Portrait Of A Greek Imagination An Ethnographic Biography Of Andreas Nenedakis:

Portrait of a Greek Imagination Michael Herzfeld, 1997 In Portrait of a Greek Imagination Michael Herzfeld succeeds in telling the life history of Andreas Nenedakis in a way that beautifully connects autobiographic and ethnographic levels of understanding One learns a great deal about Nenedakis as a writer and a person while acquiring new knowledge and insight into the spirals of history that have drawn together Cretan Greek and European society during the twentieth century It is an important contribution to the current discussions about the intersection of anthropology and literature Becoming a

Subject Polymeris Voglis, 2002 Focusing on the Greek Civil War this study examines the political prisoners whose fate encapsulates the dramatic conflicts and contradictions of that dark era Bourdieu and Social Space Deborah

Reed-Danahay, 2019-11-01 French sociologist and anthropologist Pierre Bourdieu's relevance for studies of spatiality and mobility has received less attention than other aspects of his work Here Deborah Reed Danahay argues that the concept of social space central to Bourdieu's ideas addresses the structured inequalities that prevail in spatial choices and practices She provides an ethnographically informed interpretation of social space that demonstrates its potential for new directions in studies of mobility immobility and emplacement This book traces the links between habitus and social space across the span of Bourdieu's writings and places his work in dialogue with historical and contemporary approaches to mobility Kolor.

Journal on moving communities - Nr. 2 , Narrative Networks Brian Alleyne, 2014-12-08 We are invited to think about the now ubiquitous everyday practices of interpreting and producing narratives across a range of modalities The result is a text that inspires readers to think in new ways about narratives invites them to analyse narrative texts available on the Web and for those who wish suggests how best to employ specialist software Ann Phoenix Institute of Education University of London It's high time we have a book like this Brian Alleyne has managed to produce the best clearest and most comprehensive overview of narrative theory for social scientists I have yet to see I wish I'd had access to a book like this when I was a student It would have made my life so much easier It will surely become the universally recognised go to book on the subject David Graeber London School of Economics Political Science Narrative is a fundamental means whereby we make sense of our own lives and of the world around us The stories we tell and are being told shape our identities relationships and world views In a rapidly changing digital society where blogging and social networking have become fundamental communication channels the platforms for the creation and exchange of all kinds of narratives have greatly expanded This book responds to the dynamic production and consumption of stories of all kinds in popular and academic cultures It offers a comprehensive discussion of the underlying philosophical and methodological issues of narrative and personal narrative research as well as applying these to the current digital landscape The book provides practical guidance on data management and use of software for the narrative researcher Illustrated with examples from a range of fields and disciplines as well as the author's own work on hacking cultures and cultural activism this title is a must for anyone wanting to learn about narrative approaches in social research and how to conduct successful narrative research in a digital age Balkan Border Crossings Vasilēs G. Nitsiakos, 2011 This volume is the second Annual of the Konitsa Summer School in Anthropology Ethnography and Comparative Folklore of the Balkans containing the proceedings of two years 2007 and 2008 It includes papers written by members of the teaching staff papers delivered as lectures or especially prepared for the Annual papers written by students based principally on their fieldwork exercise in Greece and Albania presentations of ongoing PhD theses and finally the syllabi of the subjects of instruction Ethnomusicology and its Intimacies Stephen Cottrell, Dafni Tragaki, Stephen Wilford, 2023-12-12 Ethnomusicology and its Intimacies situates intimacy a concept that encompasses a wide range of often informal social practices and processes for building closeness and relationality within the ethnomusicological study of music and sound These scholarly essays reflect on a range of interactions between individuals and communities that deepen connections and associations and which may be played out relatively briefly or nurtured over time Three major sections on Performance Auto biographical Strategies and Film are each prefaced by an interview with a scholar or practitioner with close knowledge of the subject that links the chapters in that section Often drawing directly on fieldwork experience in a variety of contexts authors consider how concepts of intimacy can illuminate the ethnographic study of music addressing questions such as how can we understand ethnomusicological and ethnographic research and performance as processes of musically mediated intimacy How are the longstanding relationships we develop with others particularly intimated by and through musicking How do we understand the musically intimate relationships of others and how do these inflect our own musical intimacies How does music represent inscribe constrain or provoke social or personal intimacies in particular contexts The volume will appeal to all scholars with interests in music and how it is used to construct relationships in different contexts around the world Development beyond Politics Thomas Yarrow, 2011-07-28 Is development the answer for positive social change or a cynical western strategy for perpetuating inequality Moving beyond an increasingly entrenched debate about the role of NGOs this book reveals the practices and social relations through which ideas of development are concretely enacted Religion and the Individual: Belief, Practice, and Identity Douglas J. Davies, Michael J. Thate, 2018-07-05 This book is a printed edition of the Special Issue Religion and the Individual Belief Practice and Identity that was published in Religions Knowing How to Know Narmala Halstead, Eric Hirsch, Judith Okely, 2008-04-01 This volume examines some crucial issues in the conduct of fieldwork and ethnography and provides new insights into the problems of constructing anthropological knowledge How is anthropological knowledge created from fieldwork whose knowledge is this who determines what is of significance in any ethnographic context and how is the fieldsite extended in both time and place Nine anthropologists examine these problems drawing on diverse case studies These range from the dilemmas of the religious refashioning of the ethnographer in contemporary Indonesia to the embodied knowledge of ballet performers and from ignorance about post colonial ritual innovations by the anthropologist in highland

Papua to the skilled visions of slow food producers in Italy It is a key text for new fieldworkers as much as for established researchers The anthropological insights developed here are of interdisciplinary relevance cultural studies scholars sociologists and historians will be as interested as anthropologists in this re evaluation of fieldwork and the project of ethnography

Remembering Karelia Karen Armstrong,2004-02-01 In June 1944 after two wars with the Soviet Union the Finnish region of Karelia was ceded to the Soviet Union As a result the Finnish population of Karelia nearly 11% of the Finnish population was moved across the new border The war years the loss of territory the resettlement of the Karelian population and the reparations that had to be paid to the Allied Forces were experiences shared by most people living in Finland between 1939 and the late 1950s Using a family s memoirs the author shows how these traumatic events affected people in all spheres of their lives and also how they coped physically and emotionally

The Arts of Imprisonment Leonidas K. Cheliotis,2016-12-05 The arts spanning the visual design performing media musical and literary genres constitute an alternative lens through which to understand state sanctioned punishment and its place in public consciousness Perhaps this is especially so in the case of imprisonment its nature its functions and the ways in which these register in public perceptions and desires have historically and to some extent inherently been intertwined with the arts But the products of this intertwinement have by no means been constant or uniform Indeed just as exploring imprisonment and its public meanings through the lens of the arts may reveal hitherto obscured instances of social control within or outside prisons so too it may uncover a rich and possibly inspirational archive of resistance to them This edited collection sheds light both on state use of the arts for the purposes of controlling prisoners and the broader public and the use made of the arts by prisoners and portions of the broader public as tools of resistance to penal states The book also includes a number of chapters that address arts in prisons programmes making distinctive contributions to the literature on their philosophy formation operation effectiveness and research evaluation as well as taking care to explore the politics surrounding and underpinning these multiple themes

Spirit and System Dominic Boyer,2005-12 Publisher description

Stage of Emergency Gonda Aline Hector Van Steen,2015 This volume offers a critique of cultural and intellectual life in Greece during the dictatorship of 1967 1974 discussing how Greek playwrights directors and actors reconceived the role of culture in a state of crisis and engaged with questions of theater s relationship to politics and community In the early 1970s several bold new plays appeared resonating with the concerns of Greek public and private life The reinvigorated Greek stage displayed an extraordinary degree of historical consciousness and embraced revisionist cultural critique as well leading to a drastic re shaping of the Greek theatrical landscape Stage of Emergency is the first study to focus on these particular theatrical developments of the so called junta era shedding light not only on the messages and impact of the plays themselves but also on the politics of culture and censorship affecting the Greek public during this period

Faith in Flux Devaka Premawardhana,2018-03-02 Pentecostalism Africa s fastest growing form of Christianity is known for displacing that which came before Yet anthropologist Devaka Premawardhana witnessed neither massive growth nor dramatic rupture in the part of Mozambique where he worked His research opens a new paradigm for the study of global Christianity one centered on religious fluidity and existential mobility and on how indigenous traditions remain vibrant and influential even in the lives of converts In Faith in Flux Premawardhana narrates a range of everyday hardships faced by a rural Makhuwa speaking people snakebites and elephant invasions chronic illnesses and recurring wars disputes within families and conflicts with the state to explore how wellbeing sometimes entails not stability but mobility In their ambivalent response to Pentecostalism as in their historical resistance to sedentarization and other modernizing projects the Makhuwa reveal crucial insights about what it is to be human about changing as a means of enduring becoming as a mode of being and converting as a way of life

Anthropological Approaches to Reading Migrant Writing Deborah Reed-Danahay, Helena Wulff, 2023-10-24 This book brings fresh perspectives to the anthropology of migration It focuses on what migrants write and how anthropologists may incorporate insights gained from engagement with this writing into research methods and writing practices The volume includes a range of contributions from leading scholars in the field all organized around a striking set of questions about the conditions in which migrant narratives are written and translated the audiences for which they are intended the genres and media through which they are disseminated and what such stories include or leave out The contributors to this volume demonstrate an innovative shift in anthropological methods by showing how fiction and nonfiction graphic memoir and autoethnography song lyrics as well as social media posts and images unsettle the power dynamics in the study of migration narrative This book will serve as important supplemental reading for courses on migration literary anthropology ethnographic methods and sociocultural anthropology in general Its interdisciplinary perspective will appeal to a broad range of scholars and students with interests in migration narrative and anthropological writing genres Locating Bourdieu

Deborah Reed-Danahay, 2005 Pierre Bourdieu 1930-2002 had an enormous influence on social and cultural thought in the second half of the 20th century leaving a mark on fields as diverse as sociology anthropology critical theory education literary criticism art history and media studies From his childhood in a rural French village to his fieldwork in Algeria to his ascension to the Chair of Sociology at the Collège de France Bourdieu's life followed a trajectory both complex and contradictory In this original and eloquent study Deborah Reed-Danahay offers fresh insights on Bourdieu's work by drawing on the perspectives of ethnography and autobiography Using Bourdieu's own reflections upon his life and career and considering the totality of his research and writing this book locates Bourdieu within his French milieu and within the current state of discussion of Europe and its colonial legacy Locating Bourdieu revisits major themes and concepts such as structure and practice taste and distinction habitus social field symbolic capital and symbolic violence adding new perspectives and discovering implications of Bourdieu's work for understanding emotion social space and personal narrative The result is a work of impressive scholarship and intellectual creativity that will appeal to scholars students and non specialists alike New Anthropologies of Europe Daphne Berdahl Matti Bunzl and Michael Herzfeld editors Handbook of Ethnography Paul Atkinson, 2001-03-22 This handbook provides a critical guide to the past present and future of ethnography

The Nomads of Mykonos Pola Bousiou, 2008 This is the ethnography of the Mykoniotis d'lection a gang of romantic adventurers who have been visiting the island of Mykonos for the last thirty five years and have formed a community of dispersed friends Their constant return to and insistence on working acting and creating in a tourist space offers them an extreme identity which in turn is aesthetically marked by the transient cultural properties of Mykonos Drawing semiotically from its ancient counterpart Delos whose myth of emergence entails a spatial restlessness contemporary Mykonos also acquires an idiosyncratic fluidity In mythology Delos the island of Apollo was condemned by the gods to be an island in constant movement Mykonos as a signifier of a new form of ontological nomadism semiotically shares such assumptions The Nomads of Mykonos keep returning to a series of alternative affective groups largely in order to heal a split between their desire for autonomy rebellion and aloneness and their need to affectively belong to a collectivity Mykonos for the Mykoniotis d'lection is their permanent stopover their regular comings and goings discursively project onto Mykonos space an allegorical discordant notion of home

Diaspora of the City İlay Romain Örs, 2017-11-10 As the former capital of two great empires Eastern Roman and Ottoman Istanbul has been home to many diverse populations a condition often glossed as cosmopolitanism The Greek speaking Christian Orthodox community Rum Polites is among the oldest in the urban society yet their leading status during the centuries of imperial cosmopolitanism has faded They have even been brought to the brink of disappearance in their home city Scattered around the world as a result of the homogenizing tendencies of nationalism the Rum Polites in the diaspora of Istanbul the City or Poli continue to identify with its cosmopolitan legacy as vividly shown through their everyday practices of distinction and cultural memory By exploring the shifting meaning of cosmopolitanism in spatial and temporal contexts Diaspora of the City examines how experiences of forced displacement can highlight changing conceptualizations of what constitutes a local diasporic minority or migrant community in different multicultural urban settings past and present
