Cortázar, 1999 This volume presents an integrated epidemiologic, social and economic analysis of the global epidemics of HIV among sex workers in low and middle income countries. The book provides a comprehensive review and synthesis of the available public health and social science data to characterize the nature, scope and complexities of these epidemics. A community empowerment based approach to HIV prevention, treatment and care is outlined and demonstrated to be cost effective across multiple settings with a significant projected impact on HIV incidence among sex workers and transmission dynamics overall. The Global HIV Epidemics among Sex Workers seeks to assist governments, public health implementing agencies, donors and sex worker communities to better understand and respond to the epidemics among a population facing heightened social and structural vulnerabilities to HIV. The book combines a systematic review of the global epidemiology of HIV among sex workers and in depth case studies of the epidemiology, policy and programmatic responses and surrounding social contexts for HIV prevention, care and treatment in eight countries. The authors employ mathematical modeling and cost effectiveness analysis to assess the potential country level impact of a community empowerment based approach to HIV prevention, treatment and care among sex workers when taken to scale in four countries representing diverse sociopolitical contexts and HIV epidemics: Brazil, Kenya, Thailand and Ukraine. In each setting, greater investment in prevention, treatment and care for sex workers is shown to significantly reduce HIV. Together these findings underline the urgency of further global investment in comprehensive human rights based responses to HIV among sex workers. Teratology in the Twentieth Century H. Kalter, 2003-06-06 This book is an up to date survey and summary of present knowledge and future expectations regarding the environmental causes of congenital malformations in human beings beginning with the earliest discoveries of the 20th century up to the latest ideas and problems at its end. It presents views and comments on the progress made over the century in understanding human prenatal maldevelopment. In Pursuit . . . Joanna FitzPatrick, 2010-12-07 In Pursuit reinvents the life of Katherine Mansfield. 1988-1923 the modernist writer who revolutionized the short story created the only writing Virginia Woolf was ever jealous of and was consumed by tuberculosis at thirty-four. Intertwined into the story are Katherine's letter and journal writings that reveal her volatile relationships with her husband, her caregiver Ida and her extraordinary passion for life as she fights against a disease that saps her energy and steals her time to write. The story begins in London where Mansfield has married her long time lover John Middleton Murry. Soon after on her thirtieth birthday she is diagnosed with tuberculosis and told she has a few years to live if she stops writing, moves to a sanatorium and promises to live a quiet, passive life. Too young for such a prognosis she attempts a home cure that fails. Then a wandering consumptive with a fierce grip on life and her writing tools she travels from London to Paris to the Riviera and to the Alps in pursuit of a cure not only for herself but through her work perhaps for others In Pursuit The Katherine Mansfield Story Retold is an absorbing tale of desire impermanence and atonement A haunting exploration of one woman s powerful determination to live a full and challenging life in spite of the limitations forced upon her by illness Sleeping with One Eye Open Marilyn Kallet, Judith Ortiz Cofer, 1999 How do women writers cope with changes and juggle the demands in their already full lives to make time for their lives as artists In this anthology noted female novelists journalists essayists poets and nonfiction writers address the old and new challenges of doing it all that face women writers as the twenty first century approaches With eloquence sensitivity and more than a touch of wry humor Sleeping with One Eye Open relates positive stories from women who lead effective lives as artists emphasizing how sources of inspiration discipline resourcefulness and determination help them succeed despite the obstacle of no time The title essay Judith Ortiz Cofer s The Woman Who Slept with One Eye Open defines the collection Cofer relates the ways in which a mythological story from her Puerto Rican culture gave her confidence and courage encouraging her creative success and emphasizing the rewards of women s power and personal strength Denise Levertov s The Vital Necessity urges poets to make time for daydreams essential empowering creative food Tillie Olsen offers a frank discussion of the pressures of work and expectations that too often sap creative energy Tess Gallagher connects her mother s creative gardening with her own inspiration as a poet and the need for growth in her writing Marilyn Kallet s interview with Lucille Clifton relates the personal strength that helped Clifton raise six children and publish her first book at the same time This affirming collection offers a wealth of writing advice given through honest accounts of perseverance and accomplishment

In Pursuit of Justice Joseph R. Grodin, 1989 As Justice William Brennan observes in his foreword state courts are in some critical ways more important than federal courts in deciding controversies which affect the lives of ordinary citizens Yet outside of technical legal materials little attention is paid to their role in shaping the law Joseph R Grodin seeks to fill this vacuum A law professor and former justice of the California Supreme Court Grodin was removed from the bench in 1986 along with Chief Justice Rose Bird and Justice Cruz Reynoso after a highly publicized campaign that focused on their decisions in death penalty cases Drawing on his own experience and in a lively style spiced with anecdotes and aimed at a general audience Grodin writes about state appellate courts with insights that only a former justice could provide Grodin begins with a reflection on the perspective of the bench addressing such questions as how judges view the arguments of lawyers and how appellate courts cope with an ever increasing caseload He describes his own elevation up the judicial ladder and points out significant aspects of the landscape along the way In Part Two he discusses the judicial functions that are more or less distinctive to state courts using case descriptions to illustrate the history and development of the common law the significance of state constitutions for the protection of individual liberties the special problems posed by enactment of laws through the initiative process and the dilemmas surrounding the administration of the death penalty In Part Three he confronts a perennial and vastly important question do judges make law Grodin argues that in a sense they do but only within a framework of constraints that make the process quite different from legislative lawmaking Moreover the nature of judicial lawmaking varies from context to context and it has different dimensions in the state systems than in the federal Finally Grodin discusses the election process which is used in most states to decide upon selection or retention of judges He argues that elections pose a threat to judicial independence and he considers several alternatives to the current system This engaging book offers a fascinating look at the courts and will appeal to anyone interested in how judges think about the law My Daily Pursuit A. W. Tozer, 2013-11-01
