Machine In The Studio Constructing The Postwar American Artist:

Machine in the Studio Caroline A. Jones, 1996 Drawing on extensive interviews with artists and their assistants as well as close readings of artworks Jones explains that much of the major work of the 1960s was compelling precisely because it was mainstream central to the visual and economic culture of its time Machine Art, 1934 Jennifer Jane Marshall, 2019-01-23 In 1934 New York's Museum of Modern Art staged a major exhibition of ball bearings airplane propellers pots and pans cocktail tumblers petri dishes protractors and other machine parts and products The exhibition titled Machine Art explored these ordinary objects as works of modern art teaching museumgoers about the nature of beauty and value in the era of mass production Telling the story of this extraordinarily popular but controversial show Jennifer Jane Marshall examines its history and the relationship between the museum's director Alfred H Barr Jr and its curator Philip Johnson who oversaw it She situates the show within the tumultuous climate of the interwar period and the Great Depression considering how these unadorned objects served as a response to timely debates over photography abstract art the end of the American gold standard and John Dewey's insight that how a person experiences things depends on the context in which they are encountered An engaging investigation of interwar American modernism Machine Art 1934 reveals how even simple things can serve as a defense against uncertainty Art Workers Julia Bryan-Wilson, 2009 From artists to art workers Carl Andre's work ethic Robert Morris's art strike Lucy Lippard's feminist labor Hans Haacke's paperwork "Science, Technology, and Utopias" Christine Filippone, 2017-07-05 The rise of proxy wars the Space Race and cybernetics during the Cold War marked science and technology as vital sites of social and political power Women artists historically excluded from these domains responded critically while simultaneously redeploying the products of Technological Society into works that promoted ideals of progress and alternative concepts of human community In this innovative book author Christine Filippone offers the first focused examination of the conceptual use of science and technology by women artists during and just after the women's movement She argues that artists Alice Aycock Agnes Denes Martha Rosler and Carolee Schneemann used science and technology to mount a critique on Cold War American society as they saw it conservative and constricting Motivated by the contemporary American Women's Movement these artists transformed science and technology into new modes of artmaking that transgressed modernist heroic painterly styles and subverted the traditional economic structures of the gallery the museum and the dealer At the same time the artists also embraced these domains of knowledge and practice as expressions of hope for a better future Many found inspiration in the scientific theory of open systems which investigated problems of wholeness dynamic interaction and organization enabling consideration of the porous boundaries between human bodies and their social political and nonhuman environments Filippone also establishes that the theory of open systems not only informed feminist art but also continued to influence women artists practice of reclamation and ecological art through the twenty first century Feminism Art Theory Hilary Robinson, 2015-04-20 Charting over 45 years of feminist debate on the significance of gender in the making and understanding of art the long anticipated new edition of Feminism Art Theory has been extensively updated and reworked Completely revised retaining only one third of the texts of the earlier edition with all other material being new inclusions Brings together 88 revealing texts from North America Europe and Australasia juxtaposing writings from artists and activists with those of academics Embraces a broad range of threads and perspectives from diverse national and global approaches lesbian and queer theory and postmodernism to education and aesthetics Includes many classic texts but is particularly notable for its inclusion of rare and significant material not reprinted elsewhere Provides a uniquely flexible resource for study and research due to its scale and structure each of the seven sections focuses on a specific area of debate with texts arranged chronologically in order to show how issues and arguments developed over time

New York New Wave Kathy Battista, 2019-01-24 New York is a centre of creative production for an exciting emerging generation of women artists Their work investigates themes such as the body as medium and subject matter the deconstruction of the existing patriarchal order of the art world the appropriation of earlier art historical references and the use of so called abject and everyday materials New York New Wave investigates the relevance of earlier feminist practice for this new generation asking Does gender difference still play a role in today's practice How can younger women artists embrace a radical political ideology and yet remain market friendly How far have these artists diverged from the established feminist tradition Artists discussed include Firelei Baez EV Day Ruby LaToya Fraser Diana Al Hadid K8 Hardy Valerie Hegarty Cindy Hinant Dawn Kasper Anya Kielar Liz Magic Laser Narcissister Alix Pearlstein Aurel Schmidt AL Steiner and W A G E

Art School Steven Henry Madoff, 2009-09-11 Leading international artists and art educators consider the challenges of art education in today's dramatically changed art world The last explosive change in art education came nearly a century ago when the German Bauhaus was formed Today dramatic changes in the art world its increasing professionalization the pervasive power of the art market and fundamental shifts in art making itself in our post Duchampian era combined with a revolution in information technology raise fundamental questions about the education of today's artists Art School Propositions for the 21st Century brings together more than thirty leading international artists and art educators to reconsider the practices of art education in academic practical ethical and philosophical terms The essays in the book range over continents histories traditions experiments and fantasies of education Accompanying the essays are conversations with such prominent artist educators as John Baldessari Michael Craig Martin Hans Haacke and Marina Abramovic as well as questionnaire responses from a dozen important artists among them Mike Kelley Ann Hamilton Guillermo Kuitca and Shirin Neshat about their own experiences as students A fascinating analysis of the architecture of major historical art schools throughout the world looks at the relationship of the principles of their designs to the principles of the pedagogy practiced within their halls And throughout the volume attention is paid to new initiatives and proposals about what an art school can and should be in the twenty first century and what it shouldn't be No research intensive book argues that Oldenburg's art relies on machine vision and other metaphors to visualize the structure and image content of human thought as an artistic problem. Anchored in new oral history interviews and extensive archival material, it brings together understudied visual and concrete poetry, experimental films, fifteen group performances commonly referred to as happenings, and a close analysis of his well-known installations of The Street 1960 and The Store 1961-62, effectively setting in place a reexamination of Oldenburg's pop art from the street store home and cinema years. The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, film studies, performance studies, literature, intermedia studies, and media theory.

Feast of Excess George Cotkin, 2016. Feast of Excess is an engaging and accessible portrait of The New Sensibility as it was named by Susan Sontag in 1965. The New Sensibility sought to push culture in extreme directions, either towards stark minimalism or gaudy maximalism. Through vignette profiles of prominent figures—John Cage, Patricia Highsmith, Allen Ginsberg, Andy Warhol, Anne Sexton, John Coltrane, Bob Dylan, Erica Jong, and Thomas Pynchon, to name a few—George Cotkin presents their bold headline-grabbing performances and places them within the historical moment.

Conceptual Art and the Politics of Publicity Alexander Alberro, 2003. An examination of the origins and legacy of the conceptual art movement.

Modern Sculpture Douglas Dreishpoon, 2022-10-25. This tapestry of primary sources is an essential primer on sculpture and its makers. Modern Sculpture presents a selection of manifestos, documents, statements, articles, and interviews from more than ninety sculptors, including a diverse selection of contemporary sculptors. With this book, editor Douglas Dreishpoon defers to artists whose varied points of view illuminate sculpture's transformation from object to action, concept to phenomenon over the course of more than a century. Chapters arranged in chronological sequences highlight dominant stylistic, philosophical, and thematic threads uniting kindred groups. The result is an artist-centric history of sculpture as a medium of consequence and character.

Instruments in Art and Science Helmar Schramm, Ludger Schwarte, Jan Lazardzig, 2014-08-29. This volume presents a collection of original papers at the intersection of philosophy, the history of science, cultural, and theatrical studies. Based on a series of case studies on the 17th century, it contributes to an understanding of the role played by instruments at the interface of science and art. The papers pursue the hypothesis that the development and construction of instruments make a substantive contribution to the opening of new fields of knowledge, the development of new cultural practices, but also to the delineation of particular genres, methods, and disciplines. This perspective leads the authors to reflect anew on what actually defines an instrument and to develop a series of basic questions to determine what an instrument is, which actions does the instrument incorporate, which actions does the instrument make possible, when do the objects of examination themselves become instruments, what skills are required to use an instrument, which skills does it produce. With its combination of new theoretical models and historical case studies, its detailed demonstration of the mutual influence of art and science with the instrument as the point of intersection, this volume enters new territory. It is of great value for all those interested in the history of our perception of instruments. Besides the editors the authors of the papers are Jörg Jochen Berns Olaf Breidbach Georges Didi Huberman Peter Galison Sybille Krämer Dieter Mersch Hans Jörg Rheinberger Wilhelm Schmidt Biggemann and Otto Sibum
