The Geography of Risk Gilbert M. Gaul, 2025-09-23 This century has seen the costliest hurricanes in U S history but who bears the brunt of these monster storms Consider this Five of the most expensive hurricanes in history have made landfall since 2005 Katrina 160 billion Ike 40 billion Sandy 72 billion Harvey 125 billion and Maria 90 billion With more property than ever in harm s way and the planet and oceans warming dangerously it won t be long before we see a 250 billion hurricane Why Because Americans have built 3 trillion worth of property in some of the riskiest places on earth barrier islands and coastal floodplains And they have been encouraged to do so by what Gilbert M Gaul reveals in The Geography of Risk to be a confounding array of federal subsidies tax breaks low interest loans grants and government flood insurance that shift the risk of life at the beach from private investors to public taxpayers radically distorting common notions of risk These federal incentives Gaul argues have resulted in one of the worst planning failures in American history and the costs to taxpayers are reaching unsustainable levels We have become responsible for a shocking array of coastal amenities new roads bridges buildings streetlights tennis courts marinas gazebos and even spoiled food after hurricanes The Geography of Risk will forever change the way you think about the coasts from the clash between economic interests and nature to the heated politics of regulators and developers      Closed Sea Kent Mountford,2002 Closed Sea weaves together a colorful history of whalers and pirates Revolutionary patriots and loyalists fishermen and loggers iron masters and life saving crews sportsmen and holiday makers Filled with historical anecdote and keen observations of sea and shore it is a compelling portrait of the Barnegat Bay region and its history With a naturalist s eye and a sailor s experience environmental historian Kent Mountford opens our eyes to the Shore s past its shifting inlets disappearing islands dangerous tides and shoals Moving inland he documents the Pinelands environment and the industries it has supported over the centuries Closed Sea tells the remarkable history of a fascinating place a place of great beauty danger and opportunity a place that has cast its spell on generations of people This book is published with support in part from the Ocean County Historical Society the Barnegat Bay Estuary Program and the Tuckerton Seaport      This is New Jersey Doris M.
