Marxism and "primitive" Societies Emmanuel Terray,1972 Marxism and Primitive Societies Emmanuel Terray,1972 Marxism and "primitive" societies. Two studies. Transl. by M. Kloppe ,1972 Feudalism and Non-European Societies T. J. Byres,Harbans Mukhia,1985 With admirable clarity Mrs Peters sums up what determines competence in spelling and the traditional and new approaches to its teaching Times Literary Supplement Global Forces and State Restructuring M. Doornbos,2006-02-24 This study explores a range of dynamics in state society relations which are crucial to an understanding of the contemporary world processes of state formation collapse and restructuring all strongly influenced by globalization in its various respects Particular attention is given to externally orchestrated state restructuring The Routledge Dictionary of Anthropologists Gerald Gaillard,2004-06-01 This detailed and comprehensive guide provides biographical information on the most influential and significant figures in world anthropology from the birth of the discipline in the nineteenth century to the present day Each of the fifteen chapters focuses on a national tradition or school of thought outlining its central features and placing the anthropologists within their intellectual contexts Fully indexed and cross referenced The Routledge Dictionary of Anthropologists will prove indispensable for students of anthropology A Modern Economic History of Africa: The nineteenth century Paul Tiyambe Zeleza,1997 The nineteenth century in Africa was a time of revolution and tumultuous change in virtually all spheres Violent dry spells the staggered abolition of the slave trade mass migrations and an influx of new settlers characterized the century Regional trade links grew stronger and spread further The century also saw the beginnings of the ruthless and bloody quest for foreign dominion Political Concepts Adi M. Ophir,Ann Laura Stoler,2018-01-02 Deciding what is and what is not political is a fraught perhaps intractably opaque matter Just who decides the question on what grounds to what ends these seem like properly political questions themselves Deciding what is political and what is not can serve to contain and restrain struggles make existing power relations at once self evident and opaque and blur the possibility of reimagining them differently Political Concepts seeks to revive our common political vocabulary both everyday and academic and to do so critically Its entries take the form of essays in which each contributor presents her or his own original reflection on a concept posed in the traditional Socratic question format What is X and asks what sort of work a rethinking of that concept can do for us now The explicitness of a radical questioning of this kind gives authors both the freedom and the authority to engage intervene in critique and transform the conceptual terrain they have inherited Each entry either implicitly or explicitly attempts to re open the question What is political thinking Each is an effort to reinvent political writing In this setting the political as such may be understood as a property a field of interest a dimension of human existence a set of practices or a kind of event Political Concepts does not stand upon a decided concept of the political but returns in practice and in concern to the question What is the political by submitting the question to a field of plural contention The concepts collected in Political

Concepts are Arche Stathis Gourgouris Blood Gil Anidjar Colony Ann Laura Stoler Concept Adi Ophir Constituent Power Andreas Kalyvas Development Gayatri Spivak Exploitation tienne Balibar Federation Jean Cohen Identity Akeel Bilgrami Rule of Law J M Bernstein Sexual Difference Joan Copjec and Translation Jacques Lezra Breaching the Colonial Contract Arlo Kempf, 2009-05-30 Almost a decade in Empire remains the 21st Century's dominant mode of cultural production and North America remains at the apex of the colonial imperative The contributors to this volume argue that far from being a post colonial world the struggle for independence of polity and culture is still alive and relevant The book brings together relevant examples of anti colonial discourse and struggle from across the US and Canada providing unique perspectives on resistance activism scholarship and pedagogy Anti colonialism is an evolving framework to which this book hopes to make a unique contribution with the range depth and analytical approach of the chapters it contains The emphasis on anti colonial resistance here is significant as it consistently reveals the personal commitment required for the undoing of domination as well as the ways in which people can collectively pursue radical politics in their aim of bringing about social justice The book examines a multitude of actions which could be termed anti colonial from student walkouts along the US Mexico border to interrogations of the relationship between indigenous and anti racist struggles in North America to analyses of the implications of anti colonialism for community unionism as well as disability rights struggles Chapters also look at the movement for Africentric schools in Toronto provide an annotated and comparative look at the myriad struggles for and by the Fourth World and Fourth World nations and analyze the creation of an anti colonial classroom in a Montreal university They also explore the colonial underpinnings of multicultural education in the US With contributions from leading thinkers such as Henry Giroux Ward Churchill and Peter McLaren as well as fresh perspectives from junior academics this book provides a diverse and varied survey of anti colonialism in the US and Canada It will be a thought provoking read for those working in a widevariety of disciplines from Sociology to Politics In daring and incisive ways Arlo Kempf's collection further positions anti colonialism as the necessary educational project for the colonizer and colonized within us all it reflectively re sets the radical education agenda with telling historical and current instances that are used by the book's authors to move constructively forward in critical ways John Willinsky Stanford University USA Duress Ann Laura Stoler, 2016-10-13 How do colonial histories matter to the urgencies and conditions of our current world How have those histories so often been rendered as leftovers as legacies of a dead past rather than as active and violating forces in the world today With precision and clarity Ann Laura Stoler argues that recognizing colonial presence may have as much to do with how the connections between colonial histories and the present are expected to look as it does with how they are expected to be In Duress Stoler considers what methodological renovations might serve to write histories that yield neither to smooth continuities nor to abrupt epochal breaks Capturing the uneven recursive qualities of the visions and practices that imperial formations have animated Stoler works through a set of conceptual and concrete reconsiderations that locate the political effects and

practices that imperial projects produce occluded histories gradated sovereignties affective security regimes new racisms bodily exposures active debris and carceral archipelagos of colony and camp that carve out the distribution of inequities and deep fault lines of duress today Pilgrimage and Household in the Ancient Near East Joy McCorriston, 2011-03-14

Examines the continuity of traditions over millennia in the Near East by focusing on the traditions of pilgrimage and household Elements for an Anthropology of Technology Pierre Lemonnier, 1992-01-01

Renowned anthropologist Pierre Lemonnier presents a refreshing new look at the anthropology of technology one that will be of great interest to ethnologists and archaeologists alike Making Ends Meet Charlotte van de Vorst, 2002-12-17 Based on hundreds of interviews with Manitoba farm men and women Making Ends Meet reconstructs the common history shared by modern farm women as well as by their mothers and grandmothers It explores women's changing roles on the farm from the early days of the Red River settlement to the twentieth century farm community The women's own stories reveal their ingenuity and tenacity in making ends meet through economies shared labour and generation of new resource income as varied as raising poultry and custom woodworking These stories prove that the contributions of farm women have been vital in establishing and maintaining the family farm and are critical to its continued survival Pukhtun Economy and Society (Routledge Revivals) Akbar Ahmed, 2013-04-15

First published in 1980 this groundbreaking Routledge Revival is a reissue of an original and authentic anthropological account of Pukhtun society by Professor Akbar Ahmed Combining extensive fieldwork data collected among the Mohmand tribe in the Northwest Frontier Province of Pakistan with historical and literary sources Professor Ahmed's study seeks to construct an ideal type model of Pukhtun society based on the ideal Code of the Pukhtuns and to analyse the conditions of its maintenance and transformation The author's thesis is that this ideal model exists within Pukhtun society when interaction with larger state systems is minimal and in poor economic zones In this way he posits an opposition between the Tribal Agencies along the border with Afghanistan where ecological conditions are poor and state influence minimal and the Settled Areas under state administration where Pukhtun society is forced away from its ideals

Toward Islamic Anthropology Akbar S. Ahmed, 1986-01-01 This book Toward Islamic Anthropology Definition Dogma and Direction is a valuable prerequisite for the study and assessment of Western anthropology from a universal or Islamic perspective Dr Akbar Ahmed author of this work contends that Western Anthropology offers the Islamic scholar a body of knowledge worthy of merit but which is unfortunately laden with conclusions based on cultural presumptions misinformation and ethnocentrism Approaching the subject from an Islamic perspective Dr Ahmed zeros in upon the Methodological prejudices which he suggests represents the greatest challenge to be overcome in the field As the Late Dr Isma'il R al-Faruqi states in the introduction of the book regarding the cause of truth as its own Islam prescribes that where there is valid evidence for the other point of view the mind must bend itself to it with humility But where the evidence is spurious or lacking the Islamic mind feels itself compelled to expose the incoherence In Part I Dr Ahmed reviews the science of Anthropology and compares its development with that of other disciplines He also shows how given historical and political periods such as the colonial era forced erroneous methodological frameworks upon the discipline In Part II the author establishes the fact that Anthropology had its roots in the Islamic scientific heritage dating back to the tenth Hijri century He concludes that anthropologists must transcend themselves and their cultures to a position where they can speak to and understand those around them in terms of their special humanity irrespective of color caste or creed Filial Obsessions P. Steven Sangren, 2017-03-13 This book employs a broad analysis of Chinese patriliney to propose a distinctive theoretical conceptualization of the role of desire in culture It utilizes a unique synthesis of Marxian and psychoanalytic insights in arguing that Chinese patriliney is best understood as simultaneously a mode of production of desire and as instituted fantasy The argument advances through discussions and analyses of kinship family gender filial piety ritual and especially mythic narratives In each of these domains P Steven Sangren addresses the complex sentiments and ambivalences associated with filial relations Unlike most earlier studies which approach Chinese patriliney and filial piety as irreducible markers of cultural difference Sangren argues that Chinese patriliney is better approached as a topic of critical inquiry in its own right

Governing natives Ben Silverstein, 2018-10-16 In the 1930s a series of crises transformed relationships between settlers and Aboriginal people in Australia's Northern Territory By the late 1930s Australian settlers were coming to understand the Northern Territory as a colonial formation requiring a new form of government Responding to crises of social reproduction public power and legitimacy they rethought the scope of settler colonial government by drawing on both the art of indirect rule and on a representational economy of Indigenous elimination to develop a new political dispensation that sought to incorporate and consume Indigenous production and sovereignties This book locates Aboriginal history within imperial history situating the settler colonial politics of Indigeneity in a broader governmental context Genealogies for the Present in Cultural Anthropology Bruce M. Knaft, 2013-09-13 In the wake of tensions between modern and postmodern sensibilities what larger directions now emerge in cultural anthropology In this major work Bruce Knaft takes stock of important recent initiatives in cultural and critical theory By combining critical reviews and ethnographic engagements with fresh readings of major figures and approaches the work develops a larger vantage point for considering the dispersing influence of practice theories postmodernism cultural studies postcolonial studies modern post positive feminism and multicultural criticisms

Technical Knowledge and Development Thomas Grammig, 2004-01-14 Development and aid projects often fail to improve technological capacity Their reform has been a widely acknowledged challenge for three decades This book demonstrates theoretically and empirically how aid practitioners shape the organizational social and inter cultural dynamics of development projects in industry The Last Word C. Nadia Seremetakis, 1991-10-08 Based on years of fieldwork in both rural and urban Greece The Last Word explores women's cultural resistance as they weave together diverse social practices improvised antiphonic laments divinatory dreaming the care and tending of olive trees and the dead and the inscription of emotions and the senses on a landscape of persons things and places These practices compose the empowering poetics of the cultural periphery C Nadia Seremetakis liberates the analysis of gender from reductive binary models and pioneers the alternative perspective of self reflexive native anthropology in European ethnography
