictions in the Victorian ideal of middle class marriage and dramatize how the conditions of marriage undermine marital happiness and result in the compromise of marital fidelity An advocate of moderate reform Braddon offers alternative models of marriage in which companionate harmony prevails Natalie Schroeder and Ronald A Schroeder are Professors in the English department at the University of Mississippi Conspicuous Silences Ruth Rosaler, 2016-10-06 How are a reader's perceptions of a plot impacted by its presentation through textual clues rather than explicit narration and why would an author choose this comparatively indirect mode of narration Conspicuous Silences answers these questions by examining Victorian novels in which pivotal events are left inexplicit for hundreds of pages at a time but are nonetheless evident to the reader The clarity with which readers understand these inexplicit plot lines is evidenced by their ability to follow the progression of narratives that rely heavily on the inexplicit content being detected without this reader comprehension these narratives would be deemed incoherent In linguistics communications that depend on a hearer's or reader's inference rather than their decoding the explicit content of an utterance are termed implicatures Conspicuous Silences explores the impact that central sustained implicatures have on a reader's experience of a novel It also discusses how authors may generate those implicatures by exploiting the reader's assumption of narratorial omniscience and the correlated reader assumption of a narrative's fictionality Reliance on such sustained fictionality related implicatures is fairly ubiquitous Conspicuous Silences concentrates on texts by Elizabeth Gaskell George Eliot Charles Dickens Frances Trollope Anthony Trollope Wilkie Collins and M E Braddon It examines the use of implicature in communicating impolite topics communicating character psychology and in fashioning a playful narrative tone This work contributes to Victorian literary scholarship narratological discussions about narratorial omniscience and fictionality and pragmatic stylistic debates about fictionality and the use of implicature
