The "Man Christ Jesus" Stephen Oliver Stout,2011-06-17 Does the Apostle Paul have any use for the person of Jesus presented in the Gospels Critical scholarship thinks not but this book argues that Paul not only mentions more than seventy specific details of the historical Jesus but he also commends the character of Jesus and echoes

His teachings repeatedly in his letters and sermons in full agreement with the Gospel accounts Stout examines Paul's intriguing description of the Man Christ Jesus 1 Tim 2:5 and suggests that this title fulfills the OT expectation of God appearing in human history as a man. In his incarnated humanity the Man Christ Jesus accomplished salvation in the historical events of his life and death and in his resurrected humanity he appeared to Paul on the Damascus Road, rooting Paul's Christology deeply in human experience. Furthermore, Stout shows how Paul rests his concept of salvation on a neglected aspect of his doctrine: that the entire church is associated with the historical events of the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus, an association which also unites his church with one another in fellowship and service. This book then demonstrates that Paul's gospel rests upon Jesus as a man of history who brings salvation into human history in his life, death, and exaltation as the Man Christ Jesus. Wisdom Commentary: Luke 1:9 Barbara E. Reid, OP, Shelly Matthews, 2021-01-15

Because there are more women in the Gospel of Luke than in any other gospel, feminists have given it much attention. In this commentary, Shelly Matthews and Barbara Reid show that feminist analysis demands much more than counting the number of female characters. Feminist biblical interpretation examines how the female characters function in the narrative and also scrutinizes the workings of power with respect to empire, to anti-Judaism, and to other forms of othering. Matthews and Reid draw attention to the ambiguities of the text, both the liberative possibilities and the ways that Luke upholds the patriarchal status quo, and guide readers to empowering reading strategies. Baptist Commonwealth, 1900 The Encyclopedia Britannica James Louis Garvin, Franklin Henry Hooper, Warren E. Cox, 1929
