Landscapes of the Song of Songs Elaine T. James, 2017-06-01 In this masterful new study of the ancient poetry of the Song of Songs Elaine T. James explores the Song's underlying interest in the natural world Engaging with the fields of geography landscape architecture and literature James critiques the tendency of scholars to reify a perceived dichotomy between nature and culture and instead argues that the poetic attention to landscape indicates an awareness of a viewer

Nature is here a poetic device that informs James's close readings of agrarianism gardens cities social control and feminism and the gaze in the Song With this two fold emphasis on landscape and lyric Landscape of the Song of Songs shows how the Song persistently envisions a world in which human lovers are embedded in the natural world complexly enfolded in relationships of fragility and care Song, Landscape, and Identity in Medieval Northern France Jennifer

Saltzstein,2023-05-30 Song Landscape and Identity in Medieval Northern France offers a new perspective on how medieval song expressed relationships between people and their environments Informed by environmental history and harnessing musicological and ecocritical approaches author Jennifer Saltzstein draws connections between the nature imagery that pervades songs written by the trouvères of northern France to the physical terrain and climate of the lands on which their authors lived In doing so she analyzes the different ways in which composers lived environments related to their songs and categorizes their use of nature imagery as realistic aspirational or nostalgic Demonstrating a cycle of mutual impact between nature and culture Saltzstein argues that trouvère songs influenced the ways particular groups of medieval people defined their identities encouraging them to view themselves as belonging to specific landscapes The book offers close readings of love songs pastourelles motets and rondets from the likes of Gace Brul Adam de la Halle Guillaume de Machaut and many others Saltzstein shows how their music text relationships illuminate the ways in which song helped to foster identities tied to specific landscapes among the knightly classes the clergy aristocratic women and peasants By connecting social types to topographies trouvère songs and the manuscripts in which they were preserved presented models of identity for later generations of songwriters performers listeners patrons and readers to emulate thereby projecting into the future specific ways of being on the land Written in the long thirteenth century during the last major era of climate change trouvère songs as Saltzstein demonstrates shape our understanding of how identity formation has rested on relationships between nature culture and change American Landscapes Ann J.
