Flawed Commanders and Strategy in the Battles for Italy, 1943-45 Andrew Sangster,Pier Paolo Battistelli,2023-02-23 The authors offer a very different perspective on this campaign and are very frank in their assessment of the performance of the Allies and Germans on many levels New York Journal of Books Wars never run according to plan perhaps never more so than during the Italian campaign 1943 45 where necessary coordination between the different armies added additional complexity to Allied plans

Errors in the strategies tactics the coalition tensions and operations at campaign command level can clearly be seen in firsthand accounts of the period This new account examines the Italian campaign from Sicily to surrender in 1945 exploring the strategy intentions motives plans and deeds It then offers a detailed insight into the five commanders who led the battles in Italy the two British commanders Montgomery and Alexander two American Patton and Clark and the leading German commander Field Marshal Kesselring Their personal notes and accounts taken alongside archival material provides some surprising conclusions Montgomery was not quite the master of war he is portrayed as Patton had serious flaws exposed by wasting men s lives to save a relative and overlooking the shooting of prisoners of war Clark lost lives to bolster his image Alexander the gentleman was far too vague to be effective as a senior leader Meanwhile condemned war criminal Kesselring appears to be the most efficient and also like Alexander one of the most popular leaders The Critic Jeannette Leonard Gilder, Joseph Benson Gilder, 1886 The Religions of the Roman Empire John Ferguson, 1970 *A Manual of Classical Mythology, or a Companion to the Greek and Latin poets ...
