Rambo The Dalai Lama:

Rambo and the Dalai Lama Gordon Fellman, 1998-01-01 Contrasts two approaches to conflicts and their resolution the aggressive confrontative elements of the adversary paradigm represented by the fictional figure Rambo and the compassionate non violence of the mutuality paradigm advocated by the Dalai Lama The Enigmatic Academy Christian J. Churchill, Gerald Levy, 2011-06-15 The Enigmatic Academy is a provocative look at the purpose and practice of education in America Authors Christian Churchill and Gerald Levy use three case studies a liberal arts college a boarding school and a Job Corps center to illustrate how class bureaucratic and secular religious dimensions of education prepare youth for participation in American foreign and domestic policy at all levels The authors describe how schools contribute to the formation of a bureaucratic character how middle and upper class students are trained for leadership positions in corporations government and the military and how the education of lower class students often serves more powerful classes and institutions Exploring how youth and their educators encounter the complexities of ideology and bureaucracy in school The Enigmatic Academy deepens our understanding of the flawed redemptive relationship between education and society in the United States Paradoxically these three studied schools all prepare students to participate in a society whose values they oppose Cultures of Peace Elise Boulding, 2000-05-01 Renowned sociologist Elise Boulding offers an eminent collection of essays that emphasizes her study of civil society over the past fifty years While most media and academic attention focuses on the extreme violence in today s society Elise Boulding notes an equally significant presence of cultures and societies of peace Here in a volume that represents a life s work she revisits her theme of the connection among family community and government and offers enriching perspectives and advice on how to fuel the process of peace Boulding examines structural violence in terms of the major institutional obstacles to a more peaceful future the tension between the states and the people trapped inside them the tension between the techno sphere and the biosphere and between global systems and local know how She describes social movements around the world that are developing alternative ways of handling the great diversity of human biospheric needs on the planet In addition Boulding brings together her experiences to empower the peace building activities if we are to do better in the twenty first century than we have done in the twentieth century Provided by publisher Putting Peace Into Practice Nancy Nyquist Potter, 2004 This book examines the role and limits of policies in shaping attitudes and actions toward war violence and peace Authors examine militaristic language and metaphor effects of media violence on children humanitarian intervention sanctions peacemaking sex offender treatment programs nationalism cosmopolitanism community and political forgiveness to identify problem policies and develop better ones Gandhi and the Psychology of Nonviolence, Volume 1 V. K. Kool, Rita Agrawal, 2020-11-06 The first of two volumes this book examines Gandhi s contribution to an understanding of the scientific and evolutionary basis of the psychology of nonviolence through the lens of contemporary researches on human cognition empathy morality and self control While psychological science has focused on those participants that delivered electric shocks in Professor Stanley Milgram's famous experiments these books begin from the premise that we have neglected to fully explore why the other participants walked away Building on emergent research in the psychology of self control and wisdom the authors illustrate what Gandhi's life and work offers to our understanding of these subjects who disobeyed and defied Milgram The authors analyze Gandhi's actions and philosophy as well as original interviews with his contemporaries to elaborate a modern scientific psychology of nonviolence from the principles he enunciated and which were followed so successfully in his Satyagrahas Gandhi they argue was a practical psychologist from whom we can derive a science of nonviolence which as Volume 2 will illustrate can be applied to almost every subfield of psychology but particularly to those addressing the most urgent issues of the 21st century This book is the result of four decades of collaborative work between the authors It marks a unique contribution to studies of both Gandhi and the current trends in psychological research that will appeal in particular to scholars of social change peace studies and peace psychology and serve as an exemplar in teaching one of modern psychology's hitherto neglected perspectives

Encyclopedia of Social Problems Vincent N. Parrillo, 2008-05-22 Social problems affect everyone Because so many actual and potential problems confront us it is often difficult to decide which ones affect us most severely Is it the threat of death or injury during a terrorist attack Is it the threat caused by industrial pollution that may poison us or destroy our physical environment Or does quiet but viciously damaging gender age class racial or ethnic discrimination have the most far reaching effect Do the problems of cities affect us if we live in the suburbs Do poorer nations problems with overpopulation affect our quality of life The Encyclopedia of Social Problems offers an interdisciplinary perspective into many social issues that are a continuing concern in our lives whether we confront them on a personal local regional national or global level With more than 600 entries these two volumes cover all of the major theories approaches and contemporary issues in social problems and also provide insight into how social conditions get defined as social problems and the ways different people and organizations view and try to solve them Key Features Provides as comprehensive an approach as possible to this multifaceted field by using experts and scholars from 19 disciplines anthropology biology business chemistry communications criminal justice demography economics education environmental studies geography health history languages political science psychology social work sociology and women's studies Presents a truly international effort with contributors from 17 countries Argentina Australia Canada England France Germany Greece Hong Kong India Ireland Italy Kenya New Zealand Romania Scotland Turkey and the United States Addresses social problems that are fairly new such as computer crimes and identity theft and others that are centuries old such as poverty and prostitution Examines social problems differently from place to place and from one era to another Explains the perspectives and foundations of various social theories and offers different lenses to view the same reality Key Themes Aging and the Life Course Community Culture and Change Crime and Deviance Economics and Work Education Family Gender Inequality and Sexual Orientation Health Housing and Urbanization

Winning Francesco Duina, 2013-08-25 Why winning doesn't always lead to happiness Most of us are taught from a young age to be winners and avoid being losers But what does it mean to win or lose And why do we care so much Does winning make us happy Winning undertakes an unprecedented investigation of winning and losing in American society what we are really after as we struggle to win our collective beliefs about winners and losers and much more Francesco Duina argues that victory and loss are not endpoints or final destinations but gateways to something of immense importance to us the affirmation of our place in the world But Duina also shows that competition is unlikely to provide us with the answers we need Winning and losing are artificial and logically flawed concepts that put us at odds with the world around us and ultimately ourselves Duina explores the social and psychological effects of the language of competition in American culture Primarily concerned with our shared obsessions about winning and losing Winning proposes a new mind set for how we can pursue our dreams and in a more satisfying way find our proper place in the world

The Social Construction of Man, the State and War Franke Wilmer, 2004-04-16 The Social Construction of Man the State and War is the first book on conflict in the former Yugoslavia to look seriously at the issue of ethnic identity rather than treating it as a given an unquestionable variable Combining detailed analysis with a close reading of historical narratives documentary evidence and first hand interviews conducted in the former Yugoslavia Wilmer sheds new light on how ethnic identity is constructed and what that means for the future of peace and sovereignty throughout the world

Peace Education, 3d ed. Ian M. Harris, Mary Lee Morrison, 2014-01-10 Now in its third edition Peace Education provides a comprehensive approach to educating for a just and sustainable future It begins with religious and historical trends that have molded our understanding of peace and then presents a variety of ways to practice peace education in schools and communities and explains how it can motivate students The teaching and practice of peace education provides a basis of valuable knowledge about resolving conflicts and transforming violence without the use of force Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Violence and Nonviolence Gregg Barak,2003-02-24 Gregg Barak s Violence and Nonviolence is a thoughtful comprehensive examination of violence in the United States Structurally and conceptually this book works Barak addresses violence in an interdisciplinary way addressing history psychology biology cultural studies and sociology Moreover Barak does an excellent job of discussing the intersection of race class and gender and those relationships with violence Heather Melton University of Utah Clearly the strength of this book is its comprehensive and reciprocal approach I found this to be an enjoyable and provocative book that treats the topic holistically and offers a vision for overcoming current patterns of violence I am convinced that this is an important work that will ultimately be well received by undergraduates graduate students violence specialists and general readers Mathew T Lee University of Akron I think that the strengths of this book are twofold Barak s approach disaggregates violence into interpersonal institutional and structural violence which is very important yet rarely done the latter part of the book explores the pathways to nonviolence an underrepresented area in the study of violence Charis Kubrin Sociology George Washington University I have devoted close to 20 years studying and teaching about violence and I must say that this is a comprehensive book I strongly believe that Barak has done an outstanding review of the extant literature and touches upon key issues of central concern to those of us who are social scientific experts on violence Walter Dekeseredy Ohio University Violence and Nonviolence Pathways to Understanding is the first book to provide an integrative systematic approach to the study of violence and nonviolence in one volume Eminent scholar and award winning author Gregg Barak examines virtually all forms of violence from verbal abuse to genocide and treats all of these expressions of violence as interpersonal institutional and structural occurrences In the context of recovery and nonviolence Barak addresses peace and conflict studies legal rights social justice and various nonviolent movements Employing an interdisciplinary framework Barak emphasizes the importance of culture media sexuality gender and social structure in developing a comprehensive theory of these two separate but inseparable phenomena This innovative and accessible volume includes Figures tables and illustrations that reinforce important concepts and relationships Introduces a new original theory of reciprocal violence and nonviolence Numerous case studies on violence and recovery throughout the book Chapter summaries and review questions to aid student comprehension Models of nonviolence such as mutuality altruistic humanism positive peacemaking and resiliency Designed to be a core text for graduate and undergraduate courses on violence in criminology sociology criminal justice and social work departments Violence and Nonviolence is also an outstanding supplementary text for violence against women and criminal behavior courses This book will transform the way students and readers think about violence nonviolence and the reciprocal relationship between the two

Educating for Peace in a Time of "permanent War" Paul R. Carr, Bradley J. Porfilio, 2012 What is the meaning of peace why should we study it and how should we achieve it Although there are an increasing number of manuscripts curricula and initiatives that grapple with some strand of peace education there is nonetheless a dearth of critical cross disciplinary international projects books that examine peace education in conjunction with war and conflict Within this volume the authors contend that war military conflict violence are not a nebulous far away mysterious venture rather they argue that we are all collectively involved in perpetrating and perpetuating militarization conflict violence inside and outside of our own social circles Therefore education about and against war can be as liberating as it is necessary If war equates killing can our schools avoid engaging in the examination of what war is all about If education is not about peace then is it about war Can a society have education that willfully avoids considering peace as its central objective Can a democracy exist if pivotal notions of war and peace are not understood practiced advocated and ensconced in public debate These questions according to Carr and Porfilio and the contributors they have assembled merit a critical and extensive reflection This book seeks to provide a range of epistemological policy pedagogical curriculum and institutional analyses aimed at facilitating meaningful engagement toward a more robust and critical examination of the role that schools play and can play in framing war militarization and armed conflict and significantly the connection to peace

Hamilton and Philosophy Aaron Rabinowitz, Robert Arp, 2017-07-01 In Hamilton and Philosophy professional thinkers expose examine and ponder the deep and controversial implications of this runaway hit Broadway musical One cluster of questions relates to the matter of historical accuracy in relation to entertainment To what extent is Hamilton genuine history or is it more a reflection of America today than in the eighteenth century What happens when history becomes dramatic art and is some falsification of history unavoidable One point of view is that the real Alexander Hamilton was an outsider and any objective approach to Hamilton has to be that of an outsider Politics always involves a debate over who is on the margins and who is allowed into the center Then there is the question of emphasizing Hamilton's revolutionary aspect when he was autocratic and not truly democratic But this can be defended as presenting a contradictory personality in a unique historical moment Hamilton's character is also one that blends ambition thirst for fame and concern for his immortal legacy with inability to see his own limitations yet combined with devotion to honor and the cultivation of virtue Hamilton's evident ambition led him to be likened to Macbeth and Shakespearean tragedy can explain much of his life

Ecology of War & Peace Tom H. Hastings, 2000 How do mobilization for war and the actual war effort affect the environment How do ecological conditions encourage war What are possible non violent solutions to the ecological conflict dynamic Ecology of War & Peace attempts to answer these questions in readable prose with an unapologetic bias toward non violence

Moral Responsibility,

Statecraft and Humanitarian Intervention Cathinka Vik, 2015-06-12 This book explores the moral complexity of statecraft in the context of decision making on armed intervention in the post Cold War era This book adds to the debate on humanitarian intervention by analyzing the moral complexity of statecraft when confronted with situations of severe human rights violations Through a comparative case study of President Bill Clinton administration's failure to intervene in the Rwanda genocide 1994 the George W Bush administration's tepid response to the Darfur atrocities 2003-07 and the Barack Obama administration's leadership behind the limited U N intervention in Libya 2011 it explores the factors domestic and international that influence decision making about humanitarian intervention These cases show not only how international moral concerns often compete with interest based and domestic concerns but how decision makers are often confronted by competing moral imperatives In such situations it is often not clear which imperatives should be followed In an increasingly interconnected world this book examines how we expect state leaders to balance different moral responsibilities This book will be of much interest to students of humanitarian intervention the Responsibility to Protect human rights US foreign policy African politics and IR in general
