Mimetic Reflections:

Mimetic Reflections William Schweiker, 1990 This book argues that a basic problem in thinking about understanding temporality and selfhood is due to imitative modes of thought found in much traditional Western philosophy and theology Given this the book examines the complex role that image and imitation play in understanding and its world of meaning the import of language and narrative for configuring human temporality and the existence of self The author's contention is that when critically understood mimesis with its roots in performative enactment holds resources for reconsidering these basic dimensions of human life beyond imitative paradigms of thought

The Middle Voice in Gadamer's Hermeneutics

Philippe Eberhard, 2004 Revised thesis Ph D University of Chicago Divinity School Chicago 2002

Realism: Aesthetics, Experiments, Politics

Jens Elze, 2022-04-07 Realism seems to be everywhere both as a trending critical term and as a revitalized aesthetic practice This volume brings together for the first time three aspects that are pertinent for a proper understanding of realism its 19th century aesthetics committed to making reality into an object of serious art the experiments with and against realism by 20th century modernist postmodernist or magical realist writing and the politics of realism especially its ambitions to map the complex realities produced by global capitalism and climate catastrophe This juxtaposition of aesthetics experiments and politics unsettles the entrenched opposition between realism and experimental literature that tends to ignore the fact that realism by virtue of its commitment to a changing material and social world cannot be but continuously experimenting The innovative chapters of this book address some of the pressing questions of literary and cultural studies today like the complex relation between historical materialism and new materialisms between science and art or the different aesthetic and political affordances of making systemic analyses against depicting the specificity of the local Some of the chapters deal with classically realist authors such as George Eliot mile Zola and Joseph Conrad to gauge the aesthetic radicalism of their diverse realist projects Others investigate the experimental engagements with realism by authors such as B S Johnson J M Coetzee or Rachel Cusk Yet others analyze the politics of realism found in contemporary anglophone novels by writers like Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie David Mitchell or Rohinton Mistry The readings assembled here are a testament to the diversity of literary realism's from the 19th 20th and 21st centuries and to the ongoing controversies surrounding definitions and deployments of realism

Faulkner's Cartographies of Consciousness John Michael Corrigan, 2023-11-16 William Faulkner continues to be an author who is widely read studied and admired This book provides a new and interdisciplinary account of Faulkner's legacy arguing that his fiction is just as relevant today as it was during his own time Indeed Faulkner's far reaching critique of his Southern heritage speaks directly to the anti racism discourse of our own time and engages the dire threat to subjecthood in a technologically saturated civilization Combining literary critique with network and complexity science this study offers a new reading of William Faulkner as a novelist for the information age Over the course of his career we find an artist struggling to articulate the threat to human wellbeing in rapidly scaling social systems and gradually developing a hard won humanism that affirms the individual and interpersonal life as a source of novelty and social change

Soviet Narratology and Spatial Story Design Sylke Rene Meyer, 2025-10-20 Based on Soviet narratology this book offers a genealogy of spatial user centric story design and its current applications situating spatial story design as medium sui generis that evolved as a counternarrative to agonal games on the one hand and in distinction to linear narrative such as classical novels and cinema on the other hand Following a discussion of Russian Formalism that relativized the notion of authorial intention and emphasized the primacy of structure the analysis considers the works of Mikhail Bakhtin who laid out the groundwork for a chronotopical spatial analysis of literature that contributes to a grammar of user generated narrative as well as the works of Juri Lotman and the Tartu Moscow Semiotic School The author shows how these works have been influential through the works topological semantics that provide a vocabulary for literary analysis and practical tools for spatial story design to predict to some extent user behavior and through the semiotic study of text culminating in a cybernetical method of systems thinking that allows for process control of user generated spaces She demonstrates that cybernetical research in the United States contributed to the development of agonal shooter games while cybernetical research in the Soviet Union had a massive influence on role playing games and consequently interactive storytelling and spatial story design Delineating how Soviet narratology had a formative yet somehow unnamed influence on the development of structuralist and post structuralist narrative theory this book will be an essential read for academics and artists in performance art game design interactive storytelling narratology philosophy but also AI research and human machine interaction

Mimesis and Its Romantic Reflections Frederick Burwick, 2010-11-01 In Romantic theories of art and literature the notion of mimesis defined as art s reflection of the external world became introspective and self reflexive as poets and artists sought to represent the act of creativity itself Frederick Burwick seeks to elucidate this Romantic aesthetic first by offering an understanding of key Romantic mimetic concepts and then by analyzing manifestations of the mimetic process in literary works of the period Burwick explores the mimetic concepts of art for art s sake Idem et Alter and palingenesis of mind as art by drawing on the theories of Philo of Alexandria Aristotle Immanuel Kant Friedrich Schiller Friederich Wilhelm Joseph von Schelling Thomas De Quincey and Germaine de Sta l Having established the philosophical bases of these key mimetic concepts Burwick analyzes manifestations of mimesis in the literature of the period including ekphrasis in the work of Thomas De Quincey mirrored images in the poems of Samuel Taylor Coleridge and William Wordsworth and the twice told tale in the novels of Charles Brockden Brown E T A Hoffmann and James Hogg Although artists of this period have traditionally been dismissed in discussions of mimesis Burwick demonstrates that mimetic concepts comprised a major component of the Romantic aesthetic
